Reduce Czech Envoys

Drastic Slash Is Ordered To Send 22 Homeward In "Reasonable Time"

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—The United States today ordered a wholesale ouster of Czech diplomats from this country and charged that Czechoslavakia's Soviet satellite government is unable to control its own foreign policy.

The American counterstroke, following a Czech ejection of about 40 U. S. diplomats this week will send an estimated 22 out of the 33 Czech representatives homeward "within a reasonable time."

The Prague government was ordered to close its consulates in Pittsburgh and Cleveland, leaving only the Washington embassy and the New York consulate to operate at a reduced level.

Furthermore, the state department declared in a coldly angry statement "this government is examining the situation not only with respect to the present but also for the future"—a clear hint of possible further moves against the Czechs.

The action was announced by the state department as the latest in a series of clashes with the Eastern European state which, in its pre-Communist days, was closely tied to the United States in friendship and trade.

Previously the United States had closed the Czech consulate at Chicago after the Czech government had cracked down on the United States information service office at Prague and Bratislava and forced the recall of American press attache Joseph C. Kolarek.

The Czech government made the usual charges of spy activities on the part of the United States, which hotly denied them.

Order Keeping Up Dogs And Pets

Dog owners must keep their pets at home, keep them from touring the neighborhood in accordance with an order from Chief of Police Ed Neighbors who said the order was issued because of so many complaints of various Sedalians.

Recently the order was first announced and since that time and up until Saturday twenty-one dogs, some pure bred pets others mongrels, have been picked up by the pound master, Bill Hatfield. The dogs are being kept at the city pound until the owners can call for them at which time a small care fee is being charged.

The dogs are kept at the pound for at least three days before being disposed of. After the three day limit the dogs are disposed of, however, Hatfield said he has keep the better dogs several days longer to give the owners a chance to claim them.

With the coming of spring and the making of flower beds and other gardens, many complaints were made to the police of dogs roaming through the garden and in many cases damaging them extensively.

Eight B-36's To Fly Over The U. S.

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 13—(AP)—Eight B-36s of the 7th bombardment wing at Carswell air base will fan out across the United States next Saturday over more than 20 cities on flight routes totaling more than 25,000 miles, to give millions of persons a "look-see" at the world's largest bomber on armed forces day.

Air force headquarters in Washington confirmed today that the eight flight routes have been scheduled tentatively, depending on the long-range weather forecast for next week-end which will be available Wednesday.

Cities over which the planes are scheduled to fly include Lincoln and Omaha, Neb., Jefferson City, Mo., Little Rok, Texarkana, Fort Smith, Ark., Pond Creek, Enid, Oklahoma City, El Reno and Clinton, in Oklahoma.:

Appointments Anticipated At Council Meeting

The City Council will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting Monday night starting at 7:30 o'clock. During the meeting it is anticipated some appointments will be made.

The council held a closed caucus at the City Hall, Friday night, with Mayor Herb E. Studer.

Blown Out Of A Big Bomber

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 13—(AP)—Search planes droned over a wide Arizona area today, searching for an Air Force bombardier who was blown out a window of a giant B-36 bomber yesterday.

First Lt. Freeman B. Horner, 32, was presumed dead. Horner was a victim of what is called explosive depressurization. The plane was flying at 28,000 feet, 80 miles south of Phoenix, and the cabin of the plane was "pressurized" for 8,000 feet. Suddenly the window near which Horner was sitting was blown out.

When this occurred, the heavier air inside the B-36 exploded out into the thin air through which the bomber was flying—and Horner was blown out the window.

Horner was wearing a parachute but the Air Force gave no indication that it was believed to have opened.

In Forth Worth, Horner's wife waited in her small home for the outcome of the search. The three Horner children, Wayne Greg, 2; Gary Bernard, 3, and Shirley Ann, 5, were told by their mother today that their father was believed to be dead.

"It was the hardest job I ever had and now I'm all right," she said.

Liberty Bell Replica Here

Display At Court House In Drive Of Independence

John Joe McGrath, chairman of the Pettis County Savings committe has announced the local arrangements for the opening of the Treasury's Independence Drive, here Monday. The program for the drive, however, will not take place until Tuesday. At this time a replica of the original Liberty Bell will be here and will be displayed at the Pettis county court house Tuesday night.

This drive is dedicated to the encouragement of thrift will urge Americans to "Save for your Independence" according to McGrath.

Mayor Herb Studer, has issued a proclamation, and a message to the Citizens of Sedalia, asking their whole hearted support of the bond drive. In his proclamation, the mayor called attention to the opening date which is Monday and asking all business houses and residents to display the United States flag.

Bell For Each State

There are forty-nine of the replica bell in the United States. There will be a bell in every state and in the District of Columbia. The drive will be launched at Independence Hall in Philadelphia on May 15 with ceremonies in which President Truman and Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder will participate. A record of the peal of the Liberty will herald the opening of the drive on a four-network radio broadcast.

During this tour for the Missouri bell the people will not only have the opportunity of seeing the bell but for the first time since 1835 it will be possible for them to hear the tone of the bell.

President Launch Drive

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—The treasury launches Monday a nationwide $650,000,000 savings bonds drive to run through July 4.

President Truman is scheduled to get into the drive-starting activities Monday night, speaking briefly from Chicago on objectives of the campaign in a hookup of radio networks and television.

The President will speak at 9:55 p. m., E. S. T. The program, which also will feature other speakers, will last from 9:30 to 10 p. m., E. S. T.

The 1940 series E savings bonds campaign has been entitled the "Independence Drive" and based on this slogan: "Save for your Independence: Buy U. S. Savings bonds."

Fifty three reproductions of the original Liberty Bell—exact except as to the crack—will be transported on local tours in every state and in the territories in furtherance of the campaign.

Sales of savings bonds already are running well ahead of redemptions, although sales for the first four month of 1950, totaling $1,431,146,000, lagged 8.8 per cent below the comparable period of 1949.

Redemptions for the 1950 period were $302,808,000 below sales, although the $1,128,338,000 total of cash-ins reflected a 3 per cent rise from the first four months of 1949.

For 1949 as a whole, sales totaled $4,207,598,000 and cash-ins $3,447,896,000, giving the government a $759,702,000 edge.

The $655,000,000 goal is a modest one—little more than sales would normally run in the drive period, as indicated by these 1949 monthly sales figures: May $321,671,000; June $358,762,000 and July $377,813,000.

Big Pow Wow By Democrats In Chicago

1950 Campaigning Must Be Like '48 "Guns Smoking Hot"

By Marion Burson

CHICAGO, May 13—(AP)—Democratic leaders counseled today the party can't win the 1950 elections by "pussyfooting" but must campaign, as in 1948, with "guns smoking hot."

Speakers at a national committee meeting opening an unprecedented three-day party conference and Jefferson jubilee hit a common keynote — a warning against over-optimism.

Chairman Bayle Speaks Up

"Look what happened to the Republicans in '48" was the chord of caution sounded by Democratic Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., the new vice chairman, Mrs. India Edwards, and leaders of the party's Senate and House campaign committees.

Three thousand top Democrats from all parts of the country are in town for what probably will go down as the biggest political powwow outside a national convention in the nation's history.

The climax of the big show comes Monday night with a major speech by President Truman in the stadium, preceded by a gala parade.

Tomorrow afternoon the President's cabinet will hold a unique public session in the opera house with Vice President Barkley in the chair.

Senator Anderson of New Mexico summed up the Democrats' 1950 campaign problem by saying:

Should Go In Scared

"It would be better for us if the Democrats went into this election scared and then fought as they fought in '48—with their backs to the wall, with their guns smoking hot, and with their colors nailed to the mast."

And Mrs. Edwards of Washington, D. C., elected today to succeed Mrs. Charles W. Tillett of North Carolina as vice chairman, said she hoped Democrats would remember why they lost in 1946 and won in 1948 and act accordingly.

Mr. Truman, she said, was reelected two years ago "because he campaigned fearlessly on the 1948 Democratic platform.

"He did no pussy-footing such as some people did in '46. And you remember we lost in '46 because of that pussy-footing."

Socialized Medicine

CHICAGO, May 13—(AP)—A physician-member of the Democratic national committee said today party conference discussion Monday of medical legislation has been "stacked" in favor of what he called "socialized medicine."

A spokesman for the committee, however, said the program is intended to give all sides a hearing and there is no intention to soft pedal anyone.

Dr. R. B. Robins of Camden, Ark., made the charge. He has been lined up with the American Medical Association in criticizing a compulsory health insurance plan made by Oscar E. Ewing, federal security administrator under President Truman. He is a member of the AMA committee opposing the plan.

Ewing is among the speakers scheduled to discuss health and welfare bills at a panel discussion during the Democratic national conference Monday. Robins also is on the program.

Robins told newsmen the panel "is pretty well stacked for the proponents of compulory sickness insurance and socialized medicine." He said he would have only five minutes and he is the only one who is slated to represent the opposition of organized medicine.

Small Tornadoes Strike Galveston

GALVESTON, Tex., May 13—(AP) — Small tornadoes, violent winds, heavy hail and rain whipped scattered parts of Texas and Louisiana today.

The only known Texas casualty was as man who drowned during a squall in the Gulf of Mexico. Lightning killed a man in Louisiana.

A twister smacked the edge of Abilene, in West Texas, late today. Earlier, a small tornado dipped on farms about 50 miles southeast of Alexandria, La., injuring an unidentified woman.

Windstorms buffeted Alto and Lufkin in East Texas, damaging buildings and telephone lines and tearing up crops and timber.

Heavy, damaging hail fell at Abilene, Waco, near Sweetwater, near Lubbock, and at Alto, all in Texas.

North Texas downpours sent the Trinity river just above flood stage, but the situation didn't appear seroius.

Being A Mother

A mother is more than a woman
Who has given birth to a child,
A mother is someone special
On whom the Lord has smiled,
A mother is one who earns the name
Through patience, love and care,
And everything she possesses
Is for her child to share;
A mother is never guilty
Of a moment of neglect
And she leaves not strewn behind her
Little lives that she has wrecked;
No, the woman who is a mother
Has it deep within her heart,
And on the stage of life she plays
A difficult leading part;
Down through the years day by day
It's the joy and peace she brings,
It's the understanding, the love, the faith
In big and little things;
No matter how dark the clouds may be
No matter how bad the deed,
There's a mother's embrace and a mother's prayer
There in that hour of need;
For whether the child is her child
Or one who belonged to another
It's the things she does and the things she says
That makes a woman a mother.

G. O. P. Hurls More Critical Questions

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Republicans hurled six more critical questions at President Truman today as he headed eastward from his western tour today. For one thing they asked whether he still regarded the charge of Communist-in-governmnt a red herring.

National Chairman Guy Gabrielson and Chairmen Brewster and Leonard W. Hall of the Senate and House GOP campaign committees put the queries after saying the ten questions asked of the President as he began the trip have brought only "more promises—and name calling."

Rephrase Some Questions

Most of the questions asked today rephrased part of the original ten, but two of them were new, as follows:

"Does Mr. Truman still regard the issue of driving Communists from government as a red herring?'

"Does Mr. Truman agree that the record of the 80th Congress shows the country can only hope for a balanced budget if a Republican Congress is elected this fall?"

The three Republican leaders in a statemnt issued through the party's national committee said the President "has paved the Oregon trail with promises. With them he tries to hide the record of performance."

They added:

"When he reaches Chicago, we hope he will stop trying to fool the voters. The once-amusing fiction of a 'non-political' junket has grown stale."

May Have To Change Schooling

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—GI students boning up on dancing, personality development and bar tending under the Veterans Vocational training program may have to change courses.

A ban on such "recreational and vocational" subjects—unless a GI can show he needs the knowledge to make a living—was included in a bill passed yesterday by the house.

The bill wasa imed at correcting alleged abuses in the GI school program. President Truman has said that these abuses waste millions in taxpayers' dollars.

A similar measure in different form has been passed by the Senate. The differences will have to be ironed out in conferences between the two chambers.

Freedom Is Very Short For Escapees

Paul Whiteman And Harry Harger Break Out Of County Jail

Freedom was brief for Paul Alfred Whiteman, 25, and Harry Arthur Harger, Jr., 23, who escaped from the Pettis county jail shortly before 5:00 o'clock Saturday evening. Both were back in jail before 5:30 after they were apprehended by Police Officers Ted Brown and A. C. Gardner, near Twentieth street and Washington avenue.

Escaped Prison Farm

Whiteman and Harger are awaiting trial in the Pettis county criminal division of the circuit court on charges of auto theft in connection with the wrecking of a stolen car west of Dresden on highway 50 at "Dead Man's Curve" on April 17. At the time of their arrest, the two were fugitives from the Missouri state prison where they had escaped three days earlier from a prison farm. They were serving sentences on burglary.

The two were arrested by Sergeant William Barton, when they made the curve too fast and the car overturned. Barton was approaching in a patrol car enroute to Kansas City, and recognized the two and took them into custody.

Back In "Big Four"

They had been held in "Big Four" of the county jail pending their trial in criminal court. On the pretense of wanting to take a bath they were released from "Big Four." Instead of taking the bath, they went upon the top part of the cell block, knocked a hole in the roof and climbed out.

Within a few minutes the disappearance was noted by Clark Woolery, deputy sheriff, who notified the Sedalia police department. Brown and Gardner was just pulling away when Acting Desk Sergeant R. B. "Jiggs" Vickrey called to them and gave them the information.

The patrol car then headed out in the direction of south part of town and came upon them doubling back across Washington avenue and Twentieth street. The state patrol was also notified of the escape.

Neither had much to say about their brief breathing of fresh air.

Marriage License Issued

Albert J. Warren and Matilda Louise Anderson, both of Sedalia.

Sixty Per Cent Of Quota In Cancer Crusade Is Raised

The Cancer Crusade under the sponsorship of the Business and Professional Womens' club, has achieved a total of 60 per cent of the Pettis county quota. The amount to be raised in this crusade is $3289.00, and those who have not sent in their contributions may mail them to Miss Lois Fricke, Bothwell hotel; Miss Phyllis Bush, treasurer, 406½ South Ohio, or to Mrs. Bertha Rose Welch, 316 South Ohio.

The Hughesville community Cancer Crusade is being carried forward by Mrs. C. M. Marshall of that city. Any resident of that area wishing to aid in the continuing fight againt cancer, may send or bring their donations to Mrs. Marshall.

Clinic At Hospital

The Pettis county detection clinic at the Bothwell hospital is set up every fourth Friday of each month for the benefit of all citizens of this county. Remember, 50 per cent of all known cases of cancer, may be checked in time, if prompt diagnosis is made. This community is exceptionally fortunate to have a detection center, one of five in the state of Missouri, and it is a civic reponsibility of everyone to aid in maintaining this aid.

The cooperation of the theater owners, Joe Ruddick and J. T. Ghosen in allowing collections to be taken in the theater lobbies is much appreciated with $200.00 being added to the Cancer Crusade fund through this means. Mrs. John W. Welch chairman of theater collections was in charge of the arrangements, for the BPW club.

Spread Of Rail Strike In The East And West

Conference Held Breaks Up With No Settlement

CHICAGO, May 13—(AP)—Both sides in the locomotive firemen's strike met together with a government mediator today but the conference broke up without a settlement.

There was no indication when a new meeting aimed at reaching an agreement in the dispute would be held. The strike, meanwhile, spread in the east and west.

Francis A. O'Neill, Jr., chairman of the National (railway) Mediation Board, did say, however, that more such conferences would be held later in Chicago.

He added:

"We said there was a deadlock yesteray. Today all we can say is that the case is not settled."

O'Neill said there was a full and frank dicussion of all issues and the conferenees have returned to their own groups for further discussion.

But even as the union representatives were attending the conference, the Brotherhood of Locomottive Firemen and Enginemen extended its strike to the Southwestern district of the Union Pacific railroad and ought to cut the Pennsylvania railroad's operations in the east and south.

The move had the effect of stretching the strike operations from coast to coast, although only a relatively few train are involved in the new strike development.

Directed Not Man Trains

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen directed its members to refuse to man Union Pacific trains on the southwest district between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles.

At Los Angeles K. B. Walton, acting vice president of the firemen's brotherhood said the men are being pulled out at 6 p. m. Pacific day-light time," because the Union Pacific has been helping the Santa Fe operate by allowing the trains to use their yards."

In Chicago, a union spokesman said he understood those trains must pass over 100 miles of tracks owned by the strike-hampered Santa Fe.

From Omaha, P. J. Lynch, UP vice president in charge of operations, said of Walton's charge: "It's a fantastic statement with no basis of truth whatsoever."

Picket Lines Set Up

The union also set up picket lines at its important division point of Harrisburg, Pa., in an effort to halt eastbound traffic to Philadelphia and New York and southbound traffic to Baltimore and Washington. The union charged the PRR violated a "neutrality agreement," by operating freight trains in strike territory with supervisory personnel.

Traffic volume on the unstruck portions of some of the lines has been cut sharply. The Southern railway laid off more than 100 workers in its Memphis yards, which is outside the strike area. The railroad said business has slumped from the usual 1,100 to about 400 cars daily.

At Knoxville, Tenn., three Southern Railway switchmen have been charged with shooting into a locomotive. District Attorney General Hal H. Clements, Jr., said the men signed statements. One trainman was wounded in the arm and another was struck with a spent bullet when a locomotive was fired at Thursday.

The three, released on bond of $2,000 each, are Charles Anderson Watson (age unavailable, R. M. Norman, 36, and Paul Brackett, 36.

President Truman is due in Chicago tomorrow for a Democratic rally and there was some speculation he might be asked to look into the dead-lock.

However, O'Neill said he does not plan to see the President. He said he is keeping John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, informed of developments.

He has made a wonderful record for himself and his team at Central. The team finished third in the N. A. I B. basketball tournament in Kansas City, this year.

Intensive Hunt To Run Down Racketeers

Cross Checking On Gambling And Crime Operations

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Senate investigators said today they will hunt down big-time gamblers and racketeers with the same methods which federal agents used to send Al Capone to prison.

These methods will be: a study of federal income tax returns checked against private bookkeeping files of underworld operators.

Al Capone was the king-pin of racketeers in the prohibition era—until federal agents tagged him for evasion of income taxes.

Senator Tobey (R-NH) said this same procedure will be "elementary" in a special Senate committee's investigation of crime and gambling throughout the United States.

And Senator Wiley (R-Wis) said the underworld would have no fear of a Senate inquiry which lacks "a complete understanding of their income tax background" and "their complex bookkeeping records."

"We need skilled accountants as much or more than we need the proverbial 'private eyes,'" Wiley said in a statement.

Both Tobey and Wiley are members of the special committee.

Halley Head Staff

This checking and cross-checking of gambling and crime operations will be handled by a committee staff of 10 or 12 aides headed by chief counsel Rudolph Halley.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) announced Halley's appointment today in the first move to organize a staff. Halley is a former U. S. district attorney for southern New York and once was chief counsel for the Senate war frauds investigating committee. He also served on the staff of a Senate investigating committee headed by President Truman when he was a member of the Senate.

Kefauver told reporters he will discuss with Halley Monday the appointment of an associate counsel and other staff aides.

Tobey said the special committee has plenty of legal precedent for going into the income tax returns of crime suspects. He added he expects local law enforcement officials to cooperate with Senators in exposing gangland business operations.

On this score, Tobey pointed to the New York police raid on the headquarters of big-time gambler Frank Erickson. A few days before the raid, Erickson had admitted to a Senate subcommittee—studying anti-gambling legislation—that his gambling business earned $100,000 a year after taxes.

Kefauver also stressed the fact that the committee will depend heavily on local officials and crime commissions to supply information. "We expect to use people in many areas of the country," Kefauver said. He added that special investigators will work in various regions of the country assembling information.

William B. Rich Will Be Speaker For Rotary

The Rotary Club will meet Monday noon at the Bothwell hotel at which time William B. Rich of the Missouri Public Service Corp., will give a classification talk.

The program chairman will be Dr. Roy M. Keller.

No Vital Changes In Policy

Big Three End Council With Confidence To Build Freedom

By Glenn Williams

LONDON, May 13—(AP)—The big three Foreign Ministers ended a three-day cold war council tonight confident the West can build freedom into a dynamic force that will secure defenses against Communism and win prosperity at the same time.

The whole sickle-shaped realm of struggle ringing the Russian-led Communist world was the field of their discussion.

"The ministers agreed upon the main lines of their policy in all parts of the world," said a communique—the fifth and longest since Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman began their deliberations.

They expressed determination to fight "Communist imperalism" in southeast Asia with firm encouragement and support for new independent states there.

Committee Of Experts

The three ministers decided to set up a committee of experts to consult with other interested governments, particularly Germany and Italy, on increasing migration from overcrowded Europe.

½a—jpu A

They declared themselves basically in agreement on the importance of the "political development of the peoples of Africa" and the improvement of their economic and social conditions.

The desire for an early treaty of peace and independence for Austria was reaffirmed.

And finally, three diplomatic chiefs agreed to meet again in New York before the next meeting of the United Nations in September.

No spectacular changes in policy were disclosed. None had been expected. In general, more and better application of old policies appeared to be the general decision.

To contend with the threat of Communism to states in southeast Asia, the ministers decided on three policies:

1. Coordination of efforts to halt arms smuggling to such guerrilla leaders as Ho Chi Minh in Indo-China, the Chinese band leaders in Malaya, and the rebel groups in Burma.

2. Take every opportunity to expose the aims of 'Communist imperalism" which seeks to advance its aims by appealing to Nationalism of the people.

3. Encourage the governments in the area to collaborate on new measures of economic development to raise the general standard of living.

Dr. Rutledge Given Release Under Bond

FORT MADISON, Ia., May 13—(AP)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., convicted a year ago of slaying the man accused of seducing his wife, was released today from the Iowa state penitentiary on a $40,000 bond.

Dr. Rutledge, 29, was sentenced to 7 years in the state penitentiary for killing Byron C. Hattman. The 29-year-old St. Louis aircraft engineer was slain in a Cedar Rapids, Ia., hotel room in a fight Dec. 14, 1949.

Bread Like Mama Made Has Built-In Secret

By William E. Macklin

KINSLEY, Kas., May 13—(AP)—Western Kansans have mixed up a new loaf of bread they hope will become as well known elsewhere as their famous sunflowers and infamous dust storms.

Conceived by a farmer who yearned for a slice of bread like mother used to bake, the new bread has picked up fans steadily since the first loaf was sold here in early February.

One Western Kansas bakery chain making the new bread reports white loaf sales have increased 400 per cent.

The bread even went to Washington in March. Sen. Schoeppel (R.-Kas.) served it to fellow legislators in the capitol.

What's the new bread got that the old loaf hasn't? Just 16 per cent more flour.

The bakery recipe calls for 116 pounds of flour in a batch of dough usually mixed with 100 pounds. Of this total, six pounds is finely-ground whole wheat flour. No additional water is added, so the dough is stiffer. Baking takes longer.

One hundred per cent whole wheat flour, 6 pounds.
White flour, 110 pounds.
Water, 63 pounds.
Yeast, 2 pounds 5 ounces.
Salt, 2 pounds 6 ounces.
Powdered skimmed milk, 6 pounds.
Sugar, 5 pounds.
Shortening, 4 pounds.
Mycoban enrichment tablets, 3 ounces.

The baked loaf is more solid, weighs 19 ½ ounces and sells for 15 cents here on the prairie. A firm producing this loaf said its regular bread weighs 18 ounces and sold for 14 cents.

About all the new bread flunks is the squeeze test. It doesn't mash together easily between the thumb and finger like popular sliced loaves.

"Why It's So Good"

"That's why it's so good," says the loaf's creator, Morris A. Coover of Kinsley. "It's got body."

"Why I've had letters from at least 100 miles and bakeries outside the state asking for the formula. I supply it without charge. So does the Western Kansas Development Association of Garden City. "We are launching plans now to put the new bread on a national scale. And our only interest is to see more wheat used."

Memories gave Coover, who farms 1,280 acres of wheatland, the idea.

"I suppose," he said, "a man never forgets the aroma from that home bread baking—and the flavor of a warm slice of newly-made bread with a heavy layer of butter soaking down into it."

Coover recalled the savory memory of his Kansas boyhood one day along with a personal inventory of his current bread consumption. At 50 he noted that he had been eating less and less bread as the years went by.

Maybe, he mused, more flour in bread would make it taste better and help nibble into the wheat surplus. With no financial interest in baking, nor domestic science background, Coover took his idea to James F. Lloyd, baker in this Southwestern Kansas town of 2,500 persons.

They dabbled in dough and produced the "Coover loaf" or "farm loaf" as some call it. One day Lloyd baked 15 loaves and sold them without explanation to 15 customers who came in to his shop and asked merely for "a loaf of white bread."

Five of the 15 customers, an encouraging 33 per cent, came back and asked for "that new kind of bread."

The Kinsley Rotary club sampled it next at the weekly luncheon. They liked it and Lloyd's business jumped.

Civic clubs in neighboring towns voiced approval after tryouts in about every form that bread is consumed—plain, with jam, toasted, floating on soup and drowned in gravy.

One fan is Coover's daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Coover, a G.I. bride from England. She prefers it because it is like the bread she used to eat back in Leicester, Eng., where she was Miss June Williams.

Bakeries in Great Bend and Hutchinson, Kas., reported a great demand for the new bread as soon as they started production.

"This thing may be just a flash in the pan," said Fred Beeman, Hutchinson baker, "but if it is, I never saw anything like it—it's almost fantastic the way this thing has taken hold."

L. L. Fraicis, apprentice instructor for the Railway Educational Bureau has been in the city the past week assisting the apprentices with their lessons.

L. C. Bryson, assistant superintendent of safety for the Missouri Pacific was at the shops the past week working with the safety committee in their inspection of the shop.

H. W. Young, machinist for the Missouri Pacific in St. Louis spent the week-end visiting his family in Sedalia.

Leon Chapman, has entered upon his apprenticeship in the car department at the shops.

A. R. Griffey, engineer for the M. K. and T. who has been off duty for the past week because of illness, is improved but still unable to be out.

Due to the increased work in the pattern and upholster shops at the shops it has become necessary to install a larger elevator in the coach shop to take care of this extra heavy work. The old elevator has been taken down and a new hydraulic elevator of the latest type will be installed. It will be a larger type and will be able to hold a tractor and trailer.

Additional men are being called to work in the freight shed to take care of the work as the program on the 88 new cabooses gets under way. This program which will employ several hundred men will last about a year.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hale have as their guests their daughter, Mrs. Robert Bouknecht of Spokane, Wash., who is spending a few weeks vacation visiting relatives and friends in Sedalia. Mr. Hale is a coach carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith have returned home after spending a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagner of Little Rock, Ark. Mr. Smith is a retired machinist.

Billy Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Griffith has returned home from the Missouri Pacific hospital in St. Louis where he has been a patient for treatment of an eye injury. He suffered the loss of his eye when struck by a rock or lump of dirt by a playmate. Mr. Griffith is a sheet metal worker helper in the reclaim plant.

Forest Fire Rages in New Mexico

(NEA Telephoto)

Looking northwest toward Taos from an altitude of 13,000 feet, this picture shows still-raging, a fire that has devastated more than 15,000 acres of timber near Carson National forest where a 9-month drouth has left mountain timber areas in powder-dry condition. Five hundred men were fighting the flames under forest service direction.

Eight Hubbard Students In Honor Society

The C. C. Hubbard Chapter of the National Honor Society of the C. C. Hubbard high school held its annual induction ceremony Friday at the morning assembly.

The stage was impressively decorated to represent the Court of Honor of the City of Idealism, and on a platform flanked by two tall columns and approached by one step, stood the Spirit of Idealism. Grouped about her on the stage were her four counsellors, Service and Scholarship on her right, Character and Leadership on her left, and in front of these were displayed the emblem of the National Honor Society on the right and the torch on a standard on the left.

The new members were escorted by an usher to the platform of Idealism. There the spirit of Idealism invested them with capes. Then they took the oath of the National Honor Society.

Other members of the National Honor Society at Hubbard school are: Edna Bush, Norma Cochran, Barbara President, Arline Carter, Ray Piper, Edrie Gantt, Lolita Carter, Charles Curd, Araminta Williams.

The certificates will be awarded the new members on Wednesday night, May 17, at which time other awards and prizes will be given.

Two Explosions Injure Two Men

BRIDGEVILLE, Pa., May 13—(AP)—The American Cyanamid company plant was rocked by two explosions last night in this little community 10 miles south of Pittsburgh.

Fire broke out but was quickly controlled.

Only a handful of men were in the plant. Two men suffered slight injuries.

Company officials could not be reached for comment but a fireman said the explosions apparently were in a converter used to mix chemicals.

Residents a half-mile away heard the explosions. Flames lighted the sky for a few seconds.

The plant normally employes about 650 men on three shifts with only a few on the night shift. It makes agricultural and industrial chemicals and explosives.

Sen. Chavez In Attack On Louis Budenz

Accuses Budenz As A "Lying Publicity Seeker" In Charges

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Senator Chavez (D-NM), a Roman Catholic, Friday denounced Louis Budenz, accuser of Owen Lattimore, as a lying publicity seeker who "advertised his conversion to Catholicism" and who "has been using the cross as a club."

This was immediately challenged by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) who defended Budenz as courageous, truthful, accurate—the victim of an "outrageous attempt to smear."

Assails Senator McCarthy

Chavez also assailed in a Senate speech what he termed the "wild, irresponnsible charges" of McCarthy, who presented Budenz as a star witness in the Senate's investigation of the state department.

Budenz is a former managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker who re-entered the Catholic church five years ago and announced rennunciation of the Communist party. He now is a professor at Fordham university, a Jesuit school in New York. He could not be reached for comment.

Chavez said he still regarded Budenz as a Communinst.

The senator declared that Budenz "possessed no evidence" when he testified three weeks ago. Budenz asserted that Lattimore, a Far Eastern affairs expert and occasional state department adviser, had been a member of a Communist cell and had been referred to by party leaders as a Communist. Lattimore denied it.

Speaks As A Catholic

"I speak as a Roman Catholic," Chavez said, adding:

"Budenz has been speaking with special emphasis as a Catholic, investing his appearances and utterances with an added sacctity by virtue of the fact that he recently went through the forms of conversion to Catholicism.

"My ancesters brought the cross to this hemisphere. Louis Budenz has been using this cross as a club."

Chavez accused Budenz of being guilty of bigamy undner New York laws; of having admitted engaging in conspiracies to commit murder and espionage, of having a "devious, conspiratorial, warped personality. . . unable to give a straight answer," of "badwy personal excesses," depravity and "lust for sensational publicity."

Carpet Factory Payroll Robbery

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., May 13—(AP)—Four bandits, concealed in the payroom of a big carpet factory, ambushed three Brink's guards Friday and fled with a $15,000 payroll.

No one saw the robbers enter the plant, operated by the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet company. No one saw them after they fell on the three guards who had just arrived with the money for 300 night shift workers.

State police said they got a "pretty good description" of the holdup men from one of the three guards, who were beaten, disarmed and then tied with light cord.

How they made their entry into the grounds and the first floor payroom, without detection from any of the 300 night workers, investigators said, was a mystery.

A storekeeper reported that he saw a sedan cruising near the factory shortly before the pre-dawn robbery. Police said the car bore license plates from the neighboring state of Massachusetts, scene of the $1,700,000 robbery which occurred on January 17 in the Boston office of Brink's Inc.

A Boston police official said:

"At this stage, it seems like the Thompsonville gang was a different one than pulled the Boston job."

On the theory that the robbery involved an interstate money shipment, thus making it a federal offense, the FBI announced in Washington that it had assigned a number of agents to the case.

President Coolidge Secretary Dies Suddenly

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Everett Sanders, 68, former chairman of the Republican Naitonal Committee and Secretary to President Calvin Coolidge, collapsed and died in his law offices Friday.

Sanders, who also served four terms as a Republican U. S. Representative from Indiana, had been suffering from a heart ailment for some time.

Move To Force Down Prices On Gasoline

Anti-Trust Suit Is Filed By Government Against 7 Companies

LOS ANGELES, May 13—(AP)—The government moved Friday to force lower gasoline prices with an anti-trust suit which also wants to spike California's long-time voluntary oil conservation program.

Seven major oil firms are named in the civil action. The companies denied wrongdoing and pointed out that a U. S. grand jury last year ended 18 months of studying their records without returning an indictment.

The government seeks these major points:

Dissolution of the industry's California conservation committee and an injunction preventing any voluntary conservation practices not authorized by state law.

Guide To Other Companies

Divorcement of wholesale petroleum outlets and retail service stations, expert at refineries and marine terminals.

Outlawing price stabilization by one company posting a price list as an alleged guide to other companines.

Outlawing exclusive contracts between a company and an independent service station, which also include accessories sponsored by the contracting company.

The government also wants to require that any oil pipelines be available to independents under the same terms as other majors; and any agreement for exchanging cruie oil or refined petroleum products likwise be available to independents under the same conditions.

Annual Run $700,000,000

Companies named are Standard of California, The Texas Company of New York, Shell of New York, Tidewater Associated of New York, Richfield of Los Angeles, General Petroleum of Los Angeles and Union of California. Total worth of the firms is estimated by the government at six billion dollars, and their annual run about $700,000,000 (M).

The suit covers California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona. But California is the only state with important production, producing about 18 per cent of the nation's oil.

The oil companies contend that the voluntary conservation program does just what it says—conserves a natural resource. But the government claims that the program operates to prevent oversupply and hold up prices.

Denials of guilt came from the companies, among them:

Vice-President Torrey H. Webb of Texas Co.—"It is the policy of the Texas Co. to observe all laws including the anti-trust laws and I am sure we have not violated them as charged in this case."

Rocking Chair Still Mystifies

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—The mysterious rocking chair, which Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Holaday of Muscatine, Iowa, say has been rocking since its owner died last March, made a New York radio-television debut last night.

Three experts expressed varying reactions to the chair during the show, the National Broadcasting company's "We The People." They ranged from "so what?" to "purely psychic."

The chair rocked violently during the show—almost inperceptibly before and after.

Mrs. Holaday said the chair—a red upholstered platform rocker—began rocking five days after her brother-in-law Floyd Brossard died March 17. It was his favorite chair and he liked to rock in it, she said.

Experts Reactions

The experts reacted as follows:

Joseph Dunninger, "mentalist" and chairman of the Universal Council for Psychic Research, said:

"This chair rocks. So what? It's a rare physical phenomenon— not a psychic one. Perfect balance—that's why it rocks."

Henry Roberts, editor of the Prophecies of Nostradamus, said:

"I disagree absolutely. The basis is purely psychic. That chair, I feel, has a psychometric quality of the person who sat in it, a fourth dimensional objectivity."

John O'Neill, science editor of the New York Herald Tribune, said:

"I can't be positive. Since I've made no experiments with it, I can't eliminate the possibility of psychic phenomena. There are cases of bona fide psychic phenomena on record. But I'm primarily a scientist. If I could take this chair back home to my laboratory and subject it to vibrations I could make it do somersaults."

Groucho Marx Obtains Divorce Without A Smile

LOS ANGELES, May 13—(AP)—Without a smile, Groucho Marx obtained a divorce Friday from his young wife on grounds she had caused him "grevious mental suffering."

Putting himself in a new role, the comedian, 59, said he had to take care of the household. Moreover, Mrs. Marx, 29, didn't like his friends, he said, and even refused to go out with him.

Republicans Are Getting Even Now

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 13—(AP)—The courthouse Democrats here didn't object too much when the city administration put parking meters all around the courthouse block a few years ago.

After all, some of the courthouse fellows had city inspector signs which allowed them to park in meter spaces without being tagged by city police.

But now Republicans have taken over the city administration.

The old inspector signs aren't honored any more unless they are countersigned by the Republican City Auditor, Deane P. Wiley. Apparently Wiley isn't inclined to countersign cards unless the holders are bona fide inspectors.

As a result, quite a few traffic tickets are being placed on parked cars of certain courthouse employes.

Now some county workers are delving into the records to see if the city has any right to place parking meters around the courthouse block. They contend that the county owns the property to the middle of the street and that the meters are "trespassers."

They figure there ought to be a law.

Terrific "Small" Atomic Bombs

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—This nation has produced "small" atomic bombs, officials say, but that doesn't necessarily mean that the bombs pack less of a wallop than full sized ones.

The bombs are reported small enough to be carried by jet bombers and fighter-bombers smaller and faster than the B-29 which dropped early model A-bombs on Japan.

As usual, there wasn't a hint as to how powerful this "baby bomb" could be. But it may be more powerful than the early model bombs dropped on Japan or tested at Bikini.

Indeed, these small-sized A-weapons might well have been the ones tested at Eniwetok. These showed a "substantial gain in (explosive) energy release" over previous models.

The secret of these new bombs apparently lies in a non-explosive casing or envelope—called a "tamper"—which enables a reduction in the "critical size" of the bomb.

The critical size of an A-bomb is defined as the amount of fissionable material (such as uranium-235 or plutonium.) which must be assembled in order to produce an explosion.

Recover Body and Car From A Lake

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark., May 13—(AP)—An automobile containing the body of Jack Budd, Fayetteville, Ark., businessman, was recovered from Lake Norfork near here late Friday.

The automobile had been sought since Budd drove his car from a ferry as it was crossing the lake the night of May 5.

An automobile was located today by a diver using a magnetic device. The vehicle was towed from the deep water to the lake shore and pulled up on the bank.

Sheriff Ernie Gentry said a body in the front compartment of the large sedan was identified as that of Budd by A. A. Adkins of Fayetteville, a business associate.

The body was brought to Mountain Home and wil lbe taken to Fayetteville.

The Ferry operator and others said Budd without warning started the motor of his automobile and drove it into the lake.

Woman Injured As Building Falls

LEBANON, Mo., May 13—(AP)—The top part of a wall of a two-story brick business building collapsed in the downtown district here Friday, crushing two vehicles and slightly injuring one woman.

An estimated 50 tons of brick crashed with a deadly roar about 1 p. m. The bricks buried a truck and a car and struck Mrs. Louise Bass a glancing blow. She escaped, however, with a bruised leg.

Police stretched a rope about the building, pending a decision from the city as to whether the rest of the wall should come down in the interest of public safety.

Heavy rains are believed to have weakened the building, constructed in 1882.

Although the building is in the heart of Lebanon at Commercial and Jefferson Streets few people were on the street at the time.

The structure is occupied by a drug store on the first floor and the Masonic hall is on the second floor.

No Bingo Allowed In St. Joseph

He said his department has requested a number of private clubs and organizations to stop their practice of holding Bingo parties.

"Bingo parties are just as much of a gambling device as slot machines," Keller said.

This ban will affect several veterans' organizations. Some have been holding bingo parties for members twice weekly, while others hold them only on special occasions. With profit going to the sponsoring organizations.

Hal Boyle
COLUMN

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—There is a way to break up the nationwide gambling ring.

The American housewife can do it. She can succeed where the cops and politicians seem to have failed. And she can make a mint of pin money for herself in doing it, too.

How? Well, my theory is simple. It is based on taking the gambling out of gambling. You can't beat the horses, girls, but there is a possible way to beat the bookies. And if you can beat the bookies—you can break up organized illegal gambling.

A suburban housewife here has shown the way to do it. Under the law you can sue to recover money paid to settle gambling debts. And that's just what Mrs. Hannah S. Kartiganer did. She sued Jules H. Bender for $11,195 she claimed her husband lost to him in horse race bets three years ago. And a gentlemanly jury of eleven men and one woman returned a verdict in her favor.

Although Bender insisted he himself was no bookmaker but a businessman, the decision disclosed a fascinating way in which determined ladies might put the knuckle on men who, beyond cavil, are professional bookies.

Here, for example, is one possibility:

A group of 100 housewives, outraged because their husbands keep bringing home paychecks full of gambling holes, hold a rummage sale and an ice cream social. They raise $1,000.

Three of the girls take the $1,000 to the biggest bookie in town and lay it on the nose for Plug Ugly, a 100-to-1 shot, to win in the fifth. If lightning should strike Plug Ugly and he comes in ahead, each of the 100 gals collects $1,000—enough for a fur coat. And the bookie has a broken heart.

The next day the girls put $5,000 on Sadfoot, another 100-to-1 hoofer, to breeze through in the fourth. If he loses, the girls promptly file suit against the bookie. And if all 100 of the women show up in court with their 275 children, in rags, won't the jury make the bookie hand back the $5,000?

So the next day the girls, maybe working through a couple of male stooges this time, bet the $5,000 on still another 100-to-1 shot. If he leads the field to the wire, they collect a half million bucks—or the bookie commits suicide. If their horse loses, they haul the bookie right back into court.

This "break the bookies" program could sweep the ladies clubs of the nation like wildfire. It has two things women love: (1) a moral purpose, and (2) a chance to make some money.

It beats radio giveaway shows all hollow, because no sponsor can dish out prizes equal to the millions hidden by wealthy bookies in their safe deposit boxes.

If American wives cooperated in this you-can't-lose-from-winning-venture, most bookies in six months would be back pitching pennies against each other for a living.

The only flaw I can see in the whole scheme is that women, after all, are human beings, too—in their way. When they start playing the horses they act just like men. They brag about their winnings and hide their losses. And before long they'd be secretly betting against each other, and it would be the bookies' wives who'd be buying the fur coats.

Gambling is like any other disease. If you don't expose yourself to the germ, you don't get infected.

But it is a wonderful plan, isn't it?

Your Thumb Prints To Cash A Check

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 12—(AP)—Bad checks have been too numerous in St. Joseph, so it was suggested today that merchants require strangers to put thumb prints on checks along with endorsements.

The suggestion came from Police Chief J. Croy Keller and the St. Joseph Retail Credit Bureau.

Police said the thumb prints would enable them to track down check passers who have criminal records.

Banquet Given By Frat at Dan's

"One of the finest we've had," remarked several members of Epsilon Epsilon Chapter, Alpha Phi Omega, of Missouri Valley College after attending the Spring Banquet in Dan's Pioneer room in Sedalia last Tuesday evening. The banquet also served as an anniversary dinner since the chapter is observing its third anniversary this month.

Sedalia boys who are members of the chapter are: Allen B. Bess, T. J. Cannon, Jr., Dusty Wiley, and Perry Younger.

With 48 members and guests, including B. B. Bess of Sedalia, in attendance the dinner was highlighted by an initiatory ceremony. Reinhold G. Miller, Scout Executive of the Lake of the Ozarks Council, and "Bill" Fulton, Deputy Regional Director of Region 8, B. S. A., received honorary membership in Epsilon Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega.

After new officers were installed, Dean A. C. Zumbrunnen was presented with a mounted photograph of the Spring pledge class named in his honor.

In recognition of his leadership as President of the chapter since last December, Gene Koeller was awarded the Past President's Key. Alpha Phi Omega was truly honored by the presense of Sidney B. North, National Executive Secretary, as guest of the chapter.

Red Cross Corner

Fifty one Hubbard high school students have recently completed Standard First Aid courses and will be issued Red Cross certificates. The classes were taught by Miss Geraldine Jones, Mrs. Dorothy Lee and Ralph E. Lee, authorized First Aid instructors. This initiates First Aid instruction in the school, and is a fine beginning.

Mrs. Herbert Seifert, chairman Home Service, announces Mrs. Blanch Black, Mrs. Fredonia Kingsbury, Mrs. Eula R. Spencer and Mrs. W. H. The purpose of these training centers is to give members a broad understanding of Red Cross, a desirable philosophy toward volunteer service, and develop an awareness of the responsibilities of representative leadership.

Miss Geralding Jones has been authorized as a new member of the Mobile Unit. To be eligible for the Mobile Unit, it is necessary to be an authorized First Aid instructor, and to have successfully taught a First Aid class.

An Air Force spokesman at the scene said that in the only other accident known in which a jet flew into the ground at such a sharp angle, workers had to go to a depth of 27 feet to find all the remains of plane and pilot.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 13—(AP)—C. H. Ketter found $876 the hard way. It was scattered over a wide area of sidewalk and was blowing around when it came upon it.

That was Thursday. Later he saw a story in the St. Joseph News Press about the loss of the money by Oaga Nielsen on his way to a bank.

Ketter returned the money to the owner. He said today he had been substantially rewarded.

Truman To A Discussion On Foreign Trade

Advocates Bigger And Better Steps On Flood Control

By Jack Bell

FARGO, N. D., May 13—(AP)—President Truman said tonight the "yes, but boys," whom he said were, former isolationists, want to wall off foreign trade, halt European aid "and let the Communists take over."

In an obvious challenge to Republican critics of the reciprocal trade agreements program, the President said the same people "who always stand in the road of progress" want to follow the road of "economic isolationism."

After a day in which he inspected the world's largest earthen dam at Fort Peck, Mont., and spoke briefly at whistle stops in Montana and North Dakota, Mr. Truman turned to a discussion of foreign trade at Fargo, N. D.

Asks Charter Approval

Calling for congressional approval of the international trade organization charter, the President said it is opposed by "yes, but" people who used to say in the 1920's "we are isolationists."

"They've given up that line," he said. "Now they say, yes, we believe in international cooperation, but."

And the "but" takes many forms.

"They say—but we cannot afford the cost of the European recovery program.

"In other words they say we can't afford to spend one and a half per cent of our national income to keep Europe free.

"Or they say, but it's not our business to help other free countries build up their defenses.

"In other words, we should invite the Communists to overrun our friends, and leave us alone in the world.

"Or they say, yes, we have international cooperation all right, but let's shut off imports from foreign countries.

"In other words, they would cut down international trade, force down the living standards of other free peoples and ours, too, and let the Communists take over."

The President said "the 'yes, but' boys under estimate the intelligence of the American people. Adding that "so far, every effort to return to isolationism has been defeated."

"I am confident we shall continue to defeat isolationism," he said. "That is the way to defeat Communism.

Better Flood Control

The President came to the heart of the nation's wheat belt to talk not only of foreign trade but to plug for bigger and better flood control, reclamation and power projcts in the Mississippi valley.

He said if the midland valley people don't wake up and help solve their flood problems, other sections of the nation will take away their population and industries.

Without a sign of the strenuous grind of six days of speaking and seven of traveling, the President was up early today for a brisk quarter mile walk into Glasgow, Mont., from where his train was parked on a siding.

Mr. Truman explained to reporters he always wanted to see the 13-car special pull into a station from the crowds eye view.

The engineer obliged, on schedule, and the President looked as pleased as punch.

Later he beamed when members of the Sioux Indian tribe made him "Chief Bear Soldier." Mr. Truman speaks often of his experiences as an artillery captain in World War I.

He drove 18 miles from Glasgow, Mont., to inspect the dam and its power plant.

Calls Tour "Medicine Show"

Victor A. Johnston, Republican agent who has been trailing the President's train turned up in Minot, N. D., with a formal statement calling the tour "a mdicine show attempting to sell fake nostrums by guile and deception."

Johnston explained the President's crowd by saying that Republicans had joined with Democrats "in trying to make the demonstration in their city indicate the community's respect for the office of President of the United States."

He said schools, shops, and factories had been closed in many cities, and the aid of Boy Scouts and high school bands enlisted.

"Then, with callous disregard for the high sentiment which inspired the meeting, the President gives a purely political speech," Johnston said.

Mayor H. C. Kihm before introducing the President, said it was the biggest crowd he had even seen in Minot. Police Chief W. E. Slaybaugh said the turnout was somewhere between twelve and eighteen thousand persons.

Added Damage By Flood Waters

By The Associated Press

A mass of cool air from Hudson Bay pushed into the Great Lakes region Saturday and was moving northeastward to New England.

In Chicago, temperatures dropped 24 degrees in three hours, from a high of 74 at noon to 50 at 3 p.m. The cooler air was accompanied by dense fog from Lake Michigan.

At Winnipeg, Manitoba, flood conditions remained serious. The Army Saturday gave up its fight to reopen a main bridge across the flooding Red river, and a flood expert warned Winnipeg it will be in a "serious predicament" for at least two weeks. After a leveling off period Friday, the river began inching upward again Saturday, although its rate of rise had slowed appreciably.

The flood there already has forced some 65,000 persons from their homes.

Floods In Valley Towns

LITTLE ROCK, May 13—(AP)—Floodwaters covered parts of three White river valley towns today as the river pushed far above flood stage along its narrow north Arkansas channel.

Hardest hit was Calico Rock where water was 15 feet deep in one store and at least five other business houses were flooded. The river there reached 38 feet today, 19 feet above flood stage, and was still rising.

The community of Boswell was entirely flooded, the water going over the tops of some houses.

At Batesville, where a 40-foot stage would put water in the city, the river rose to 35.4 feet, 12.4 above flood level, and was still rising. Only the top three rows of the city's riverfront water carnival stadium remained above water as lowlands filled with the spreading White.

A new threat appeared above Newport near the junction of the White and Black rivers. The White at Newport was at 26 feet, just above technical flood stage, but swiftly rising.

Six Arrested For Traffic Violations

Six persons were arrested Saturday night when they failed to obey red traffic signals. Running red lights has become a habit recently according to the police and it is a habit which will be broken up by compelling offenders to post bond for their appearance in police court.

Stop signal violators will also find their way to police headquarters if the practice isn't stopped abruptly, Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors said Saturday night.

Receives California Oranges

Mrs. J. H. Jolly, 1015 South Harrison avenue, received from Hollywood, Calif., from the "Welcome to Hollywood" breakfast program a box of oranges of which Jack McElroy is master of ceremonies. It was sent by a relative.

To Jefferson Barracks Hospital

Ollie F. Millering of Flinthill, Mo. who has been in the Bothwell hospital, was taken to Jefferson Barracks hospital in St. Louis, in the Ewing ambulance Saturday evening.

Mr. Millering a World War II veteran.

May Queen of Missouri Valley college this year is Miss Eleanore Bess of Sedalia. Miss Bess was chosen as queen by the student body in a March election, but her election was not announced until a crown of gardenias was placed upon her head last Friday night at the annual May dance.

Fifty Years As Teacher Of Music

Mrs. Charles Patterson will observe her 50th anniversary as the teacher of music at 7:45 o'clock Thursday evening, May 25, at the First Christian church.

Mrs. Patterson started her career as a music teacher in 1900 and taught in Bunceton 16 years before coming to Sedalia. She is anxious that as many of her former pupils attend her anniversary program as possible.

The decision to become a music teacher came early in life for at the age of six, the year she herself started taking music lessons she told her mother she was going to be a music teacher and started on her three year old sister, whom she taught to play at that age. She also taught the maid's children and children of tenants' on the farm where she lived.

'see you at.... the Country Club'

Scoop! They are scooping out the pool and there is every indication that it will be finished in three weeks. Nuff said!

The house committee reports that they have conferred with a decorator from Kansas City and plans have been completed for the redecorating of the club. This includes hall, living room, north room and dining room. I understand that they will start the first of the week, but club activities will go on as usual.

Donna Marie Robinson, Dorothy Ann Reed, Leo Eickhoff and Pinky Scott will be co-hosts and hostesses for a dance next Thursday night after commencement exercises. The entire senior class and their dates have been invited. The young couples will dance to the music of the Four Blue Notes from 10:00 o'clock to 1:00 o'clock.

Ladies Golf day has been changed to Tuesday of each week. Sometime during the month of May the lady golfers must play 36 holes to qualify for their golf handicap. The first handicap event is June 6th so be sure to qualify this month. Enthusiasm is still running high and we had another good turnout this week.

Husband and wife teams seen on the course include Maurice and Jane Hogan, Dick and Martha Sklar, Pierre and Eileen Lamy, Phil and Eileen Costello, John Joe and Baffy McGrath, Leroy and Carrie Hodges and John and Mary Alice Lamy.

The dates for the Inter-City Golf matches were established by the chairman of the golf committee of the four cities participating. This meeting was held in Jefferson City and our chairman Damon Hieronymus reports the dates set for the matches are as follows: Wednesday, June 14th at Fulton; Wednesday June 21st at Columbia; Wednesday June 28th at Sedalia and Tuesday July 11th at Jefferson City. In these matches the players will play the ball as it lies which is a step in the right direction for playing better golf.

Everyone was glad to see Bill Gibson win the handicap tournament last week.

The putting green is being moved 50 feet due west of its present location and will be on the way to No. 1 tee.

Dr. and Mrs. Ahrens, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn and Mr. and Mrs. James Lay, members of our club from Warsaw played the course last Thursday.

Have you noticed the bright multi-colored golf caps worn lately? Rather dashing—and I think it adds something! If this trend keeps up a lot of us can throw our husbands old army pants away—Happy Day!

As far as we know the winners in bridge were Mrs. E. H. McLaughlin, Miss Anna Gibbs, and the winners in mah jongg were, Mrs. Heber Hunt and Mrs. Chester Wright because we had a unusual Ladies Day at the club this week due to Vic and Virginia Scott's little dog Ricky. Now Ricky is a female and according to the laws of nature, delivered six puppies last Thursday. This is not unusual but Ricky chose Ladies Day to perform. Vic stayed by her side and Virginia went forth to play cards at the club, confident that everything was under control. Didn't Vic have pots and pots of boiling water! The players started to play as usual but every hand or two Vic would call and announce the arrival of another puppy. After six had arrived and everyone was pleased, relieved and ready to resume play, Vic called again and complained "But I didn't use the boiling water." Virginia came back with "Make some coffee with it an I'll be home—we both need it." If I'd known they were coming I'd have baked a cake!

Roundup Of Big Leagues On Saturday

Phils Remain Atop Nationals By Beating Giants

By Ralph Roden

NEW YORK, May 13 — (AP) — The Philadelphia Phils continued along their merry way atop the National League today as young Curt Simmons turned in a magnificent 7-1 three-hit victory over the New York Giants.

Simmons, in posting his fourth straight victory and the Phils' sixth consecutive, fanned eight and walked five. A walk to Ed Stankey, balk, and two infield outs resulted in the lone Giant run in the first inning. Simmons held the Giants hitless until the fifth when rookie Gilbert and Stankey singled.

Erupted In Fourth

The Phils, held hitless by Dave Koslo over the first three innings, erupted and scored four runs in the fourth to take the lead. Dick Sisler drove home two of the runs with a homer, Del Ennis socked a two-run homer in the sixth off Sal Maglie to clinch the game.

Vern Bickford of Boston also came up with a three-hitter as the Braves humbled the Brooklyn Dodgers, 12-2. However, Bickford's performance was overshadowed by some lusty clubbing on the part of four former New York Giants.

The ex-Giants, Walker Cooper, Willard Marshall, Sid Gordon and Buddy Kerr, drove in 11 of the 12 runs. The other run was batted in by Rookie Sam Jethroe who homered.

Bickford, in gaining his first victory in four trips, had a shutout until the eighth.

Cubs Edged Pirates

The Chicago Cubs edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3 with Hal Jeffcoat doubling home Mickey Owen and Wayne Terwilliger with the winning runs in the seventh inning.

Pittsburgh whacked Frank Hiller and Walt Dubiel for 12 hits but three double plays helped stop the threats. Cliff Chambers went the distance for the Pirates, yielding six hits.

The Detroit Tigers remained in the van in the American League as Virgil Trucks beat Ned Garver and the St. Louis Browns, 1-0, in a brilliant eleven inning duel in Detroit. Vic Wertz broke up the game by singling with the bases loaded. Both trucks and Garver granted only five hits.

Yanks Crush A's

The New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox remained a half game behind the Tigers. The Yanks crushed the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-3 and the Red Sox edged the Washington Senators, 5-4.

Vic Raschi and Bob Porterfield tamed the Athletics on six hits while the Yanks banged out 13 including home runs by Yogi Berra and Bobby Brown.

Raschi retired after six innings complaining of a sore right elbow. He was credited with the victory, his 13th against one loss over the A's since he came up in 1946.

Celebrated 1,000th Game

Birdie Tebbetts celebrated his participation in his 1,000th American League game by singling home Bobby Doerr with the Red Sox' winning run in the eighth inning against Washington.

The Sox took an early 4-0 lead but Chuck Stobbs blew the margin and was driven out in the seventh when the Senators scored all of their runs to tie the score. Two of the Red Sox' runs came on homers by Ted Williams and Walt Dropo. Walt Masterson finished up and gained the victory.

Indians Downed White Sox

The Cleveland Indians staged a four-run eighth inning rally to down the Chicago White Sox, 6-2. The winning rally was featured by home runs by Bob Kennedy and Allie Clark. Bob Feller, who left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh, also homered for Cleveland. Jesse Flores pitched the last two innings and recorded his second victory.

In the only night game in either league the St. Louis Cardinals entertained the Cincinnati Reds.

Cardinals Win Over Reds 6-3

ST. LOUIS, May 13—(AP)—A single by pinch hitter Eddie Kazak in the seventh inning drove in two runs and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in a loosely played game here tonight. Howard Pollet gained his third victory of the season, giving up 9 scattered hits.

The Reds pulled ahead with two runs in the third inning on a single by Dixie Howell, a double by Peanuts Lowrey and a throwing error by Stan Musial.

In the fourth, Bill Howerton led off with a triple and scored on Joe Garagiola's single to center.

It was a listless game until the seventh inning. A double by Grady Hatton and a single by Johnny Wyrostek gave the Reds a 3-1 lead.

The Cards came back in the seventh with a 5-run inning on three hits, one a double by Tommy Glaviano, singles by Kazak and Howard Pollet, four walks and a passed ball.

Big Baseball Event In K. C. On Thursday

N. Y. Yankees To Play Exhibition With K. C. Blues

It will be homecoming for most of the Yankees when they play the Blues Thursday night in Blues Stadium, Kansas City. With a few exceptions they reached the big Stadium in the Bronx after serving an apprenticeship here.

There will be a lot of old favorites in action, but most of the applause will be reserved for Phil "Scooter" Rizzuto, baseball's Mr. Shortstop who was tagged the Yankees' most valuable by Manager Casey Stengle after the close of an amazing 1949 season.

Baseball fans of this section thrilled to the little fellow's play back in 1939 and 1940 when he helped two of Kansas City's greatest teams win league championships.

Phil's a Veteran

Phil's a veteran now. Matter of fact, there was some who said he was moving toward the twilight of his career when the '49 season started. A sore arm bothered him and he was having eye trouble. The skeptics wondered what would become of the Yanks. They could have saved themselves the trouble.

Rizzuto had one of his greatest seasons, missed only two games while more muscular mates were falling by the wayside daily and when the season finished, Phil was regarded by many even if the national poll didn't go that way—as the American League's Most Valuable Player.

He teams up with Gerry Coleman, another alumnus of the Blues, Thursday night in Blues Stadium to show baseball fans one of the great double-play combinations of the game today.

Homecoming

Joe Dimaggio, Lary Berra, Vic Raschi, Tommy Henrich, Bobby Brown, Billy Johnson, and a few others are comparative strangers here, but for most of them it will be homecoming. This includes Stengel, a former manager of the Blues.

The list of Blues alumni is a long one and includes:

Phil Rizzuto, baseball's greatest shortstop who was here in 1939 and 1940.

Hank Bauer, outfielder, 1947 and 1948.

Cliff Mapes, outfielder, 1947.

Charlie Silvera, catcher, 1946.

Tommy Byrne, pitcher, 1947.

Johnny Lindell, outfielder, 1939 and 1940.

Gus Niarhos, catcher, 1946 and 1947.

Jim Delsing, outfielder, 1949.

Joe Collins, first baseman, 1949.

Don Johnson pitcher, and Clarence Marshall, pitcher.

Blues Open Season Against Concordia

The Sedalia Blues will open their season this afternoon at Concordia, when the team plays the St. Paul's college.

This will be Concordia's fourth game of the season, having won one game and dropped two.

The probable line-up for the Blues will be: K. Neidholdt, catcher; D. Ward, pitcher; Ditton, first base; Kell, second base; Hopkins, third base; Wood, left field; Smith Centerfield; Wolf, Baldwin or Cornelius, right field.

Golf Tourney June 26 At Country Club

Dick Sklar Has Been Named The Tourney Head

Dick Sklar, 2209 West Third street, has been named tournament chairman for the Sedalia Pro-Amateur Golf tournament to be held at the Sedalia Country club on June 26.

The tournament again this year, which is the second annual one, is being sponsored by the Sedalia Athletic Association. The tourney was held last year in September and even though it was late in the golfing year, the meet was considered a signal success.

The date for the event this year is believed to be much more advantageous and the success of this year's tournament is predicted to be even greater than the first one.

Dick Sklar

Already, leading professional golfers from the Midwest Professional Golfers Association as well as the eastern division of the same organization have expressed interest in this event in letters received by the tournament chairman.

Boat Racing At Bagnell Today

One of the largest crowds to assemble at Bagnell Dam area for sports events, is anticipated today, when boat racing will be held. The racing program is scheduled to start at 1:30 o'clock, this afternoon.

So well are boat races attended that C. T. "Curley" Williams, president of the Bagnell Dam Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the event, that he predicts a crowd of from 7,000 to 11,000. Attendance depends a great deal on weather conditions, but rain or shine, the races will be held, providing the rain is not too bad.

A strip of beach along a mile-long cove has been cleared for spectators, docks have been moved in for the speed boats and judges' stand. Plenty of concession stands and numerous rest rooms have been arranged to handle the crowd.

Dr. Barnes S. Souder, St. Louis Commodore of the St. Louis Outboard Drivers Assn., which is sanctioning the races, announced that more than 50 speed boat drivers have filed entries. Entries are going from Kansas City, St. Louis, Springfield, Ill., Little Rock, Ark., Des Moines, Ia., Quincey, Ill., and many other towns where the sport has "taken hold."

The 11 events are for the following outboard classes: A service, B service, C service runabotus, C service hydroplanes, E service runabouts, and a final free-for-all race.

Entrance to the area will be through the Frank's Resort, three-fourths of a mile south of Bagnell Dam. From the entrance to the beach is one-fourth mile.

Joe Louis Turned 36 Years Old Saturday

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—Joe Louis, retired heavyweight champion of the world, was 36 years old today. He will return on Thursday from a South American tour.

Sport Scraps

By D. Kelly Scruton

THIS year is the first the Smith-Cotton high school has experienced having a baseball team, and it has been approximately 30 years since any high school baseball was had here. The revival of high school baseball has gotten off to a good start and it is hoped the school will continue to sponsor the sport along with other Smith-Cotton athletic activities.

However, the Junior American Legion and the Ban Johnson baseball can be thanked for giving Smith-Cotton experienced players right off the bat. Yes, and the Teen-Age program in Northeast Sedalia has offered considerable help in rounding out the squad.

The team of 1950 has played but two games, but the experience the boys had previously was valuable. They have won both, defeating Glennon high school, a Catholic high school of Kansas City by a score of 9 to 4, and the second game a 6-1 victory over the Grandview school. This puts the team up against the Missouri Military Academy team.

The game is to be played at Mexico, May 19, and if winning there, will make Smith-Cotton eligible for the Missouri State high school tournament at St. Louis.

LOOKING over the results of Smith-Cotton's two games, brings to light two pitchers who have been going great with Junior Legion in the past and will be valuable in the future to Ban Johnson. The first contest was won by Bob Brown, 9-4, who gave up four hits, while the second affair was a no-hit victory by Bob Ray, the score being 6-1.

Both of these boys have a great future ahead of them and if they continue to be handled properly should be material for at least minor league clubs, and all the local supporters would love nothing more than to see them hit the "big time."

Cecil Glenn, former manager of the Junior Legion, and Coach Jim Ball of Smith-Cotton are handling the team through their first high school circuit.

THE Bagnell Chamber of Commerce is going in for drawing large crowds to the Damsite to stimulate interest in that resort area. One of their first projects for this year is the sponsoring of motorboat racing, which according to information reaching this desk will draw more than 75 motorboat drivers to participate, and an estimated attendance of between 7,000 and 11,000 thrill-seeking fans.

If sports fans think automobile racing furnishes thrills, then they have failed to have their blood pressure increased. As one motorboat fan explained to me it is the one sport which furnishes every thrill, a thrill-seeker seeks.

The events will take place this afternoon and will start at 1:30 o'clock.

DON'T forget, Friday night of next week, Sedalia's two swimming pools will hold a swim show as a preliminary to the official opening which will be held on Saturday, May 26. Already P. A. Sillers is being called by many youngsters and some parents, for their season tickets for 1950.

Hubbard Won Opening Game

The Hubbard high school Tigers opened their baseball season with a 9 to 0 victory over Post 98 team, Thursday afternoon at Hubbard park. This was the first baseball victory for the Tigers since Coach Broadus has been coaching at the school.

The Tiger hurler, Mason, allowed the Legion team only one hit. The pitcher sent nine batters back to the bench via the strikeout route.

The Tigers journey to Dalton, Mo., for a baseball encounter with the Dalton vocational school, Monday afternoon. A return game will be played in Sedalia between the same two teams, Thursday.

The highlights of last Thursday's game was the hitting of Mason, with three hits for three times at the plate and a home run by Tiger first baseman, Snorgrass.

Hill Prince Won Withers Mile

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 13—(AP)—Hill Prince, the flying gentleman from Virginia, hung it on the Kentucky Derby winner — Middleground—today in the $29,750 Withers Mile at Belmont Park, and proved he'll be a tough number in the Preakness next week.

A crowd of 40,088 customers, who made Hill Prince and Eddie Arcaro the favorite, gave Chris Chenery's powerful bay colt a mighty cheer as he took command near the top of the stretch and romped home with something to spare.

Hill Prince, second choice in the Derby at Louisville last week, blazed under the finish line in a sparkling 1:35 4/5, which tied the record for the stake first run in 1874. The immortal Man O'War set the record in 1920, and it was equalled in 1922 by Snob 2nd, and again by Johnstown, in 1939.

Home Opener For Legion Team Today

Post 16 Club Will Play Joplin Team At Liberty Park

The American Junior Legion Post 16 baseball team of Sedalia will open its home season this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at Liberty park, against the Joplin Junior Legion team.

Dave Johnson, righthander will be on the mound for the Sedalia team with John Cochran behind the plate. John Cusack will be on the hill for the visitors.

Since today is Mother's Day, two bouquets of roses will be given to the oldest and youngest mother registered at the game. Mayor Herb E. Studer will pitch the first ball and Sheriff John Taylor will do the catching. There will be various other ceremonies before the game.

Free Gate Today

There will be no admission charge to the game. The free gate will enable all the fans to acquaint themselves with the 1950 team, since it is practically composed of new members. Most of last year's fold left the Junior Legion squad for the Ban Johnson aggregation.

The Joplin team is no stranger to Sedalia, as it played in the Junior Legion tournament held in Sedalia in 1948. Cusack pitched in two of the games during that tourney. Last year, Cusack held Sedalia to one lone hit in a full nine-inning game, beating Sedalia 1 to 0.

Five Vets For Joplin

Joplin will have five veterans from last year's team, while Sedalia has seven players left from last season. Most of the Sedalia veterans are pitchers, Johnson, Arnold, and Schulz. The other vets are: Shawver, Morgan and Broaddus, infielders and Cochran, catcher.

Joplin has Crowell, third baseman; Springer, ss, and Anderson, first baseman returning with Wilson, second baseman and Spencer, catcher, the newcomers in the infield. Harbaugh is the only vet outfielder in left field with DeMasters, centerfielder and Hyslop, right fielder, rounding out the outfielders.

Some Changes Made

Broaddus, last year's first baseman, has been moved to centerfield. This means Sedalia will have two new infielders this year, second baseman, Percival and first baseman, Burton. Captain Shawver moved from second base to shortstop with Morgan taking third base. The outfield will be Dey, Broaddus, and Bartlett. Johnson and Arnold will pitch with Cochran, catching.

Lloyd Buehner is manager of the Joplin team, and is also a post commander of Joplin. Homer Earhart is manager of the local team.

Games This Week For Sedalia Chiefs

Missouri Beat Kansas In Dual Meet

Tigers Were Paced By Bill McGuire's 4 Minute 10.7 Mile

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 13—(AP)—The Missouri Tigers, paced by Slim Bill McGuire's 4 minute 10.7 mile, warmed up for defense of their Big Seven Conference outdoor track crown by beating Kansas, 77⅔ to 53⅓, in a dual meet today.

It was the last meet for both Missouri and Kansas, the indoor conference champion, before the league meet at Lincoln, Nebr., next Saturday.

McGuire, a junior from New York City, whose two-mile winning time of 9 minutes 16.7 seconds at the Drake relays was the fastest of the current outdoor season, had to run to win today. Bobby Karnes of Kansas was only one stride behind him at the tape.

Fastest Missouri Runner

The time was a meet record and the fastest ever turned in by a Missouri runner. The old record of 4 minutes 11.6 seconds was set by Missouri's former N. C. A. A. mile champion, Johnny Munski, in 1940.

Kansas distance corps came tthrough with a couple of records. Pat Bowers, amazing half miler from Chicago who set a new mark practically every outing, lowered the 880 standard to 1 minute 52.3 seconds. It bettered the time of the Great Glenn Cunningham, Kansas in 1932, and Bob Reeves, Missouri, in 1940.

Herb Semper, Kansas' indoor two-mile Big Seven record holder, travelled that distance in 9 minutes 20.2 seconds.

Still another meet record was set by Bob Gordon, Missouri, who cleared 6 feet 4⅝ inches in the high jump.

J. C. Dodgers Defeated The Cubs 5 To 10

Sedalia Team Plays In Clinton This Afternoon

The Sedalia Cubs, semi-pro baseball team, bowed to the Jefferson City Dodgers 5 to 10 in their home opening game under the lights of Liberty park, Friday night, before a fair sized crowd. The defeat was the second for the Cubs out of three starts this season.

The Sedalia club will attempt to even its standing this afternoon when they play a. Clinton, starting at 2:30 o'clock. The Cubs are scheduled to leave for Clinton from the Pla-Mor at 11:30 o'clock this morning. The battery for Sedalia will be "Barney" Bahrenberg, pitching and Cliff Barr, behind the plate.

Eight Errors

In Friday night's game, eight errors were committed on the part of the Sedalia players, which attributed much to their defeat, as the team connected with 10 hits, compared to the Dodgers' 11. The visitors played errorless ball up to the ninth inning, when their left fielder dropped Taylor's fly ball.

The Dodgers belted Bob Rapp for nine hits in the six innings he worked on the mound. Rapp pitched six strikeouts and dished out six walks. The 20-year-old righthander, who is a student at Central college, was used for a target twice. In the third inning, he was knocked down on the mound by a hard-hit liner, and in the sixth inning was struck down at the plate by a wild pitch. Eans admired the way Rapp brushed himself off, and continued to stay in the ball game. However, Manager Jack Alpert wasn't taking any chances and sent in "Barney" Bahrenberg to relieve Rapp in the top of the seventh. Bahrenberg in the three innings he worked, issued four strikeouts and gave up two walks.

Triple By Barr

Black, a tall righthander for the Dodgers, went the entire route on the mound. He allowed the Cubs 10 hits, one a triple by Cliff Barr and a double by Cassing. The big Negro hurler struck out four at the plate and allowed four walks. He had 100 per cent support from his teammates.

The first run in the ball game came in the top of the second inning, when R. Bagby with a double, scored on Bolton's single. The Cubs bounced right back in the same frame to tie up the ball game, when Cassing lined out a double and Bob Rapp singled him home.

The Dodgers won the ball game with five runs in the third inning, when nine batters faced the opposing pitcher, who allowed four hits in that frame. The Cubs made two errors in that inning, which helped the Dodgers score. The Dodgers crossing home plate were: J. Bagby, White, R. Bagby, Frank, and Campor.

Unearned Runs

Two unearned runs were tallied by the Dodgers in the fourth inning, attributed to two walks, errors and stolen bases. The visitors scored a run in the fifth inning when Camper singled with two men out. He stole second base and got to third on an error. White singled Camper home.

The Cubs' biggest inning came in the sixth which was good for three runs. Taylor popped out to left fielder, Cliff Barr tripled, Cassing walked, Barnes walked to fill the bases. Livengood grounded out and Bob Rapp hit a hard single down the rightfield line. Charlie Thompson retired the sides by flying out to the left fielder.

The Dodgers got their tenth and last tally in the seventh inning when Black singled and advanced to second base, after Camper walked. Black scored following an error at second base.

A double by Cassing and two walks in the eighth inning enabled Cassing to score for the Cubs.

Replacements

With the exception of Simmons, who relieved Bolton in right field in the seventh inning, the Dodgers played with their starting line-up. Waters replaced Barnes in the rightfield in the seventh inning, and Smith was a courtesy runner for Rapp in the seventh inning, after Rapp was injured slightly by a wild pitch.

Some of the errors committed by the Sedalia aggregation were probably due to strange positions the players worked. Cliff Barr, who normally plays at third, worked behind the plate for the first time this season. One or two other players were juggled around to other positions.

John Thomas was umpire behind the plate and Lawrence Ditton was base umpire.

The game lasted a little over three hours, and was delayed somewhat due to some trouble in having the park lights turned on. The planned opening ceremonies were cancelled. The game started about 8:25 p. m., and was over at 11:30 p. m.

Combination Team

It was the third game for the Cubs and the second for the Dodgers, which is a team made up of last year's Eagles and Mohawks. Last Sunday, the Negro team downed Boonville 20 to 3. The team is managed by Wilbert Kirkpatrick. Jack Alpert is manager of the local semi-pro club

Auto Races Today In Kansas City

Thirty race drivers from Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Minnesota are staging a new type of auto racing for fans of this area at Olympic Stadium in Kansas City. Roadsters representing body styles of several decades ago but powered by the fastest engines available today are turning the fifth-mile semi-banked oval at more than 50 miles per hour.

Junior Hower, popular Kansas City racer who won the opening 25-lap feature last weekend, set the fastest time trials for the roadsters on the Olympic track. He turned the circuit in 13.92 seconds, some 55 miles per hour.

Billy Richardson, of Des Moines, Floyd Roberts, of Rochester, Minn., and Don Hill of St. Louis, are the leading drivers representing their districts against such local stars as Herschel Wagner, John Tatlock and Jimmy Wegschider.

Time trials start at 2 p. m. and heat races at three o'clock.

Sedalia Bowling Banquet, May 24

The annual Sedalia Bowling Association banquet is to be held on Wednesday night, May 24, at the Bothwell hotel, starting at 6:30 o'clock. William E. Kuster, Jr., vice-president of the American Bowling Congress, Kansas City, has been invited to attend the meeting and be the principal speaker.

Mr. Kuster, is a former secretary of the Kansas City Bowling Association, and a member of the United States Olympic Bowling team of 1932. His talk will be on bowling and what the ABC means to the bowlers of the United States.

A sound-motion picture "Splits, Spares and Strikes, Ten Pin Titans," has been secured from the ABC to be shown during the meeting. These pictures are very interesting to bowlers.

There are approximately 250 bowlers in Sedalia, all of whom are invited to attend the dinner-meeting. Reservations for the banquet can be obtained at the Sedalia Bowling Lanes.

SMOOTH NEW POWER IN JUST 10 MILES —RISLONE IN YOUR OIL GUARANTEES IT!

Absorbs Gum and Sludge for Feelable Improvement ... or your money back!

Rislone eliminates new-car break-in, keeps older cars in tip-top condition as you drive

By preventing gum and sludge deposits, and by assuring full lubrication, Rislone maintains the factory-fresh zip you value so much in a new car.

Rislone helps you avoid slow-speed break-in periods, too. By guaranteeing full, instant lubrication, it permits driving at normal speeds at once — with a reconditioned engine or with a brand-new car.

Rislone also puts new life in cars that have been on the road for any length of time. Your engine runs quieter, begins to deliver the smooth power of full compression, gives you new-car "get-up-and-go."

Ends sluggish pick-up, low-gear buck, power sputter, slow starting

Rislone in your oil makes a world of difference in the way your car runs. You can actually feel the improvement in the first 10 miles, as it absorbs gummy deposits which cause sluggish motor action. Full compression and power are restored. You enjoy power-surge pick-up, smooth driving at all speeds in all gears—and quick, easy starting in all weather!

Best of all, you can keep your car running that way—as thousands of motorists do — with Rislone in your oil. Rislone keeps your car at peak performance as you drive.

For winter driving

In cold weather, Rislone is an amazing aid to driving ease. The quart you put in your crankcase keeps oil free-flowing — for instant lubrication, quick starting and less drain on your battery!

Use Rislone in your oil all the time, all year 'round—absolutely no harmful ingredients

Rislone can be used in your car as a full-time lubricant, a "right-hand man" for your regular oil. Its job is to keep your oil doing its best in the motor of your car.

Modern motor oils have gum-forming properties. Those very properties make them good lubricants. The problem is to keep gum, sludge, and varnish from forming in the crank-case, on valve stems, piston rings and grooves, or other moving parts. When it does, your car loses pep and power — grows sluggish. But that can't happen with Rislone on the job.

Rislone absorbs gum and sludge instantly, prevents more deposits. It keeps oil free-flowing and at peak efficiency. Your car is better protected, gives you better, smoother performance.

And the way your car responds to the throttle makes driving much more pleasant.

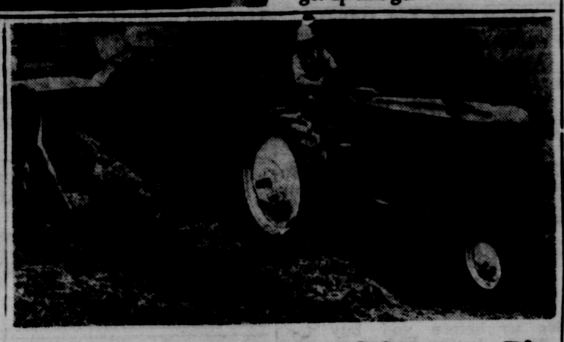
Truck-Fleet Operators Use Rislone Reduce Maintenance Costs

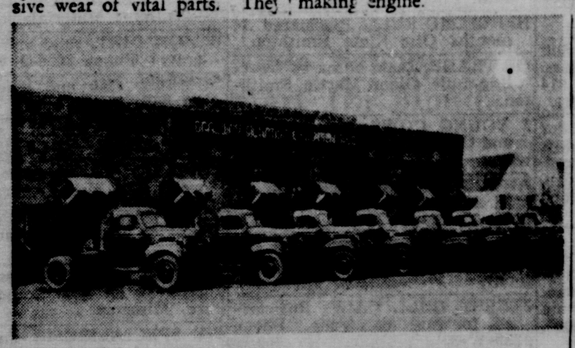
Rislone's "constant tune-up" action is low-cost preventive maintenance

Experienced operators know how to keep their trucks out of the shop and on the road.

They know that Rislone dissolves sludge instantly, prevents gummy deposits that interfere with lubrication and cause excessive wear of vital parts. They also know that Rislone maintains the full compression necessary for smooth performance top gas mileage, low oil consumption, and all round economical operation.

In short they know that a Rislone-clean engine is a money-making engine.



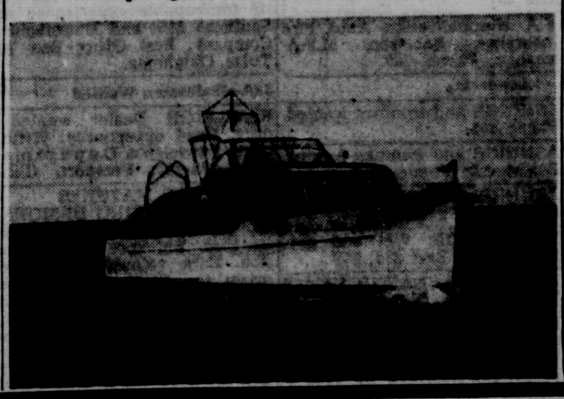


Keeps Farm Machinery Fit All The Time

motors stay clean o' gum and sludge with Rislone

Farmers from coast to coast say that Rislone makes every stationary or mobile internal-combustion engine on the farm run better, last longer, and require less service attention.

Rislone keeps engines free of power-wasting gum and sludge deposits. You enjoy smooth, full power, and you cut maintenance costs. Rislone maintains this efficiency even during winter storage. Spring-starting is quick and easy, operation is perfect.

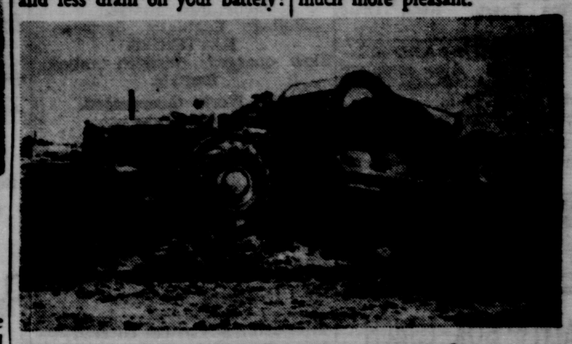


Rislone Keeps Marine Engines Humming at Peak Efficiency

Rislone keeps boat engines free of gum and sludge. Breakdowns caused by clogged oil-lines, inadequate lubrication, and sticking valves are virtually eliminated.

Rislone stays right on the job while boats are idle, or hauled out for the winter. Gum and sludge deposits are again prevented. Spring starting is easy.

Outboard owners find that Rislone increases the r.p.m. of their motors and facilitates quick starting.



Rislone Insures Against Costly Delays on Big Construction Jobs

Maintains full power and dependability of huge equipment

Contractors the world over find that the regular use of Rislone reduces maintenance costs.

They report that Rislone maintains full power and dependability by keeping oil free-flowing, by dissolving gum and sludge to prevent sticking valves and clogged piston rings. Moreover, Rislone makes starting of powerful diesel and gasoline engines quick and easy — even in the coldest weather.

That's why so many construction men use Rislone in their mobile and stationary equipment. It's the best — and cheapest — insurance against costly delays caused by motor failure.

Money-Back Guarantee When You Make This Test:

Have your regular service man add a quart of Rislone to your crankcase. Two quarts in larger motors.

Drive 10 miles. Watch for a feelable difference: smoother, quieter power; new "get-up-and-go"; power-surge pick-up.

By Mrs. Thomas W. Miller

News has reached Tipton of the death in Chicago, Ill., on May 1, of Mrs. Rose Baker at the age of 73.

Mrs. Baker was born in Tipton, Miss Rose Ellen Scheerer, April 19,1877, a daughter of Jacob and Felinda Scheerer and she lived here for 40 years.

Her husband was James Baker, the family moving from Tipton to Kansas City in 1917.

Eight children were reared by the couple, three surviving: Cora Weber, and Wyeth Baker, of Chicago, and Bonnie Whitney, of Houston, Texas.

She had been making her home in Chicago since 1930 after the death of her husband, with her daughter, Cora.

Mrs. Baker had been ill the past two years.

Burial was in Kansas City in the Mt. Moriah Masonic cemetery.

Mrs. Baker leaves a number of cousins around Tipton.

The unusually strong winds of last Friday caused E. L. Worley, of Fortuna, to suffer a broken arm. The accident happened at 10 o'clock in the morning as Mr. Worley was standing between a post and the door on his barn at his property in Fortuna. A gust of wind blew the door against the post catching Mr. Worley's right arm between. One bone in the arm was broken. The arm was set by Dr. H. C. Hume of Tipton.

Mrs. Ella Geiser was visited last week-end by her children, Mrs. Louis Wohlers, of Rockwell City, Ia., and Marvin Geiser, of Kansas City.

Ned Krohn, a student in the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery, was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl H. Kiesling, Saturday and Sunday. Ned accompanied some friends this far who were on their way to St. Louis to see the ball games. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Kiesling and Ned visited Karl's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kiesling and family in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Gabert had with them as their house guests the week-end their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rains and their 14½-month-old daughter, Vicki Ann. The guests also visited Mrs. Rains' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Taylor at Barnett. Donald is vocational agriculture teacher in the Ridgeway, Mo., schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Class have had some remodeling done on their home in west Tipton, also built a new garage.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Swarner from Saturday until Monday were Mr. Swarner's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Swarner, of Boonville. They were enroute to their home in Boonville from a week's visit in Springfield with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lauer.

Mother's Influence on Lincoln, Washington Doubted as to Sons

By Alexander R. George

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Five years ago 92-year-old Martha Truman flew to Washington from her home in Missouri to spend Mother's day with her son, the President of the United States.

The presidency had come suddenly to Harry Truman the preceding month. The visit of the little old lady, with much of his own amiable, homespun manner spotlighted the relationship of mother and prominent son.

This relationship was further dramatized two years later. In the spring of 1947 Mr. Truman took his work with him to Missouri and kept a long watch at his mother's bedside during her last illness.

The mothers of America's two most famous men — Washington and Lincoln—lived and died long before this country thought of celebrating Mother's day. Neither ever visited her son in the executive mansion.

Sentimental early-day writers gave Nancy Hanks Lincoln and Mary Ball Washington extravagant credit for their sons' successes.

There is scant historical evidence, however, that either Nancy Lincoln or Mary Washington had great influence, except possibly through heredity, in shaping the destines of their sons. Actually very little is known about either woman.

Died When Lincoln Nine

Nancy Lincoln may have hoped that her boy would go places, but she never knew he was on the road to greatness. She died at the age of 36 in a backwoods Indiana cabin when Abraham Lincoln was nine years old.

Mary Washington lived five months after her son became the first president.

George Washington apparently did not spend much time with his mother after he was 22. He was respectful and kind but never chummy with her.

Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, in his biography of Washington (Scribners), says:

"By the time George is 27 the reasons for his lack of warm affection for his mother begin to appear.

"Although he believed that ample provision was made for her, she was constantly asking for something more. For a present from her half-brother to her daughter, for timber with which to erect a house, for butter and a servant from the frontier, for money whenever George came to visit here."

Dr. Freeman says that "while Washington supplied his mother with what she asked if he possibly could, and tried to show patience toward her, he did not wish to be with her and he seldom gave her his confidence if ever he did."

Authentic information about Nancy Lincoln is scarce. Legend has it that she told Bible stories to little Abe and sent him to country school with the admonition that he learn all he could about "writin', readin' and cipherin'."

She was remembered by neighbors as a sweet, melancholy woman who lived in pioneer poverty and drudgery. She was uneducated but was said to appreciate beauty and to yearn for better things for her family.

Abraham Lincoln told his law partner, William Herndon, that he probably had inherited certain mental capacities and a zeal for learning from his mother. His father, Thomas Lincoln, was a wandering, carefree carpenter who didn't take much stock in "education."

Tribute to Mother

It was reported that Lincoln once said: "All that I am and hope to be I owe to my angel mother."

Some students of Lincoln's life point out, however, that he had only hazy recollections of his mother and that the "angel" statement, if he made it, probably was one of conventional deference or defense of a mother who had been maligned by some of his political enemies who whispered that she was an illegitimate child.

The Civil War president was known to have been devoted to his stepmother, Sarah Bush Lincoln. She too was uneducated but kindly and shrewd, a good homemaker and insistent that Abe continue his education.

Franklin Roosevelt lived a considerable adult life with his mother, Sara Delano Roosevelt, in her Hyde Park home. His widow, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt says there was a very close bond between them although he had grown away from his mother in some ways and that in later years they often had not been in sympathy about policies on public affairs.

In her book "This I Remember" (Harper Bros.) Eleanor Roosevelt says that "Franklin's attitude about letting his sons make their own decisions and own mistakes came very largely from the fact that his mother had wanted to direct his every thought or deed and that he had to fight for independence."

"I doubt if as long as she lived," Mrs. Roosevelt writes, "she ever let him leave the house without inquiring whether he was dressed warmly enough or urging him to wear his rubbers or put a sweater unde his coat. . . .

"She did a great many things out of devotion to him that were difficult for her. But she never accepted the fact of his independence and continued to the last to try to guide his life."

Fight For Gas Hike Cost $66,140

JEFFERSON CITY, May 12—(AP)—The fruitless campaign to double Missouri's gasoline tax cost $66,140.50, largely paid out of contributions from road contractors and equipment and material suppliers.

The figures were disclosed today in a check of the financial statement of the better roads committee, an organization set up to spearhead Gov. Forrest Smith's campaign to increase the gas tax and finance rural road building.

The report showed the committee collected $67,094.14, with well over half the contributions coming from companies which would have had a part in expanded road building activities if the tax increase had been approved by the voters last April 4. The proposed hike—from two to four cents a gallon—failed by almost three to one in the referendum election.

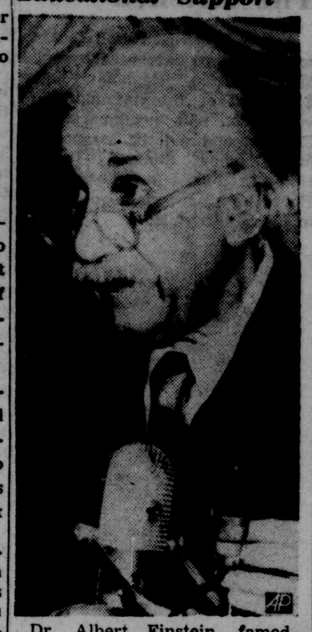
The committee said in its report it had paid all its debts.

Biggest single contribution came from the Association of General Contractors of Missouri. The organization represents companies that bid on road and highway work and donated $20,000 to the campaign fund.

The money was spent for salaries of committee employes, for newspaper, radio and billboard advertising and for printing and mailing direct mail literature, the report said.

Of the dozen or so contributors who gave $1,000 or more only a few could not be directly connected with the road building business.

Dr. Einstein Urges Educational Support



Dr. Albert Einstein, famed theoretical physicist, makes one of his rare public appearances as he speaks to 300 Jewish community leaders of the U. S. and Canada at Princeton, N. J. He urged the support of schools of higher learning in Israel as institutions where Jews will always be welcome. (AP Wirephoto)

Says Tropics Don't Hurt Europeans

SINGAPORE—(AP)—A University of Malaya physiologist has exploded the myth that Europeans must have a change of climate after three years in the tropics.

Mr. Lee Teow Seng says, "I think the reason is just psychological. Climatic conditions here are not in the least harmful to Europeans. They perspire more than local-born people, but the effects of this can be offset by taking plenty of salt."

Color blindness affects about 4 per cent of males and .4 per cent of females.

Mussolini Knick Knacks Fill Seven Rooms

Custodians of the collection say it includes a portable prayer-stand, a rare old violin, Japanese vases donated by the Mikado, a Roman gladiator's sword donated by Hungary and about 1,000 books. Mussolini's widow, Rachele, is seeking to recover the collection from the government.

Fourth Century Coins Discovered

PAVIA—(AP)—An important discovery of 4th century coins has been made here. The Fine Arts Commission, which classified some of the finds as unique, described the discovery as "the most important made in Europe for the last 100 years."

The coins, nearly 100 large gold and silver rarities, were in an urn unearthed by peasants working in a field. Authorities said one big gold coin bore the name of Constant II. Six large silver ones bore the names of the Emperors Valente, Graziano, Valentinia I, and Theodore I.

Crossroads Comment

by G. H. S.

While Sedalians are joining enthusiastically in a season of cleaning up and painting up, there comes an indictment of some of our thoughtless citizens.

Residents of the Maplewood community, east of town, have registered a bitter complaint against the manner in which Sedalians dispose of their garbage and dead animals. The protest appears in an adjoining column.

One might be tempted to label the complaint an exaggeration but for the fact too many Sedalians, themselves, have seen and taken pictures of this indignity to our rural neighbors.

Sedalia has free city garbage collections, and facilities for disposal of dead animals. So it seems nonsensical to litter the roads leading to rural homes. Surely it can't be the difference between the price of a garbage can and the use of gasoline for private automobiles to make nightly disposal forays into the country.

This disgraceful practice should be stopped voluntarily by Sedalians. Of course there are some who wouldn't stop short of arson or mayhem unless there were laws against such offenses. Well there are sanitary laws that can be enforced.

Perhaps the county court and city council might jointly work out some enforcement plan against improper garbage and trash disposal. Certainly it would be appreciated by the rural residents and should be by the townspeople who cater to the farmers' business.

—o—

We don't know what the census count for Sedalia is, officially. There seems to be some sort of deep, dark secret about it, governmental regulations or such.

A few pretend to have some inside information that the Sedalia figure is not even up to 20,000. The rumor spreads. Others say this is just a scare figure to arouse the public.

This newspaper reacted a week or so ago to appeals for help in getting more persons enumerated who might have been overlooked. An enumeration coupon was run in the paper. The response was 200. Then this rose to a total of 500.

The significance to this response is that there must be a whale of a lot of Sedalians not being counted. The system hasn't worked, paying enumerators 7 cents a name.

Maybe setting up a test section in the city and paying someone by the hour to glean the strays might prove more effective. It's worth a trial and, if results warrant, the whole town could be covered similarly.

It is ridiculous to suppose that Sedalia's population is only 20,000 or 21,000 or 22,000. There's something wrong with the census, if those are the figures.

There's going to be a lot of billy hell raised in Washington by Sedalians if the census count comes up short. And if there is a good block of citizens contrarily refusing to be counted, or dodging the count, the heat ought to be put on them.

—o—

The "Marianne" appellation used in the last congressional election may be changed to "Georgianne" this fall as a result of Congressman Christopher's postmastership recommendation, according to grapevine news from Sedalia's weeping wall.

—o—

Republican "Marianne," by the way, whose qualifications for Congressman were so roundly stigmatized by the Democrats in the last election, was further humiliated by the Democratic administration giving him a $10,000 a year U.S. court appointment in Washington.

Politics moves in mysterious ways its wonders to perform.

That basso voice you hear is moaning: "Boy, I'm feeling' mighty low. Please pass the Sunshine cake."

—o—

That story about the boa constrictor tying up an automatic washing machine reminds fathers of the imaginary snakes seen by them in the intricate mechanism of modern apparatuses they try to repair.

—o—

A commendable activity of the Sedalia Lions Club Blind Committee is focusing attention of the public on "White Cane Week" May 15 to 21. When you see a person using a white cane give him or her the right of way if you are driving an automobile. Or assist the blind in crossing streets if you are walking. Promoting safety and better living conditions for those who live in the dark will bring light into their lives and yours.

—o—

During Sedalia's recent windstorms not one flying saucer was seen—but there were plenty of flying shingles. Even the business district trash cans tried to take off, but the result was only a flop.

—o—

All Gaul may have been divided into three parts, unlike the concentrated gall of some persons in their attitude toward others.

"It is with much interest that the people of Maplewood community read of the cleanup campaign for Sedalia. We know it is necessary but we do not believe it is necessary for the people of Sedalia to bring their trash to the outlying communities and dump along our roadsides.

"To date within seeing distance of one of our homes is a filthy old mattress dumped beside the road, something anyone with much less energy could have burned. Business letters, old magazines, order books and so on bearing the names of prominent families. Not just small amounts of trash but huge cartons left to blow over the countryside; also old chairs, stoves and tin cans. One of the few beautiful drives close to town is being ruined by thoughtless people.

"It is not unusual for us to find VERY dead chickens, cats and dogs placed in large paper bags and left in front of our homes.

"We resent this and will ACTIVELY campaign against it being done. I wonder how these people in town would like our trash, along with their own, brought back to their yards and streets. We may be forced to do this.

"This letter is written with the consent and cooperation of the extension club of the Maplewood community. We do not wish our names withheld."

Exiled Farmers Plot Anti-Communist Strategy

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—A priest with sad eyes stood on a stage in the National Press building and intoned: "Lord, help thy wandering children to defend and finally redeem our lost freedom."

Before him stood a conglomeration of men from many distant countries—all exiles. Their faces were vaguely familiar, like photographs in an old newspaper. For these were the delegates to the International Peasant Union Congress and included such leaders as Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who once made headlines as prime minister of Poland; Imre Kovacs, secretary general of the once powerful Hungarian Peasant party; and G. M. Dimitrov, a stormy politician of Bulgaria.

After World War I when this writer spent two years in the Balkans, these peasant leaders were considered socialists and radicals by the then rulers of Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Later, they came to head the governments of their countries as left-of-center parties somewhat similar to the British Labor government of today.

But when Moscow took over, the first thing the Russian commissars did was to line the key members of the Peasant party up against the wall and shoot them. Moscow recognized the Agrarians, like British socialism, to be the greatest threat to successful communism.

So, this week in Washington, about 100 of the exiles who managed to escape are staging the International Peasant Union Congress, trying to form the skeleton of a "great internationale" which someday may overthrow communism in Eastern Europe.

They report that in Hungary less than 1 per cent of the farmers have joined the Communist collectives; that a new Buchenwald torture camp is located on an island in the Danube; that the independent peasant of the Balkans is the chief enemy of communism.

Chief hope of these peasant leaders is to get U.S. backing for internal revolts.

NOTE—American hero of these exiled leaders is Mark Ethridge, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who, while studying these Balkan countries for the State department, was one of the first to see the importance of encouraging peasant independence.

Duck-Loving Jurist

It didn't get into the papers, but a U.S. district judge, William C. Coleman of Baltimore, served virtual notice on a group of duck-hunters recently that they were free to violate federal game laws as far as he was concerned.

Judge Coleman, who has taken an oath to uphold the laws of the United States, announced that he had more than 30 defendants before his court charged with baiting duck-blinds and that he had agreed with the U.S. attorney's office that they should not be prosecuted.

"We have a miniature reproduction of what we had in prohibition—an unenforceable law," Judge Coleman told Dr. Clarence Cottam, assistant chief of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. "I frankly approve of not prosecuting violators of anti-baiting regulations.

"Ninety-five per cent of the hunting in Maryland is done over baiting," Judge Coleman continued. Then turning directly to Dr. Cottam, he asked: "And what are you going to do about it?"

The meeting before which he spoke was a gathering of sportsmen and wildlife authorities gathered at Annapolis from Maine to Maryland. New England game experts were shocked at the judge's vituperative statements. They were also surprised at the attitude of eastern shore hunters who wanted to keep the duck season open most of the winter.

Judge Coleman was their most vigorous spokesman. He not only wanted the waterfowl season lengthened, but the daily bag increased, and shooting permitted at sundown. Judge Coleman wanted this unrestricted hunting, regardless of Dr. Cottam's explanation that the supply of ducks was not unlimited, that ducks were settling down for feeding at sundown and were mating in January—a period when the judge advocated hunting.

After the stormy session, Dr. Cottam remarked: "This is the ninth meeting of sportsmen I have had in various parts of the country. All of them have realized that if we have unlimited shooting there soon won't be any ducks left. But this meeting is the most selfish I ever attended."

Republican Spat

Grumbling of Republican Congressmen against their "lackluster" leadership, has buzzed backstage for some time. But it finally erupted into the open at an uproarious dinner party on Capitol Hill.

The meeting started as a friendly pep session for the coming election campaign. However, Representative A. L. "Doc" Miller of Nebraska injected some unexpected pep by an angry argument with ex-speaker Joe Martin, the GOP leader, over the charge that Martin wasn't conferring enough with other Republicans.

Martin and House GOP whip Les Arends of Illinois were questioned in a friendly way at first. Then Miller suddenly burst out:

"I can tell you what the trouble is—we have poor leadership. If you fellows conferred more with the rest of us the party would be a lot better off."

The ex-speaker angrily shot back that he couldn't hold as many conferences with House Republicans as he would like to, but that he always kept in touch with them by letters when meetings weren't possible.

"I'm tired of hearing about letters, and about policy meetings in which we take no part and about statements you issue that do not reflect our views," snapped the Nebraska Congressman.

"It all adds up to poor leadership," he repeated.

"Well, now, if you want to get tough—" bristled Martin.

By this time both men were on their feet glaring at each other.

"That's exactly what I mean," shouted Miller

Before more nasty words could be spoken, Representative James Dolliver of Fort Dodge, Iowa, moved to adjourn the proceedings.

PIERS AMBERLEY continued his story of Jon and Syrie's marriage, while Clemency listened intently.

"Syrie had never attempted to make the marriage a success. Jon had always been a playboy and she had never tried to make him anything else. She knew of his hereditary weakness for alcohol which might come out in him, yet when he was utterly miserable and worried about money, she never attempted to stop him from drinking too much. I have heard it said she encouraged him.

"Now she wanted a divorce, but I was determined she shouldn't shelve her responsibilities, and that Jon should have a chance. I reminded her of her lack of money. She might marry again and she might not. I suggested that I pay their debts, give them a home and allow them an income if Jon would pull himself together. The only condition was that Syrie stayed with him.

"I ought to have known when she consented that there was mischief in her mind. I've come to the conclusion that I am rather naive in some ways." His lips twitched.

"Well, Jon was on his mettle, he and I were friends again in the old way. He was ready to fight, I to help him. Within a few months he had stopped drinking altogether. But Syrie was neither happy nor satisfied. I did not realize what she was getting at. I liked to ignore the fact of her existence as much as possible, which was exactly what she did not want me to do."

HE paused, looking down at the glowing end of his cigaret, an expression of intense distaste on his face.

"Things came to a climax one night when I was sitting up very late in my study. I was reading a book I particularly wanted to finish when Syrie came in. She said she couldn't sleep and had come down to talk to me. I really can't go into details of the scene she made, but in the middle of it Jon walked in. He was—is still—crazy about her, and he is of a naturally jealous disposition. I must confess the situation was a compromising one, and open to—misconstruction." His mouth twisted bitterly.

"Jon ought to have known me better—he admitted that for the first time today. But Syrie was desperate; she hated her husband, and imagined that she was still in love with me."

"But why did he stay here if he believed that?" Clemency asked.

"He thought that if he went, she and I would remain here together. Nothing would convince him that I didn't want her. I was harder, more bitter than I had ever been.

"I reminded him of Baba. I said that the child ought not to be made to pay for others' mistakes. As for Syrie, she had been glad enough to remain at the beginning.

"But she had reckoned without her host. She soon wanted to go, and for the second time I let my anger, my desire to make her pay in the only way I knew how, cloud my judgment.

"I meant to punish Syrie. I succeeded in making the knife turn on you. Has it all been destroyed, Clemency?" He stood looking down at her.

She was silent for a moment, studying the handsome, unhappy face above her. Then she shook her head.

"No," she said, "nothing could really do that, as long as—it is me you love." She held out her hand and, as he took it, drew him down beside her.

SYRIE was in the night nursery when after dinner that evening Clemency passed through, ready to go for a drive with Piers.

Syrie glanced at Clemency unsmilingly, and then looked down at the magazine in her hands. She had done all that was necessary; it was not in her to ask forgiveness—or try to explain away her conduct. All pretense of any friendly feeling was finished between them. She had more reason to be bitter than Clemency had; she had lost.

But, thought Clemency as she went downstairs, she will always hate me.

Piers was waiting outside with the car. He helped her in and, taking the wheel beside her, drove off.

They had traveled even farther from the house than that first time, when Piers stopped the car.

"I don't feel that we have really been alone for a moment all day until now, my precious," he said. "I wish there were a tent here in the desert, and I had the right to keep you in it—just you and I, and be darned to the rest of the world! Tomorrow I am going to take you into Biskra. I phoned Mrs. Sanderson this evening that you were coming, and you are to stay with them until we are married. I shall put up at the hotel. We'll leave Red Aloes to the Jon Amberley family at present—as soon as Baba is well enough to be moved, they are going."

"Oh, Piers, what about them?" she asked. "Can they ever—mend things?"

"Goodness alone knows!" said Piers.

They did not speak of Syrie. Obviously she was Jon's problem. They had at least decided to start on the new road together.

"If you can bear to go back to Red Aloes after our honeymoon, we shall have the house to ourselves," said Piers. "If you hate the place—"

"No. I couldn't hate it!" she exclaimed. "I found you there, and I shall always feel it is our home. We can exorcise the ghosts."

His arm about her, he took her hand and kissed the finger where the temporary engagement diamonds shone again. But when he would have drawn her closer, she held him off a little, her other hand against his shoulder.

He looked down at her a moment; then: "I'm all for laying ghosts," he said, "with bell, book, and candle."

Abundant Living

by

E. STANLEY JONES

I Tim. 1:5; I Cor. 9:19—27

UNDISCIPLINED DESIRES

We have led you to the top of our fourteen-runged ladder and trust you now find yourself victorious over all negativism and inferiority attitudes—a positive, outgoing soul. For two weeks we have been meditating on the negative side of the picture—on people who are inwardly collapsed, afraid, negative. We now turn to the other side of the picture—to those whose desires are very positive, but uncontrolled, undisciplined. If there is danger from life being negative and afraid, there is just as much danger from life being desire-assertive. You may be ruled and ruined by undisciplined desire. Therefore, the next outstanding enemy you must face is number seven, Undisciplined desires.

There is a way of living which may be likened to the horse that lies down in harness and won't move; and there is the other way which may be likened to the horse that runs away and breaks the harness and smashes everything. Abundant living has to find the poise between the two—has to find something between lying down and running away; it must find the constructive, but disciplined, life.

Desires are the God-given forces of the personality and as such are right. Without desire life would turn back to the vegetable and vegetate. Buddha tried to make man victorious over the desires of life by cutting the root of desire itself, so that man would go out into desirelessness, into Nirvana. But you cannot cure the ills of life by reducing life; you cannot get rid of your headaches by getting rid of your head. The remedy of life is not less life, but more life. You must have enough inward life to master outer environment and circumstance.

But if life is to be raised, it can only be raised through disciplined desire. The only way to get rid of a desire is to replace it by a higher desire, or to fasten the already existing desire upon higher ends and higher goals. Desires are the driving forces, and driving forces cannot be taken out of life—they must be redirected through discipline. There are three great elemental desires which have to be converted and controlled and disciplined to great ends: self, sex, and the herd.

O God, we are now at grips with the raw materials of human living; out of them we must fashion a person—Thy person. This raw material is recalcitrant and needs a master: be Thou the Master of my desires. I give the reins into Thy hands. Control them for me; I consent. Amen.

Music Modes

THE opening number of the third annual Spring concert of the Sedalia Men's Choral club will be one of the most popular selections from the grand parade of compositions by Sigmund Romberg; "Stout Hearted Men." The selection is from the musical, "The New Moon," and has been widely adapted to choral singing.

Romberg was born on the 29th of July 1887 in Hungary of musical parentage and received much of his early musical education with his father. He not only studied piano, but mastered other instruments; violin, cello, trumpet, and drums.

His participation in music during his teens can be exemplified in the fact that he directed his own school orchestra when fourteen years of age. He also conducted bands and studied theory, harmony, and counterpoint. Two years later (when he was only 16) he composed a march, dedicated to the Grand Duchess Clotilde.

At twenty he was taken into the army for compulsory military training, but two years later he persuaded his family to permit him to go to New York to be an engraver. When he arrived in the United States he found his desire for the engraving profession not too well founded and consoled himself with employment in a pencil factory.

He later fell back to his musical training and played piano in cafes and in Hungarian restaurants in New York. About this time he wrote his first popular composition; a one step, "Leg of Mutton"—"Some Smoke" and a waltz, "Le Peom."

His success in the music kingdom of the twenties and early thirties was inevitable and the master pieces of musical comedy and light opera began forming in his mind and when they were finally produced and reaped success, they became known as: Passing Shows, Maytime, Magic Melody, Blossom Time, Louis 14th, The Student Prince, Princess Flavia, The Desert Song, The New Moon (from which "Stout Hearted Men" was featured) and Rosalie. In 1932 the very popular composer went to Paris where he wrote the operetta, Rose de France.

Many of his more famous productions were made into motion pictures. The New Moon was filmed twice, as were The Desert Song and Maytime.

During the past war Romberg organized various entertainment units for soldiers and sailors and made extensive tours with those groups. In 1941 he built his own orchestra and has been on tours of the country, from coast to coast various times. The Romberg concert orchestra was recently at the Municipal auditorium on May third in Kansas City.

The orchestra has stopped at recording studios and records of the organization have been in heavy demand.

In 1943 and '44 he urote Up in Central Park and in 1946 added the motion picture, Sunny River to his roster of accomplishments. Songs of merit include: "When I Grow Too Old to Dream"; "Stout Hearted Men"; "Lover Come Back to Me"; "When Hearts are Young"; "Sweetheart"; "Deep in My Heart Dear"; "One Alone"; "Desert Song"; "Riff Song" "Who Are We to Say."

This concert will be the highlight of the year for the thirty some men that constitute the Choral club and with such selections as "Stout Hearted Men" from the pens of men like Romberg it will probably be the top concert of the year in choral singing.

The Sedalia Public Library has three fine additions to its musical section. They are: The Orchestra by Adam Carse, The Education of The Concert Goer, by Tomer Ulrich and a short History of Musie by Donald N. Ferguson.

Ruth Millett

"Tolerate tantrums as an emotional outlet," says a group of psychiatrists, eager to advise parents how they can help prevent neurosis in children.

Well, I watched a mother the other day "tolerating a tantrum," and it was not a pretty sight.

Her little darling had been frustrated in public by having Mama say "No" when he wanted her to say "Yes."

Whereupon the ininhibited little cherub, aged about 5, started pounding his mother with his fists, kicking her in the shins, and screaming to high heaven so that everybody in the store where this scene was taking place turned to look in shocked amazement.

Mama, I suspect, had for a long time been doing just what the psychiatrists advise — tolerating her young son's temper tantrums.

Maybe Mother Gets The Neurosis

Maybe she didn't mind tolerating them so much in the privacy of her own home, though I should imagine being kicked by a 5-year-old wouldn't be pleasant even if the kicking tantrum had no witnesses to add embarrassment to injury.

But that mother looked anything but happy when her child let her have it in public with flying fists and kicking feet.

In fact, she looked so embarrassed at the scene her little darling was creating and completely lost as to what to do about it I wondered if her uninhibited child might not be just a trifle hard on the state of her own mental health.

I did hear a calm-faced, gray-haired onlooker remark to her companion: "Can you imagine our ever putting up with anything like that from our children when they were small?"

But then, of course they brought up children when the proper instrument for dealing with a temper tantrum was a paddle.

The Doctor Says—

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Many persons' greatest difficulty is getting away from the common complaints in modern society. Nearly everyone from time to time becomes tired and loses all zest for work or play. The cause is usually not hard to find—excessive work for too long a period, lack of sleep, dietary indiscretions or some similar fault of living. The remedy lies in correcting the cause—or at least not doing it again.

This kind of fatigue, however, is not much of a problem. That tired feeling which is chronic and persistent and the cause of which cannot be easily identified is much more serious. This type of fatigue is particularly common among housewives, many of whom are constantly exceeding their strength.

The strain of children cannot be pinned down on any one event nor is it easy to remedy—after all what can one do about it? There are other factors besides children which enter into chronic fatigue. Inability to relax or play, difficulty in getting away from the problems of every-day life, lack of sleep, a poor diet, and just plain too much to do are the most common.

Sometimes a diseased condition is at fault. A slight anemia, for example, can and does produce lack of customary energy. Any chronic infection or almost any disturbed bodily function is also likely to produce that tired feeling. Carrying too much weight, flat feet and innumerable other body conditions tend to produce excessive fatigue or to make that tired feeling worse.

Of course, if a definite disease condition can be identified, it can usually be remedied. This is the first step in combatting fatigue. Should nothing be found, then it becomes necessary to analyze and study various factors such as those mentioned.

The proper balance between work, recreation and sleep has to be worked out. Change of occupation is not often recommended because it usually is not possible. Many people need to learn how to relax when they have the chance. The adoption of a balanced diet with plenty of vitamins is beneficial when the abnormal fatigue is at least partly due to faulty diet. Stimulating drugs are dangerous and should not be used unless upon a physician's advice.

Need Careful Schedule

Everything which can be remedied should be, including such factors as too much smoking, too much alcohol, poor diet and the like. In far too many cases there is little to be found and perhaps even less which can be done about it.

This is a frustrating situation and no one yet has a perfect answer. Perhaps all that can be done is to become aware of those influences which are producing a state of chronic tiredness, remedy those which one can, and be prepared to cure the others as soon as circumstances allow.

May Soon be in Class by Phone

ST. LOUIS, May 11—(AP)—Children unable to attend classes may soon be going to school by telephone in St. Louis.

School-to-home telephone service for shut-in students will be set up on an experimental basis at several public schools here. Start of the program awaits only approval by the State Board of Education.

Three pieces of equipment are used in the hookup. A compact speaker-receiver is installed at the student's bedside. A school amplifier enables the student's voice to be heard throughout the classroom. A portable speaker is mounted near the teacher.

The plan was worked out by public school and telephone company officials, Superintendent of Instruction Philip J. Hickey said.

"It has tremendous possibilities," he declared.

Eighteen public school teachers here are teaching 82 handicapped children in their homes now. The most instruction any child receives is six hours a week.

With the new service, the shut-in child would keep almost normal school hours.

Hickey believes benefits from the project will not be confined to education.

"The feeling they are lost from their classmates is a demoralizing factor toward recovery," Hickey said. "But the voices of the teacher and student friends coming into the home each day would restore that old sense of once again belonging to the class.

"The child would answer the morning roll call, recite in turn and participate in many worthwhile activities."

Aerial Queens Featured With Kelly-Miller Circus Coming Wed. May 17th

Greatest European Circus Star, the celebrated famous Evelynia Rossi

Billed as the greatest thriller of all time. Said to be only one of her sex to ever accomplish such daring feats of the air, this dainty and petite lady star, who has thrilled all Europe with skill and daring on the high flying trapeze daily performs her forward somersault through space from the swinging bar many feet above the sawdust covered rings, catching the trapeze on return by her toes and heels.

This little lady, who seemingly has no knowledge of fear, plunges headlong from the dome of the complete somersaults in mid-air, landing in one of the three rings having no safety net of any source.

An "aerial ballet," comprising the four Misses above, presenting a thrilling and spectacular performance of complete harmony.

Al G. Kelly-Miller Bros. Circus the first real big circus to visit Sedalia in seven years, have spared no expense in bringing a five continent double menagerie of the world's finest animals.

Another of the many new features on this year's program is the World Famous Cantolina Family, of unparalelled bareback riding stars, performing the most unbelievable feats a-horse-back, headed by Gustinio Cantolina acrobatic, somersaulting, bareback riding comedian who will keep you roaring with laughter during the entire presentation of this feature.

MOTHER'S DAY TREAT AT 50 DRIVE-IN

totaled nearly $15,000,000,000 for the year. They can be broken down in round figures as follows:

2,000,000	on the executive payroll
7,500	on the legislative payroll
3,500	on the judicial payroll
1,600,000	on the military payroll
3,000,000	on the military and veterans pensions and aid rolls
140,000	on the civil pensions rolls (including those who make contributions to be matched by the Federal Government)
1,250,000	on the dependent children rolls
86,000	on the aid to the blind rolls
3,100,000	receiving farm aid payments
2,500,000	receiving old age assistance payments outside of the contributory system

This summary does not include the 1,500,000 members of the National Guard and organized military reserves who receive regular checks for training. Nor does it include 2,500,000 beneficiaries of old age and survivor insurance or 500,000 in the Railroad Retirement System. If you add these, there are some 17,000,000 people receiving regular checks from the Federal Government.

Israel Issues Mine Warnings

TEL AVIV, Israel —(AP)— The The Israeli army is pushing a drive to fake the people of Israel "mine conscious." Multi-colored posters are being affixed to public buildings throughout the country. More than 100,000 leaflets in a dozen languages are being distributed to school children.

All warn that there are still thousands of unexploded mines, rounds of ammunition and hand grenades strewn about the Israeli countryside—left over from the days of the Arab-Jew war. The death rate has run high at times, so the army is out to try to stop it.

Two-Way Stream

A small stream of water spurts from the bank of a railroad that is cut through the continental divide at Ridgecrest, N. C. The stream is split by a boulder, so that part of its water flows to the Atlantic Ocean and the rest to the Gulf of Mexico.

Largest Lead Users

Greatest volume of lead is used in the electrical and chemical fields. Storage batteries and electrical cable covering account for approximately one-half of the consumption in the United States.

Out Our Way — By J. R. Williams

Life with the Tax Gremlins: 12

EDITOR'S NOTE: "Life With the Tax Gremlins" is a 12-part thumbnail story of the nation's complicated tax structure. The characters: Uncle Sam himself, his Gremlin, State and Local Tax Gremlins, and you—the taxpayers. It's from an "American Affairs" pamphlet published by the National Industrial Conference Board of New York, an independent, non-profit fact-finding institution supported by business, labor and other groups.

Then, after all, Uncle Sam's own pockets are empty. He is standing knee-deep in deficit, against the background of a mighty national debt, trying to explain the situation to the taxpayer.

What has become of the money?

It is easy enough to draw a circle to represent the dollar as a pie, and then cut it into slices, showing so much for national defense, so much for veterans, so much for interest on the national debt, aid to foreign countries, social security, subsidies to agriculture, and all; but the truth is that the Federal Government itself is very dim about what happens to the money.

The Pay-Off

The Hoover Commission on the Organization of the Executive Branch of Government said: "There is no formal accounting plan for the government as a whole. As a consequence there is no place where the complete financial picture of our government can be seen. We have not had, to this day, a system of accounting that shows the government's true revenues and expenses for any year, that provides for property or cost accounting, or for a positive control of assets, liabilities, and appropriations."

And on the cost of national defense it said: "Our military budget system has broken down. Congress allocates billions without accurate knowledge as to why they are necessary or what they are going to be used for."

Moreover, something happens to money before it is spent. That is inflation, which causes prices to rise and the cost of government to increase and makes more work for the Gremlins.

The deficit in which Uncle Sam is standing will presently be translated into more national debt which will increase taxation again and make living with the Gremlins more desperate.

The debt behind Uncle Sam represents past inflation. Inflation, remember, is itself taxation, only that instead of taking all of it out of your current income it taxes part of it out of your savings. The dollar you saved 10 years ago now is worth 60 cents when you go to spend it. Therefore, the Gremlins work not only as you have seen them here but in your safety deposit box while you sleep.

What keeps Uncle Sam's pockets empty?

Representative Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts counts it up as follows:

In last year's federal budget there were nearly 100 different programs operating through the different departments and agencies of the government which were making payments in the form of salaries to employes, aids, grants, subsidies, benefits, pensions, and other forms of assitance and contribution to approximately 13,000,000 people in the form of regular direct federal payments. ROTO BALING seals in the leaves

seals out the rain

The Roto-Baler rolls the windrow into a bale with leaves wrapped inside, protected from the rain.

To feed it simply unroll the bale . . . and you have the hay just as it was in the field — soft, leafy, with the color and protein still there.

Rolled bales shed rain like a thatched roof. They store compactly, will not buckle, may be unrolled, or fed whole in the open feed rack.

The ONE-MAN ROTO-BALER is priced for home ownership. Stop in and talk to us about a Roto-Baler for your farm.

Reduce Czech Envoys

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—The United States today ordered a wholesale ouster of Czech diplomats from this country and charged that Czechoslavakia's Soviet satellite government is unable to control its own foreign policy.

The American counterstroke, following a Czech ejection of about 40 U. S. diplomats this week will send an estimated 22 out of the 33 Czech representatives homeward "within a reasonable time."

The Prague government was ordered to close its consulates in Pittsburgh and Cleveland, leaving only the Washington embassy and the New York consulate to operate at a reduced level.

Furthermore, the state department declared in a coldly angry statement "this government is examining the situation not only with respect to the present but also for the future"—a clear hint of possible further moves against the Czechs.

The action was announced by the state department as the latest in a series of clashes with the Eastern European state which, in its pre-Communist days, was closely tied to the United States in friendship and trade.

Previously the United States had closed the Czech consulate at Chicago after the Czech government had cracked down on the United States information service office at Prague and Bratislava and forced the recall of American press attache Joseph C. Kolarek.

The Czech government made the usual charges of spy activities on the part of the United States, which hotly denied them.

Order Keeping Up Dogs And Pets

Dog owners must keep their pets at home, keep them from touring the neighborhood in accordance with an order from Chief of Police Ed Neighbors who said the order was issued because of so many complaints of various Sedalians.

Recently the order was first announced and since that time and up until Saturday twenty-one dogs, some pure bred pets others mongrels, have been picked up by the pound master, Bill Hatfield. The dogs are being kept at the city pound until the owners can call for them at which time a small care fee is being charged.

The dogs are kept at the pound for at least three days before being disposed of. After the three day limit the dogs are disposed of, however, Hatfield said he has keep the better dogs several days longer to give the owners a chance to claim them.

With the coming of spring and the making of flower beds and other gardens, many complaints were made to the police of dogs roaming through the garden and in many cases damaging them extensively.

Eight B-36's To Fly Over The U. S.

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 13—(AP)—Eight B-36s of the 7th bombardment wing at Carswell air base will fan out across the United States next Saturday over more than 20 cities on flight routes totaling more than 25,000 miles, to give millions of persons a "look-see" at the world's largest bomber on armed forces day.

Air force headquarters in Washington confirmed today that the eight flight routes have been scheduled tentatively, depending on the long-range weather forecast for next week-end which will be available Wednesday.

Cities over which the planes are scheduled to fly include Lincoln and Omaha, Neb.. Jefferson City, Mo., Little Rok, Texarkana, Fort Smith, Ark., Pond Creek, Enid, Oklahoma City, El Reno and Clinton, in Oklahoma.

Appointments Anticipated At Council Meeting

The City Council will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting Monday night starting at 7:30 o'clock. During the meeting it is anticipated some appointments will be made.

The council held a closed caucus at the City Hall, Friday night, with Mayor Herb E. Studer.

Blown Out Of A Big Bomber

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 13—(AP)—Search planes droned over a wide Arizona area today, searching for an Air Force bombardier who was blown out a window of a giant B-36 bomber yesterday.

First Lt. Freeman B. Horner, 32, was presumed dead. Horner was a victim of what is called explosive depressurization. The plane was flying at 28,000 feet, 80 miles south of Phoenix. and the cabin of the plane was "pressurized" for 8,000 feet. Suddenly the window near which Horner was sitting was blown out.

When this occurred, the heavier air inside the B-36 exploded out into the thin air through which the bomber was flying—and Horner was blown out the window.

Horner was wearing a parachute but the Air Force gave no indication that it was believed to have opened.

In Forth Worth, Horner's wife waited in her small home for the outcome of the search. The three Horner children, Wayne Greg, 2; Gary Bernard, 3, and Shirley Ann, 5, were told by their mother today that their father was believed to be dead.

"It was the hardest job I ever had and now I'm all right," she said.

Liberty Bell Replica Here

Display At Court House In Drive Of Independence

John Joe McGrath, chairman of the Pettis County Savings committe has announced the local arrangements for the opening of the Treasury's Independence Drive, here Monday. The program for the drive, however, will not take place until Tuesday. At this time a replica of the original Liberty Bell will be here and will be displayed at the Pettis county court house Tuesday night.

This drive is dedicated to the encouragement of thrift will urge Americans to "Save for your Independence" according to McGrath.

Mayor Herb Studer, has issued a proclamation, said a message to the Citizens of Sedalia, asking their whole hearted support of the bond drive. In his proclamation, the mayor called attention to the opening date which is Monday and asking all business houses and residents to display the United States flag.

Bell For Each State

There are forty-nine of the replica bell in the United States. There will be a bell in every state and in the District of Columbia. The drive will be launched at Independence Hall in Philadelphia on May 15 with ceremonies in which President Truman and Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder will participate. A record of the peal of the Liberty will herald the opening of the drive on a four-network radio broadcast.

During this tour for the Missouri bell the people will not only have the opportunity of seeing the bell but for the first time since 1835 it will be possible for them to hear the tone of the bell.

President Launch Drive

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—The treasury launches Monday a nationwide $650,000,000 savings bonds drive to run through July 4.

President Truman is scheduled to get into the drive-starting activities Monday night, speaking briefly from Chicago on objectives of the campaign in a hookup of radio networks and television.

The President will speak at 9:55 p. m., E. S. T. The program, which also will feature other speakers, will last from 9:30 to 10 p. m., E. S. T.

The 1940 series E savings bonds campaign has been entitled the "Independence Drive" and based on this slogan: "Save for your Independence: Buy U. S. Savings bonds."

Fifty three reproductions of the original Liberty Bell—exact except as to the crack—will be transported on local tours in every state and in the territories in furtherance of the campaign.

Sales of savings bonds already are running well ahead of redemptions, although sales for the first four month of 1950, totaling $1,431,146,000, lagged 8.8 per cent below the comparable period of 1949.

Redemptions for the 1950 period were $302,808,000 below sales, although the $1,128,338,000 total of cash-in reflected a 3 per cent rise from the first four months of 1949.

For 1949 as a whole, sales totaled $4.207,598,000 and cash-ins $3,447,896,000, giving the government a $759,702,000 edge.

The $655,000,000 goal is a modest one—little more than sales would normally run in the drive period, as indicated by these 1949 monthly sales figures: May $321,671,000; June $358,762,000 and July $377,813,000.

Big Pow Wow By Democrats In Chicago

By Marion Burson

CHICAGO, May 13—(AP)—Democratic leaders counseled today the party can't win the 1950 elections by "pussyfooting" but must campaign, as in 1948, with "guns smoking hot."

Speakers at a national committee meeting opening an unprecedented three-day party conference and Jefferson jubilee hit a common keynote — a warning against over-optimism.

Chairman Bayle Speaks Up

"Look what happened to the Republicans in '48" was the chord of caution sounded by Democratic Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., the new vice chairman, Mrs. India Edwards, and leaders of the party's Senate and House campaign committees.

Three thousand top Democrats from all parts of the country are in town for what probably will go down as the biggest political powwow outside a national convention in the nation's history.

The climax of the big show comes Monday night with a major speech by President Truman in the stadium, preceded by a gala parade.

Senator Anderson of New Mexico summed up the Democrats' 1950 campaign problem by saying:

Should Go In Scared

"It would be better for us if the Democrats went into this election scared and then fought as they fought in '48—with their backs to the wall, with their guns smoking hot, and with their colors nailed to the mast."

And Mrs. Edwards of Washington, D. C., elected today to succeed Mrs. Charles W. Tillett of North Carolina as vice chairman, said she hoped Democrats would remember why they lost in 1946 and won in 1948 and act accordingly.

Mr. Truman, she said, was reelected two years ago "because he campaigned fearlessly on the 1948 Democratic platform.

"He did no pussy-footing such as some people did in '46. And you remember we lost in '46 because of that pussy-footing."

Socialized Medicine

CHICAGO, May 13—(AP)—A physician-member of the Democratic national committee said today party conference discussion Monday of medical legislation has been "stacked" in favor of what he called "socialized medicine."

A spokesman for the committee, however, said the program is intended to give all sides a hearing and there is no intention to soft pedal anyone.

Dr. R. B. Robins of Camden, Ark., made the charge. He has been lined up with the American Medical Association in criticizing a compulsory health insurance plan made by Oscar E. Ewing, federal security administrator under President Truman. He is a member of the AMA committee opposing the plan.

Ewing is among the speakers scheduled to discuss health and welfare bills at a panel discussion during the Democratic national conference Monday. Robins also is on the program.

Robins told newsmen the panel "is pretty well stacked for the proponents of compulory sickness insurance and socialized medicine." He said he would have only five minutes and he is the only one who is slated to represent the opposition of organized medicine.

Small Tornadoes Strike Galveston

GALVESTON, Tex., May 13—(AP) — Small tornadoes, violent winds, heavy hail and rain whipped scattered parts of Texas and Louisiana today.

The only known Texas casualty was as man who drowned during a squall in the Gulf of Mexico. Lightning killed a man in Louisiana.

A twister smacked the edge of Abilene, in West Texas, late today. Earlier, a small tornado dipped on farms about 50 miles southeast of Alexandria, La., injuring an unidentified woman.

Windstorms buffeted Alto and Lufkin in East Texas, damaging buildings and telephone lines and tearing up crops and timber.

Heavy, damaging hail fell at Abilene, Waco, near Sweetwater, near Lubbock, and at Alto, all in Texas.

North Texas downpours sent the Trinity river just above flood stage, but the situation didn't appear seroius.

Being A Mother

A mother is more than a woman
Who has given birth to a child,
A mother is someone special
On whom the Lord has smiled,
A mother is one who earns the name
Through patience, love and care,
And everything she possesses
Is for her child to share;
A mother is never guilty
Of a moment of neglect
And she leaves not strewn behind her
Little lives that she has wrecked;
No, the woman who is a mother
Has it deep within her heart,
And on the stage of life she plays
A difficult leading part;
Down through the years day by day
It's the joy and peace she brings,
It's the understanding, the love, the faith
In big and little things;
No matter how dark the clouds may be
No matter how bad the deed,
There's a mother's embrace and a mother's prayer
There in that hour of need;
For whether the child is her child
Or one who belonged to another
It's the things she does and the things she says
That makes a woman a mother.

G. O. P. Hurls More Critical Questions

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Republicans hurled six more critical questions at President Truman today as he headed eastward from his western tour today. For one thing they asked whether he still regarded the charge of Communist-in-governmnt a red herring.

National Chairman Guy Gabrielson and Chairmen Brewster and Leonard W. Hall of the Senate and House GOP campaign committees put the queries after saying the ten questions asked of the President as he began the trip have brought only "more promises—and name calling."

Rephrase Some Questions

Most of the questions asked today rephrased part of the original ten, but two of them were new, as follows:

"Does Mr. Truman still regard the issue of driving Communists from government as a red herring?"

"Does Mr. Truman agree that the record of the 80th Congress shows the country can only hope for a balanced budget if a Republican Congress is elected this fall?"

The three Republican leaders in a statemnt issued through the party's national committee said the President "has paved the Oregon trail with promises. With them he tries to hide the record of performance."

They added:

"When he reaches Chicago, we hope he will stop trying to fool the voters. The once-amusing fiction of a 'non-political' junket has grown stale."

May Have To Change Schooling

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—GI students boning up on dancing, personality development and bar tending under the Veterans Vocational training program may have to change courses.

A ban on such "recreational and vocational" subjects—unless a GI can show he needs the knowledge to make a living—was included in a bill passed yesterday by the house.

The bill wasa imed at correcting alleged abuses in the GI school program. President Truman has said that these abuses waste millions in taxpayers' dollars.

A similar measure in different form has been passed by the Senate. The differences will have to be ironed out in conferences between the two chambers.

Freedom Is Very Short For Escapees

Paul Whiteman And Harry Harger Break Out Of County Jail

Freedom was brief for Paul Alfred Whiteman, 25, and Harry Arthur Harger, Jr., 23, who escaped from the Pettis county jail shortly before 5:00 o'clock Saturday evening. Both were back in jail before 5:30 after they were apprehended by Police Officers Ted Brown and A. C. Gardner, near Twentieth street and Washington avenue.

Escaped Prison Farm

Whiteman and Harger are awaiting trial in the Pettis county criminal division of the circuit court on charges of auto theft in connection with the wrecking of a stolen car west of Dresden on highway 50 at "Dead Man's Curve" on April 17. At the time of their arrest, the two were fugitives from the Missouri state prison where they had escaped three days earlier from a prison farm. They were serving sentences on burglary.

The two were arrested by Sergeant William Barton, when they made the curve too fast and the car overturned. Barton was approaching in a patrol car enroute to Kansas City, and recognized the two and took them into custody.

Back In "Big Four"

They had been held in "Big Four" of the county jail pending their trial in criminal court. On the pretense of wanting to take a bath they were released from "Big Four." Instead of taking the bath, they went upon the top part of the cell block, knocked a hole in the roof and climbed out.

Within a few minutes the disappearance was noted by Clark Woolery, deputy sheriff, who notified the Sedalia police department. Brown and Gardner was just pulling away when Acting Desk Sergeant R. B. "Jiggs" Vickrey called to them and gave them the information.

The patrol car then headed out in the direction of south part of town and came upon them doubling back across Washington avenue and Twentieth street. The state patrol was also notified of the escape.

Neither had much to say about their brief breathing of fresh air.

Marriage License Issued

Albert J. Warren and Matilda Louise Anderson, both of Sedalia.

Sixty Per Cent Of Quota In Cancer Crusade Is Raised

The Cancer Crusade under the sponsorship of the Business and Professional Womens' club, has achieved a total of 60 per cent of the Pettis county quota. The amount to be raised in this crusade is $3289.00, and those who have not sent in their contributions may mail them to Miss Lois Fricke, Bothwell hotel; Miss Phyllis Bush, treasurer, 406½ South Ohio, or to Mrs. Bertha Rose Welch, 316 South Ohio.

The Hughesville community Cancer Crusade is being carried forward by Mrs. C. M. Marshall of that city. Any resident of that area wishing to aid in the continuing fight againt cancer, may send or bring their donations to Mrs. Marshall.

Clinic At Hospital

The Pettis county detection clinic at the Bothwell hospital is set up every fourth Friday of each month for the benefit of all citizens of this county. Remember, 50 per cent of all known cases of cancer, may be checked in time, if prompt diagnosis is made. This community is exceptionally fortunate to have a detection center, one of five in the state of Missouri, and it is a civic reponsibility of everyone to aid in maintaining this aid.

The cooperation of the theater owners, Joe Ruddick and J. T. Ghosen in allowing collections to be taken in the theater lobbies is much appreciated with $200.00 being added to the Cancer Crusade fund through this means. Mrs. John W. Welch chairman of theater collections was in charge of the arrangements, for the BPW club.

Spread Of Rail Strike In The East And West

Conference Held Breaks Up With No Settlement

CHICAGO, May 13—(AP)—Both sides in the locomotive firemen's strike met together with a government mediator today but the conference broke up without a settlement.

There was no indication when a new meeting aimed at reaching an agreement in the dispute would be held. The strike, meanwhile, spread in the east and west.

Francis A. O'Neill, Jr., chairman of the National (railway) Mediation Board, did say, however, that more such conferences would be held later in Chicago.

He added:

"We said there was a deadlock yesteray. Today all we can say is that the case is not settled."

O'Neill said there was a full and frank dicussion of all issues and the conferenees have returned to their own groups for further discussion.

But even as the union representatives were attending the conference, the Brotherhood of Locomottive Firemen and Enginemen extended its strike to the Southwestern district of the Union Pacific railroad and ought to cut the Pennsylvania railroad's operations in the east and south.

The move had the effect of stretching the strike operations from coast to coast, although only a relatively few train are involved in the new strike development.

Directed Not Man Trains

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen directed its members to refuse to man Union Pacific trains on the southwest district between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles.

At Los Angeles K. B. Walton, acting vice president of the firemen's brotherhood said the men are being pulled out at 6 p. m. Pacific day-light time," because the Union Pacific has been helping the Santa Fe operate by allowing the trains to use their yards."

In Chicago, a union spokesman said he understood those trains must pass over 100 miles of tracks owned by the strike-hampered Santa Fe.

From Omaha, P. J. Lynch, UP vice president in charge of operations, said of Walton's charge: "It's a fantastic statement with no basis of truth whatsoever."

Picket Lines Set Up

The union also set up picket lines at its important division point of Harrisburg, Pa., in an effort to halt eastbound traffic to Philadelphia and New York and southbound traffic to Baltimore and Washington. The union charged the PRR violated a "neutrality agreement," by operating freight trains in strike territory with supervisory personnel.

Traffic volume on the unstruck portions of some of the lines has been cut sharply. The Southern railway laid off more than 100 workers in its Memphis yards, which is outside the strike area. The railroad said business has slumped from the usual 1,100 to about 400 cars daily.

At Knoxville, Tenn., three Southern Railway switchmen have been charged with shooting into a locomotive. District Attorney General Hal H. Clements, Jr., said the men signed statements. One trainman was wounded in the arm and another was struck with a spent bullet when a locomotive was fired at Thursday.

The three, released on bond of $2,000 each, are Charles Anderson Watson (age unavailable, R. M. Norman, 36, and Paul Brackett, 36.

President Truman is due in Chicago tomorrow for a Democratic rally and there was some speculation he might be asked to look into the dead-lock.

However, O'Neill said he does not plan to see the President. He said he is keeping John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, informed of developments.

He has made a wonderful record for himself and his team at Central. The team finished third in the N. A. I B. basketball tournament in Kansas City, this year.

Speaker For S-C Commencement

M. Earle Collins, Ph. D., president of Tarkio college, Tarkio, Mo., will be the commencement speaker Thursday night, May 17, to the graduates of the Smith-Cotton high school. He is a member of several highly rated educational, religious and civic groups. He was a member of the state speakers bureau, Missouri War Fund, and Missouri State Constitution revision. He was his county's chairman in the first and second war loans.

Intensive Hunt To Run Down Racketeers

Cross Checking On Gambling And Crime Operations

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Senate investigators said today they will hunt down big-time gamblers and racketeers with the same methods which federal agents used to send Al Capone to prison.

These methods will be: a study of federal income tax returns checked against private bookkeeping files of underworld operators.

Al Capone was the king-pin of racketeers in the prohibition era—until federal agents tagged him for evasion of income taxes.

Senator Tobey (R-NH) said this same procedure will be "elementary" in a special Senate committee's investigation of crime and gambling throughout the United States.

And Senator Wiley (R-Wis) said the underworld would have no fear of a Senate inquiry which lacks "a complete understanding of their income tax background" and "their complex bookkeeping records."

"We need skilled accountants as much or more than we need the proverbial 'private eyes,'" Wiley said in a statement.

Both Tobey and Wiley are members of the special committee.

Halley Head Staff

This checking and cross-checking of gambling and crime operations will be handled by a committee staff of 10 or 12 aides headed by chief counsel Rudolph Halley.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) announced Halley's appointment today in the first move to organize a staff. Halley is a former U. S. district attorney for southern New York and once was chief counsel for the Senate war frauds investigating committee. He also served on the staff of a Senate investigating committee headed by President Truman when he was a member of the Senate.

Kefauver told reporters he will discuss with Halley Monday the appointment of an associate counsel and other staff aides.

Tobey said the special committee has plenty of legal precedent for going into the income tax returns of crime suspects. He added he expects local law enforcement officials to cooperate with Senators in exposing gangland business operations.

On this score, Tobey pointed to the New York police raid on the headquarters of big-time gambler Frank Erickson. A few days before the raid, Erickson had admitted to a Senate subcommittee—studying anti-gambling legislation—that his gambling business earned $100,000 a year after taxes.

Kefauver also stressed the fact that the committee will depend heavily on local officials and crime commissions to supply information. "We expect to use people in many areas of the country," Kefauver said. He added that special investigators will work in various regions of the country assembling information.

William B. Rich Will Be Speaker For Rotary

The Rotary Club will meet Monday noon at the Bothwell hotel at which time William B. Rich of the Missouri Public Service Corp., will give a classification talk.

The program chairman will be Dr. Roy M. Keller.

No Vital Changes In Policy

Big Three End Council With Confidence To Build Freedom

By Glenn Williams

LONDON, May 13—(AP)—The big three Foreign Ministers ended a three-day cold war council tonight confident the West can build freedom into a dynamic force that will secure defenses against Communism and win prosperity at the same time.

The whole sickle-shaped realm of struggle ringing the Russian-led Communist world was the field of their discussion.

"The ministers agreed upon the main lines of their policy in all parts of the world," said a communique—the fifth and longest since Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman began their deliberations.

They expressed determination to fight "Communist imperalism" in southeast Asia with firm encouragement and support for new independent states there.

Committee Of Experts

The three ministers decided to set up a committee of experts to consult with other interested governments, particularly Germany and Italy, on increasing migration from overcrowded Europe.

½a—jpu A

They declared themselves basically in agreement on the importance of the "political development of the peoples of Africa" and the improvement of their economic and social conditions.

The desire for an early treaty of peace and independence for Austria was reaffirmed.

And finally, three diplomatic chiefs agreed to meet again in New York before the next meeting of the United Nations in September.

No spectacular changes in policy were disclosed. None had been expected. In general, more and better application of old policies appeared to be the general decision.

To contend with the threat of Communism to states in southeast Asia, the ministers decided on three policies:

1. Coordination of efforts to halt arms smuggling to such guerrilla leaders as Ho Chi Minh in Indo-China, the Chinese band leaders in Malaya, and the rebel groups in Burma.

2. Take every opportunity to expose the aims of 'Communist imperalism" which seeks to advance its aims by appealing to Nationalism of the people.

3. Encourage the governments in the area to collaborate on new measures of economic development to raise the general standard of living.

Dr. Rutledge Given Release Under Bond

FORT MADISON, Ia., May 13—(AP)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., convicted a year ago of slaying the man accused of seducing his wife, was released today from the Iowa state penitentiary on a $40,000 bond.

The bond will enable the St. Louis pediatrician to remain free until the appeal from his conviction is heard in November by the state supreme court.

Dr. Rutledge, 29, was sentenced to 7 years in the state penitentiary for killing Byron C. Hattman. The 29-year-old St. Louis aircraft engineer was slain in a Cedar Rapids, Ia., hotel room in a fight Dec. 14, 1949.

Bread Like Mama Made Has Built-In Secret

By William E. Macklin

KINSLEY, Kas., May 13—(AP)—Western Kansans have mixed up a new loaf of bread they hope will become as well known elsewhere as their famous sunflowers and infamous dust storms.

Conceived by a farmer who yearned for a slice of bread like mother used to bake, the new bread has picked up fans steadily since the first loaf was sold here in early February.

One Western Kansas bakery chain making the new bread reports white loaf sales have increased 400 per cent.

The bread even went to Washington in March. Sen. Schoeppel (R.-Kas.) served it to fellow legislators in the capitol.

What's the new bread got that the old loaf hasn't? Just 16 per cent more flour.

The bakery recipe calls for 116 pounds of flour in a batch of dough usually mixed with 100 pounds. Of this total, six pounds is finely-ground whole wheat flour. No additional water is added, so the dough is stiffer. Baking takes longer.

One hundred per cent whole wheat flour, 6 pounds.
White flour, 110 pounds.
Water, 63 pounds.
Yeast, 2 pounds 5 ounces.
Salt, 2 pounds 6 ounces.
Powdered skimmed milk, 6 pounds.
Sugar, 5 pounds
Shortening, 4 pounds.
Mycoban enrichment tablets, 3 ounces.

The baked loaf is more solid, weighs 19 ½ ounces and sells for 15 cents here on the prairie. A firm producing this loaf said its regular bread weighs 18 ounces and sold for 14 cents

About all the new bread flunks is the squeeze test. It doesn't mash together easily between the thumb and finger like popular sliced loaves.

"Why It's So Good"

"That's why it's so good," says the loaf's creator, Morris A. Coover of Kinsley. "It's got body."

"Why I've had letters from at least 100 miles and bakeries outside the state asking for the formula. I supply it without charge. So does the Western Kansas Development Association of Garden City. "We are launching plans now to put the new bread on a national scale. And our only interest is to see more wheat used."

Memories gave Coover, who farms 1,280 acres of wheatland, the idea.

"I suppose," he said, "a man never forgets the aroma from that home bread baking—and the flavor of a warm slice of newly-made bread with a heavy layer of butter soaking down into it."

Coover recalled the savory memory of his Kansas boyhood one day along with a personal inventory of his current bread consumption. At 50 he noted that he had been eating less and less bread as the years went by.

Maybe, he mused, more flour in bread would make it taste better and help nibble into the wheat surplus. With no financial interest in baking, nor domestic science background, Coover took his idea to James F. Lloyd, baker in this Southwestern Kansas town of 2,500 persons.

They dabbled in dough and produced the "Coover loaf" or "farm loaf" as some call it. One day Lloyd baked 15 loaves and sold them without explanation to 15 customers who came in to his shop and asked merely for "a loaf of white bread."

Five of the 15 customers, an encouraging 33 per cent, came back and asked for "that new kind of bread."

The Kinsley Rotary club sampled it next at the weekly luncheon. They liked it and Lloyd's business jumped.

Civic clubs in neighboring towns voiced approval after tryouts in about every form that bread is consumed—plain, with jam, toasted, floating on soup and drowned in gravy.

One fan is Coover's daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Coover, a G.I. bride from England. She prefers it because it is like the bread she used to eat back in Leicester, Eng., where she was Miss June Williams.

Bakeries in Great Bend and Hutchinson, Kas., reported a great demand for the new bread as soon as they started production.

"This thing may be just a flash in the pan," said Fred Beeman, Hutchinson baker, "but if it is, I never saw anything like it—it's almost fantastic the way this thing has taken hold."

Forest Fire Rages in New Mexico

Looking northwest toward Taos from an altitude of 13,000 feet, this picture shows still-raging, a fire that has devastated more than 15,000 acres of timber near Carson National forest where a 9-month drouth has left mountain timber areas in powder-dry condition. Five hundred men were fighting the flames under forest service direction.

Two Explosions Injure Two Men

BRIDGEVILLE, Pa., May 13—(AP)—The American Cyanamid company plant was rocked by two explosions last night in this little community 10 miles south of Pittsburgh.

Fire broke out but was quickly controlled.

Only a handful of men were in the plant. Two men suffered slight injuries.

Company officials could not be reached for comment but a fireman said the explosions apparently were in a converter used to mix chemicals.

Residents a half-mile away heard the explosions. Flames lighted the sky for a few seconds.

The plant normally employes about 650 men on three shifts with only a few on the night shift. It makes agricultural and industrial chemicals and explosives.

Sen. Chavez In Attack On Louis Budenz

Accuses Budenz As A "Lying Publicity Seeker" In Charges

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Senator Chavez (D-NM), a Roman Catholic, Friday denounced Louis Budenz, accuser of Owen Lattimore, as a lying publicity seeker who "advertised his conversion to Catholicism" and who "has been using the cross as a club."

This was immediately challenged by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) who defended Budenz as courageous, truthful, accurate—the victim of an "outrageous attempt to smear."

Assails Senator McCarthy

Chavez also assailed in a Senate speech what he termed the "wild, irresponnsible charges" of McCarthy, who presented Budenz as a star witness in the Senate's investigation of the state department.

Budenz is a former managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker who re-entered the Catholic church five years ago and announced rennunciation of the Communist party. He now is a professor at Fordham university, a Jesuit school in New York. He could not be reached for comment.

Chavez said he still regarded Budenz as a Communinst.

The senator declared that Budenz "possessed no evidence" when he testified three weeks ago. Budenz asserted that Lattimore, a Far Eastern affairs expert and occasional state department adviser, had been a member of a Communist cell and had been referred to by party leaders as a Communist. Lattimore denied it.

Speaks As A Catholic

"I speak as a Roman Catholic," Chavez said, adding:

"Budenz has been speaking with special emphasis as a Catholic, investing his appearances and utterances with an added sacctity by virtue of the fact that he recently went through the forms of conversion to Catholicism.

"My ancesters brought the cross to this hemisphere. Louis Budenz has been using this cross as a club."

Carpet Factory Payroll Robbery

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., May 13—(AP)—Four bandits, concealed in the payroom of a big carpet factory, ambushed three Brink's guards Friday and fled with a $15,000 payroll.

No one saw the robbers enter the plant, operated by the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet company. No one saw them after they fell on the three guards who had just arrived with the money for 300 night shift workers.

State police said they got a "pretty good description" of the holdup men from one of the three guards, who were beaten, disarmed and then tied with light cord.

How they made their entry into the grounds and the first floor payroom, without detection from any of the 300 night workers, investigators said, was a mystery.

A storekeeper reported that he saw a sedan cruising near the factory shortly before the pre-dawn robbery. Police said the car bore license plates from the neighboring state of Massachusetts, scene of the $1,700,000 robbery which occurred on January 17 in the Boston office of Brink's Inc.

A Boston police official said:

"At this stage, it seems like the Thompsonville gang was a different one than pulled the Boston job."

On the theory that the robbery involved an interstate money shipment, thus making it a federal offense, the FBI announced in Washington that it had assigned a number of agents to the case.

President Coolidge Secretary Dies Suddenly

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Everett Sanders, 68, former chairman of the Republican National Committee and Secretary to President Calvin Coolidge, collapsed and died in his law offices Friday.

Sanders, who also served four terms as a Republican U. S. Representative from Indiana, had been suffering from a heart ailment for some time.

Move To Force Down Prices On Gasoline

Anti-Trust Suit Is Filed By Government Against 7 Companies

LOS ANGELES, May 13—(AP)—The government moved Friday to force lower gasoline prices with an anti-trust suit which also wants to spike California's long-time voluntary oil conservation program.

Seven major oil firms are named in the civil action. The companies denied wrongdoing and pointed out that a U. S. grand jury last year ended 18 months of studying their records without returning an indictment.

The government seeks these major points:

Dissolution of the industry's California conservation committee and an injunction preventing any voluntary conservation practices not authorized by state law.

Guide To Other Companies

Divorcement of wholesale petroleum outlets and retail service stations, expert at refineries and marine terminals.

Outlawing price stabilization by one company posting a price list as an alleged guide to other companines.

Outlawing exclusive contracts between a company and an independent service station, which also include accessories sponsored by the contracting company.

The government also wants to require that any oil pipelines be available to independents under the same terms as other majors; and any agreement for exchanging cruie oil or refined petroleum products likwise be available to independents under the same conditions.

Annual Run $700,000,000

Companies named are Standard of California, The Texas Company of New York, Shell of New York, Tidewater Associated of New York, Richfield of Los Angeles, General Petroleum of Los Angeles and Union of California. Total worth of the firms is estimated by the government at six billion dollars, and their annual run about $700,000,000 (M).

The suit covers California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona. But California is the only state with important production, producing about 16 per cent of the nation's oil.

The oil companies contend that the voluntary conservation program does just what it says—conserves a natural resource. But the government claims that the program operates to prevent oversupply and hold up prices.

Denials of guilt came from the companies, among them:

Vice-President Torrey H. Webb of Texas Co.—"It is the policy of the Texas Co. to observe all laws including the anti-trust laws and I am sure we have not violated them as charged in this case."

Rocking Chair Still Mystifies

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—The mysterious rocking chair, which Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Holaday of Muscatine, Iowa, say has been rocking since its owner died last March, made a New York radio-television debut last night.

Three experts expressed varying reactions to the chair during the show, the National Broadcasting company's "We The People." They ranged from "so what?" to "purely psychic."

The chair rocked violently during the show—almost inperceptibly before and after.

Mrs. Holaday said the chair—a red upholstered platform rocker—began rocking five days after her brother-in-law Floyd Brossard died March 17. It was his favorite chair and he liked to rock in it, she said.

Experts Reactions

The experts reacted as follows:

Joseph Dunninger, "mentalist" and chairman of the Universal Council for Psychic Research, said:

"This chair rocks. So what? It's a rare physical phenomenon— not a psychic one. Perfect balance—that's why it rocks."

Henry Roberts, editor of the Prophecies of Nostradamus, said:

"I disagree absolutely. The basis is purely psychic. That chair, I feel, has a psychometric quality of the person who sat in it, a fourth dimensional objectivity."

John O'Neill, science editor of the New York Herald Tribune, said:

"I can't be positive. Since I've made no experiments with it, I can't eliminate the possibility of psychic phenomena. There are cases of bona fide psychic phenomena on record. But I'm primarily a scientist. If I could take this chair back home to my laboratory and subject it to vibrations I could make it do somersaults."

Groucho Marx Obtains Divorce Without A Smile

LOS ANGELES, May 13—(AP)—Without a smile, Groucho Marx obtained a divorce Friday from his young wife on grounds she had caused him "grevious mental suffering."

Putting himself in a new role, the comedian, 59, said he had to take care of the household. Moreover, Mrs. Marx, 29, didn't like his friends, he said, and even refused to go out with him.

Republicans Are Getting Even Now

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 12—(AP)—The courthouse Democrats here didn't object too much when the city administration put parking meters all around the courthouse block a few years ago.

After all, some of the courthouse fellows had city inspector signs which allowed them to park in meter spaces without being tagged by city police.

But now Republicans have taken over the city administration.

The old inspector signs aren't honored any more unless they are countersigned by the Republican City Auditor, Deane P. Wiley. Apparently Wiley isn't inclined to countersign cards unless the holders are bona fide inspectors.

As a result, quite a few traffic tickets are being placed on parked cars of certain courthouse employes.

Now some county workers are delving into the records to see if the city has any right to place parking meters around the courthouse block. They contend that the county owns the property to the middle of the street and that the meters are "trespassers."

They figure there ought to be a law.

Terrific "Small" Atomic Bombs

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—This nation has produced "small" atomic bombs, officials say, but that doesn't necessarily mean that the bombs pack less of a wallop than full sized ones.

The bombs are reported small enough to be carried by jet bombers and fighter-bombers smaller and faster than the B-29 which dropped early model A-bombs on Japan.

As usual, there wasn't a hint as to how powerful this "baby bomb" could be. But it may be more powerful than the early model bombs dropped on Japan or tested at Bikini.

Indeed, these small-sized A-weapons might well have been the ones tested at Eniwetok. These showed a "substantial gain in (explosive) energy release" over previous models.

The secret of these new bombs apparently lies in a non-explosive casing or envelope—called a "tamper"—which enables a reduction in the "critical size" of the bomb.

The critical size of an A-bomb is defined as the amount of fissionable material (such as uranium-235 or plutonium.) which must be assembled in order to produce an explosion.

Recover Body and Car From A Lake

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark., May 13—(AP)—An automobile containing the body of Jack Budd, Fayetteville, Ark., businessman, was recovered from Lake Norfork near here late Friday.

The automobile had been sought since Budd drove his car from a ferry as it was crossing the lake the night of May 5.

An automobile was located today by a diver using a magnetic device. The vehicle was towed from the deep water to the lake shore and pulled up on the bank.

Sheriff Ernie Gentry said a body in the front compartment of the large sedan was identified as that of Budd by A. A. Adkins of Fayetteville, a business associate.

The body was brought to Mountain Home and wil lbe taken to Fayetteville.

The Ferry operator and others said Budd without warning started the motor of his automobile and drove it into the lake.

Woman Injured As Building Falls

LEBANON, Mo., May 13—(AP)—The top part of a wall of a two-story brick business building collapsed in the downtown district here Friday, crushing two vehicles and slightly injuring one woman.

An estimated 50 tons of brick crashed with a deadly roar about 1 p. m. The bricks buried a truck and a car and struck Mrs. Louise Bass a glancing blow. She escaped, however, with a bruised leg.

Police stretched a rope about the building, pending a decision from the city as to whether the rest of the wall should come down in the interest of public safety.

Heavy rains are believed to have weakened the building, constructed in 1882.

Although the building is in the heart of Lebanon at Commercial and Jefferson Streets few people were on the street at the time.

Actor Paul Douglas And Actress Jan Sterling Wed

LOS ANGELES, May 13—(AP)—Actor Paul Douglas, 43, and actress Jan Sterling, 27, got a marriage license Friday and were married immediately by Superior Judge Edward Brand.

When they announced their engagement last month, they said they planned an August wedding. They decided they didn't want to wait that long.

It was the fourth marriage for Douglas, the second for his bride.

No Bingo Allowed In St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 13—(AP)—Police Chief J. Croy Keller said Friday that a recent ban on gambling in St. Joseph also prohibits Bingo games.

He said his department has requested a number of private clubs and organizations to stop their practice of holding Bingo parties.

"Bingo parties are just as much of a gambling device as slot machines," Keller said.

This ban will affect several veterans' organizations. Some have been holding bingo parties for members twice weekly, while others hold them only on special occasions. With profit going to the sponsoring organizations.

Jet Fighter Travels Claims New Record

GLOUCESTER, Eng., May 12—(AP)—A Meteor jet fighter sped 1,000 kilo-meters (621.369 miles) over a closed course Friday at a claimed world record average of 510.925 miles an hour.

The present recognized mark of 462.97 for the distance was set by Lt. Henry A. Johnson of the U. S. Air Force at Dayton, Ohio, on May 19, 1946. He flew a P-80 jet.

Distinguished Flying Cross To Parents

OLATHE, Kas., May 13—(AP)—The distinguished flying cross was presented to the parents of Ensign Thomas Lee Burgess, 22, co-pilot of a Navy patrol plane which was lost over the Baltic sea a month ago.

Some 600 military personnel passed in review as Capt. Campbell Keene, commanding officer of the Naval Air Station here, presented the medal to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burgess of Osawatomie.

Navy planes, flying overhead, tipped their wings in tribute.

Burgess was one of ten men aboard the plane, which the United States has charged was shot down by the Russians.

Cattle Rustlers At Nevada, Mo.

NEVADA, Mo., May 13—(AP)—Cattle rustlers moved to within a mile of Nevada's city limits Thursday night.

Sheriff L. K. Hunt reported one cow was stolen from the dairy farm of N. O. Roberts, a mile east of here, and two others were taken from the nearby farm of Walter Nunn. The animals were valued at $900 by their owners.

Hunt said the rustlers had hauled the three cows off in a truck backed up to the pasture on Roberts' place.

NEW YORK—(AP)—There is a way to break up the nationwide gambling ring.

The American housewife can do it. She can succeed where the cops and politicians seem to have failed. And she can make a mint of pin money for herself in doing it, too.

How? Well, my theory is simple. It is based on taking the gambling out of gambling. You can't beat the horses, girls, but there is a possible way to beat the bookies. And if you can beat the bookies—you can break up organized illegal gambling.

A suburban housewife here has shown the way to do it. Under the law you can sue to recover money paid to settle gambling debts. And that's just what Mrs. Hannah S. Kartiganer did. She sued Jules H. Bender for $11,195 she claimed her husband lost to him in horse race bets three years ago. And a gentlemanly jury of eleven men and one woman returned a verdict in her favor.

Although Bender insisted he himself was no bookmaker but a businessman, the decision disclosed a fascinating way in which determined ladies might put the knuckle on men who, beyond cavil, are professional bookies.

Here, for example, is one possibility:

A group of 100 housewives, outraged because their husbands keep bringing home paychecks full of gambling holes, hold a rummage sale and an ice cream social. They raise $1,000.

Three of the girls take the $1,000 to the biggest bookie in town and lay it on the nose for Plug Ugly, a 100-to-1 shot, to win in the fifth. If lightning should strike Plug Ugly and he comes in ahead, each of the 100 gals collects $1,000—enough for a fur coat. And the bookie has a broken heart.

The next day the girls put $5,000 on Sadfoot, another 100-to-1 hoofer, to breeze through in the fourth. If he loses, the girls promptly file suit against the bookie. And if all 100 of the women show up in court with their 275 children, in rags, won't the jury make the bookie hand back the $5,000?

So the next day the girls, maybe working through a couple of male stooges this time, bet the $5,000 on still another 100-to-1 shot. If he leads the field to the wire, they collect a half million bucks—or the bookie commits suicide. If their horse loses, they haul the bookie right back into court.

This "break the bookies" program could sweep the ladies clubs of the nation like wildfire. It has two things women love: (1) a moral purpose, and (2) a chance to make some money.

It beats radio giveaway shows all hollow, because no sponsor can dish out prizes equal to the millions hidden by wealthy bookies in their safe deposit boxes.

If American wives cooperated in this you-can't-lose-from-winning-venture, most bookies in six months would be back pitching pennies against each other for a living.

The only flaw I can see in the whole scheme is that women, after all, are human beings, too—in their way. When they start playing the horses they act just like men. They brag about their winnings and hide their losses. And before long they'd be secretly betting against each other, and it would be the bookies' wives who'd be buying the fur coats.

Gambling is like any other disease. If you don't expose yourself to the germ, you don't get infected.

But it is a wonderful plan, isn't it?

Your Thumb Prints To Cash A Check

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 12—(AP)—Bad checks have been too numerous in St. Joseph, so it was suggested today that merchants require strangers to put thumb prints on checks along with endorsements.

The suggestion came from Police Chief J. Croy Keller and the St. Joseph Retail Credit Bureau.

Police said the thumb prints would enable them to track down check passers who have criminal records.

"One of the finest we've had," remarked several members of Epsilon Epsilon Chapter, Alpha Phi Omega, of Missouri Valley College after attending the Spring Banquet in Dan's Pioneer room in Sedalia last Tuesday evening. The banquet also served as an anniversary dinner since the chapter is observing its third anniversary this month.

Fifty one Hubbard high school students have recently completed Standard First Aid courses and will be issued Red Cross certificates. Finds $876 Hard Way; Gets Reward

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 13—(AP)—C. H. Ketter found $876 the hard way. It was scattered over a wide area of sidewalk and was blowing around when it came upon it.

That was Thursday. Later he saw a story in the St. Joseph News Press about the loss of the money by Oaga Nielsen on his way to a bank.

Ketter returned the money to the owner. He said today he had been substantially rewarded.

Truman To A Discussion On Foreign Trade

Advocates Bigger And Better Steps On Flood Control

By Jack Bell

FARGO, N. D., May 13—(AP)—President Truman said tonight the "yes, but boys," whom he said were, former isolationists, want to wall off foreign trade, halt European aid "and let the Communists take over."

In an obvious challenge to Republican critics of the reciprocal trade agreements program, the President said the same people "who always stand in the road of progress" want to follow the road of "economic isolationism."

After a day in which he inspected the world's largest earthen dam at Fort Peck, Mont., and spoke briefly at whistle stops in Montana and North Dakota, Mr. Truman turned to a discussion of foreign trade at Fargo, N. D.

Asks Charter Approval

Calling for congressional approval of the international trade organization charter, the President said it is opposed by "yes, but" people who used to say in the 1920's "we are isolationists."

"They've given up that line," he said. "Now they say, yes, we believe in international cooperation, but."

And the "but" takes many forms.

"They say—but we cannot afford the cost of the European recovery program.

"In other words they say we can't afford to spend one and a half per cent of our national income to keep Europe free.

"Or they say, but it's not our business to help other free countries build up their defenses.

"In other words, we should invite the Communists to overrun our friends, and leave us alone in the world.

"Or they say, yes, we have international cooperation all right, but let's shut off imports from foreign countries.

"In other words, they would cut down international trade, force down the living standards of other free peoples and ours, too, and let the Communists take over."

The President said "the 'yes, but' boys under estimate the intelligence of the American people. Adding that "so far, every effort to return to isolationism has been defeated."

"I am confident we shall continue to defeat isolationism," he said. "That is the way to defeat Communism.

Better Flood Control

The President came to the heart of the nation's wheat belt to talk not only of foreign trade but to plug for bigger and better flood control, reclamation and power projcts in the Mississippi valley.

He said if the midland valley people don't wake up and help solve their flood problems, other sections of the nation will take away their population and industries.

Without a sign of the strenuous grind of six days of speaking and seven of traveling, the President was up early today for a brisk quarter mile walk into Glasgow, Mont., from where his train was parked on a siding.

Mr. Truman explained to reporters he always wanted to see the 13-car special pull into a station from the crowds eye view.

The engineer obliged, on schedule, and the President looked as pleased as punch.

Later he beamed when members of the Sioux Indian tribe made him "Chief Bear Soldier." Mr. Truman speaks often of his experiences as an artillery captain in World War I.

He drove 18 miles from Glasgow, Mont., to inspect the dam and its power plant.

Calls Tour "Medicine Show"

Victor A. Johnston, Republican agent who has been trailing the President's train turned up in Minot, N. D., with a formal statement calling the tour "a mdicine show attempting to sell fake nostrums by guile and deception."

Johnston explained the President's crowd by saying that Republicans had joined with Democrats "in trying to make the demonstration in their city indicate the community's respect for the office of President of the United States."

He said schools, shops, and factories had been closed in many cities, and the aid of Boy Scouts and high school bands enlisted.

"Then, with callous disregard for the high sentiment which inspired the meeting, the President gives a purely political speech," Johnston said.

Mayor H. C. Kihm before introducing the President, said it was the biggest crowd he had even seen in Minot. Police Chief W. E. Slaybaugh said the turnout was somewhere between twelve and eighteen thousand persons.

Added Damage By Flood Waters

By The Associated Press

A mass of cool air from Hudson Bay pushed into the Great Lakes region Saturday and was moving northeastward to New England.

In Chicago, temperatures dropped 24 degrees in three hours, from a high of 74 at noon to 50 at 3 p.m. The cooler air was accompanied by dense fog from Lake Michigan.

At Winnipeg, Manitoba, flood conditions remained serious. The Army Saturday gave up its fight to reopen a main bridge across the flooding Red river, and a flood expert warned Winnipeg it will be in a "serious predicament" for at least two weeks. After a leveling off period Friday, the river began inching upward again Saturday, although its rate of rise had slowed appreciably.

The flood there already has forced some 65,000 persons from their homes.

Floods In Valley Towns

LITTLE ROCK, May 13—(AP)—Floodwaters covered parts of three White river valley towns today as the river pushed far above flood stage along its narrow north Arkansas channel.

Hardest hit was Calico Rock where water was 15 feet deep in one store and at least five other business houses were flooded. The river there reached 38 feet today, 19 feet above flood stage, and was still rising.

The community of Boswell was entirely flooded, the water going over the tops of some houses.

At Batesville, where a 40-foot stage would put water in the city, the river rose to 35.4 feet, 12.4 above flood level, and was still rising. Only the top three rows of the city's riverfront water carnival stadium remained above water as lowlands filled with the spreading White.

A new threat appeared above Newport near the junction of the White and Black rivers. The White at Newport was at 26 feet, just above technical flood stage, but swiftly rising.

Six Arrested For Traffic Violations

Six persons were arrested Saturday night when they failed to obey red traffic signals. Running red lights has become a habit recently according to the police and it is a habit which will be broken up by compelling offenders to post bond for their appearance in police court.

Stop signal violators will also find their way to police headquarters if the practice isn't stopped abruptly, Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors said Saturday night.

'see you at.... the Country Club'

Scoop! They are scooping out the pool and there is every indication that it will be finished in three weeks. Nuff said!

The house committee reports that they have conferred with a decorator from Kansas City and plans have been completed for the redecorating of the club. This includes hall, living room, north room and dining room. I understand that they will start the first of the week, but club activities will go on as usual.

Donna Marie Robinson, Dorothy Ann Reed, Leo Eickhoff and Pinky Scott will be co-hosts and hostesses for a dance next Thursday night after commencement exercises. The entire senior class and their dates have been invited. The young couples will dance to the music of the Four Blue Notes from 10:00 o'clock to 1:00 o'clock.

Ladies Golf day has been changed to Tuesday of each week. Sometime during the month of May the lady golfers must play 36 holes to qualify for their golf handicap. The first handicap event is June 6th so be sure to qualify this month. Enthusiasm is still running high and we had another good turnout this week.

Husband and wife teams seen on the course include Maurice and Jane Hogan, Dick and Martha Sklar, Pierre and Eileen Lamy, Phil and Eileen Costello, John Joe and Baffy McGrath, Leroy and Carrie Hodges and John and Mary Alice Lamy.

The dates for the Inter-City Golf matches were established by the chairman of the golf committee of the four cities participating. This meeting was held in Jefferson City and our chairman Damon Hieronymus reports the dates set for the matches are as follows: Wednesday, June 14th at Fulton; Wednesday June 21st at Columbia; Wednesday June 28th at Sedalia and Tuesday July 11th at Jefferson City. In these matches the players will play the ball as it lies which is a step in the right direction for playing better golf.

Everyone was glad to see Bill Gibson win the handicap tournament last week.

The putting green is being moved 50 feet due west of its present location and will be on the way to No. 1 tee.

Dr. and Mrs. Ahrens, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn and Mr. and Mrs. James Lay, members of our club from Warsaw played the course last Thursday.

Have you noticed the bright multi-colored golf caps worn lately? Rather dashing—and I think it adds something! If this trend keeps up a lot of us can throw our husbands old army pants away—Happy Day!

As far as we know the winners in bridge were Mrs. E. H. McLaughlin, Miss Anna Gibbs, and the winners in mah jongg were, Mrs. Heber Hunt and Mrs. Chester Wright because we had a unusual Ladies Day at the club this week due to Vic and Virginia Scott's little dog Ricky. Now Ricky is a female and according to the laws of nature, delivered six puppies last Thursday. This is not unusual but Ricky chose Ladies Day to perform. Vic stayed by her side and Virginia went forth to play cards at the club, confident that everything was under control. Didn't Vic have pots and pots of boiling water! The players started to play as usual but every hand or two Vic would call and announce the arrival of another puppy. After six had arrived and everyone was pleased, relieved and ready to resume play, Vic called again and complained "But I didn't use the boiling water." Virginia came back with "Make some coffee with it an I'll be home—we both need it." If I'd known they were coming I'd have baked a cake!

Young Musicians Rate Superior In State Finals

The State Finals Festival of Missouri Federation of Music Clubs was held in Kansas City, Saturday, May 6, with several young Sedalia musicians receiving superior ratings.

The various branches of music at the festival were in piano, voice, violin and chorus.

Sedalia students won seven superior ratings in piano work. They are: Jerry Brown, Lorne Douglas Sutherlin, Marsha Rissler and Craig Brougher, in the piano solo group; Dorothy Jean Anderson and Sally Jo Dowdy, piano duet and Valgene Hayworth and Donald Potter, piano duet.

The festival was held from 9:30 in the morning until 6:00 o'clock that evening.

The young musicians were accompanied to Kansas City by Mrs. A. B. Potts, Miss Mabel DeWitt, Mrs. A. R. Beach and Mrs. E. F. Yancey. A number of the parents of those participating also attended the festival.

O. R. Cox Surprised On Birthday Anniversary

O. R. Cox, 1002 East Fifth street was completely surprised Wednesday evening when he returned to his home about 6:00 o'clock to find members of his Sunday school class there to help him celebrate his birthday anniversary.

A contributive dinner was served.

The lace covered table was centered with a large birthday cake on which were candles in pastel shades. The cake was baked by Mrs. W. L. Matthews.

Fifty Years As Teacher Of Music

Mrs. Charles Patterson will observe her 50th anniversary as the teacher of music at 7:45 o'clock Thursday evening, May 25, at the First Christian church.

Mrs. Patterson started her career as a music teacher in 1900 and taught in Bunceton 16 years before coming to Sedalia. She is anxious that as many of her former pupils attend her anniversary program as possible.

The decision to become a music teacher came early in life for at the age of six, the year she herself started taking music lessons she told her mother she was going to be a music teacher and started on her three year old sister, whom she taught to play at that age. She also taught the maid's children and children of tenants' on the farm where she lived.

Roundup Of Big Leagues On Saturday

By Ralph Roden

NEW YORK, May 13 — (AP) — The Philadelphia Phils continued along their merry way atop the National League today as young Curt Simmons turned in a magnificent 7-1 three-hit victory over the New York Giants.

Simmons, in posting his fourth straight victory and the Phils' sixth consecutive, fanned eight and walked five. A walk to Ed Stankey, balk, and two infield outs resulted in the lone Giant run in the first inning. Simmons held the Giants hitless until the fifth when rookie Gilbert and Stankey singled.

Erupted In Fourth

The Phils, held hitless by Dave Koslo over the first three innings, erupted and scored four runs in the fourth to take the lead. Dick Sisler drove home two of the runs with a homer, Del Ennis socked a two-run homer in the sixth off Sal Maglie to clinch the game.

Vern Bickford of Boston also came up with a three-hitter as the Braves humbled the Brooklyn Dodgers, 12-2. However, Bickford's performance was overshadowed by some lusty clubbing on the part of four former New York Giants.

The ex-Giants, Walker Cooper, Willard Marshall, Sid Gordon and Buddy Kerr, drove in 11 of the 12 runs. The other run was batted in by Rookie Sam Jethroe who homered.

Bickford, in gaining his first victory in four trips, had a shutout until the eighth.

Cubs Edged Pirates

The Chicago Cubs edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3 with Hal Jeffcoat doubling home Mickey Owen and Wayne Terwilliger with the winning runs in the seventh inning.

Pittsburgh whacked Frank Hiller and Walt Dubiel for 12 hits but three double plays helped stop the threats. Cliff Chambers went the distance for the Pirates, yielding six hits.

The Detroit Tigers remained in the van in the American League as Virgil Trucks beat Ned Garver and the St. Louis Browns, 1-0, in a brilliant eleven inning duel in Detroit. Vic Wertz broke up the game by singling with the bases loaded. Both trucks and Garver granted only five hits.

Yanks Crush A's

The New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox remained a half game behind the Tigers. The Yanks crushed the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-3 and the Red Sox edged the Washington Senators, 5-4.

Vic Raschi and Bob Porterfield tamed the Athletics on six hits while the Yanks banged out 13 including home runs by Yogi Berra and Bobby Brown.

Raschi retired after six innings complaining of a sore right elbow. He was credited with the victory, his 13th against one loss over the A's since he came up in 1946.

Celebrated 1,000th Game

Birdie Tebbetts celebrated his participation in his 1,000th American League game by singling home Bobby Doerr with the Red Sox' winning run in the eighth inning against Washington.

The Sox took an early 4-0 lead but Chuck Stobbs blew the margin and was driven out in the seventh when the Senators scored all of their runs to tie the score. Two of the Red Sox' runs came on homers by Ted Williams and Walt Dropo. Walt Masterson finished up and gained the victory.

Indians Downed White Sox

The Cleveland Indians staged a four-run eighth inning rally to down the Chicago White Sox, 6-2. The winning rally was featured by home runs by Bob Kennedy and Allie Clark. Bob Feller, who left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh, also homered for Cleveland. Jesse Flores pitched the last two innings and recorded his second victory.

In the only night game in either league the St. Louis Cardinals entertained the Cincinnati Reds.

Cardinals Win Over Reds 6-3

ST. LOUIS, May 13—(AP)—A single by pinch hitter Eddie Kazak in the seventh inning drove in two runs and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in a loosely played game here tonight. Howard Pollet gained his third victory of the season, giving up 9 scattered hits.

The Reds pulled ahead with two runs in the third inning on a single by Dixie Howell, a double by Peanuts Lowrey and a throwing error by Stan Musial.

In the fourth, Bill Howerton led off with a triple and scored on Joe Garagiola's single to center.

It was a listless game until the seventh inning. A double by Grady Hatton and a single by Johnny Wyrostek gave the Reds a 3-1 lead.

The Cards came back in the seventh with a 5-run inning on three hits, one a double by Tommy Glaviano, singles by Kazak and Howard Pollet, four walks and a passed ball.

Big Baseball Event In K. C. On Thursday

N. Y. Yankees To Play Exhibition With K. C. Blues

It will be homecoming for most of the Yankees when they play the Blues Thursday night in Blues Stadium, Kansas City. With a few exceptions they reached the big Stadium in the Bronx after serving an apprenticeship here.

There will be a lot of old favorites in action, but most of the applause will be reserved for Phil "Scooter" Rizzuto, baseball's Mr. Shortstop who was tagged the Yankees' most valuable by Manager Casey Stengle after the close of an amazing 1949 season.

Baseball fans of this section thrilled to the little fellow's play back in 1939 and 1940 when he helped two of Kansas City's greatest teams win league championships.

Phil's a Veteran

Phil's a veteran now. Matter of fact, there was some who said he was moving toward the twilight of his career when the '49 season started. A sore arm bothered him and he was having eye trouble. The skeptics wondered what would become of the Yanks. They could have saved themselves the trouble.

Rizzuto had one of his greatest seasons, missed only two games while more muscular mates were falling by the wayside daily and when the season finished, Phil was regarded by many even if the national poll didn't go that way—as the American League's Most Valuable Player.

He teams up with Gerry Coleman, another alumnus of the Blues, Thursday night in Blues Stadium to show baseball fans one of the great double-play combinations of the game today.

Homecoming

Joe Dimaggio, Lary Berra, Vic Raschi, Tommy Henrich, Bobby Brown, Billy Johnson, and a few others are comparative strangers here, but for most of them it will be homecoming. This includes Stengel, a former manager of the Blues.

The list of Blues alumni is a long one and includes:

Phil Rizzuto, baseball's greatest shortstop who was here in 1939 and 1940.

Hank Bauer, outfielder, 1947 and 1948.

Cliff Mapes, outfielder, 1947.

Charlie Silvera, catcher, 1946.

Tommy Byrne, pitcher, 1947.

Johnny Lindell, outfielder, 1939 and 1940.

Gus Niarhos, catcher, 1946 and 1947.

Jim Delsing, outfielder, 1949.

Joe Collins, first baseman, 1949.

Don Johnson pitcher, and Clarence Marshall, pitcher.

Blues Open Season Against Concordia

The Sedalia Blues will open their season this afternoon at Concordia, when the team plays the St. Paul's college.

This will be Concordia's fourth game of the season, having won one game and dropped two.

The probable line-up for the Blues will be: K. Neidholdt, catcher; D. Ward, pitcher; Ditton, first base; Kell, second base; Hopkins, third base; Wood, left field; Smith Centerfield; Wolf, Baldwin or Cornelius, right field.

Golf Tourney June 26 At Country Club

Dick Sklar Has Been Named The Tourney Head

Dick Sklar, 2209 West Third street, has been named tournament chairman for the Sedalia Pro-Amateur Golf tournament to be held at the Sedalia Country club on June 26.

The tournament again this year, which is the second annual one, is being sponsored by the Sedalia Athletic Association. The tourney was held last year in September and even though it was late in the golfing year, the meet was considered a signal success.

The date for the event this year is believed to be much more advantageous and the success of this year's tournament is predicted to be even greater than the first one.

Dick Sklar

Already, leading professional golfers from the Midwest Professional Golfers Association as well as the eastern division of the same organization have expressed interest in this event in letters received by the tournament chairman.

Boat Racing At Bagnell Today

One of the largest crowds to assemble at Bagnell Dam area for sports events, is anticipated today, when boat racing will be held. The racing program is scheduled to start at 1:30 o'clock, this afternoon.

So well are boat races attended that C. T. "Curley" Williams, president of the Bagnell Dam Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the event, that he predicts a crowd of from 7,000 to 11,000. Attendance depends a great deal on weather conditions, but rain or shine, the races will be held, providing the rain is not too bad.

A strip of beach along a mile-long cove has been cleared for spectators, docks have been moved in for the speed boats and judges' stand. Plenty of concession stands and numerous rest rooms have been arranged to handle the crowd.

Dr. Barnes S. Souder, St. Louis Commodore of the St. Louis Outboard Drivers Assn., which is sanctioning the races, announced that more than 50 speed boat drivers have filed entries. Entries are going from Kansas City, St. Louis, Springfield, Ill., Little Rock, Ark., Des Moines, Ia., Quincey, Ill., and many other towns where the sport has "taken hold."

The 11 events are for the following outboard classes: A service, B service, C service runabotus, C service hydroplanes, E service runabouts, and a final free-for-all race.

Entrance to the area will be through the Frank's Resort, three-fourths of a mile south of Bagnell Dam. From the entrance to the beach is one-fourth mile.

Joe Louis Turned 36 Years Old Saturday

Sport Scraps

By D. Kelly Scruton

THIS year is the first the Smith-Cotton high school has experienced having a baseball team, and it has been approximately 30 years since any high school baseball was had here. The revival of high school baseball has gotten off to a good start and it is hoped the school will continue to sponsor the sport along with other Smith-Cotton athletic activities.

However, the Junior American Legion and the Ban Johnson baseball can be thanked for giving Smith-Cotton experienced players right off the bat. Yes, and the Teen-Age program in Northeast Sedalia has offered considerable help in rounding out the squad.

The team of 1950 has played but two games, but the experience the boys had previously was valuable. They have won both, defeating Glennon high school, a Catholic high school of Kansas City by a score of 9 to 4, and the second game a 6-1 victory over the Grandview school. This puts the team up against the Missouri Military Academy team.

The game is to be played at Mexico, May 19, and if winning there, will make Smith-Cotton eligible for the Missouri State high school tournament at St. Louis.

LOOKING over the results of Smith-Cotton's two games, brings to light two pitchers who have been going great with Junior Legion in the past and will be valuable in the future to Ban Johnson. The first contest was won by Bob Brown, 9-4, who gave up four hits, while the second affair was a no-hit victory by Bob Ray, the score being 6-1.

Both of these boys have a great future ahead of them and if they continue to be handled properly should be material for at least minor league clubs, and all the local supporters would love nothing more than to see them hit the "big time."

THE Bagnell Chamber of Commerce is going in for drawing large crowds to the Damsite to stimulate interest in that resort area. One of their first projects for this year is the sponsoring of motorboat racing, which according to information reaching this desk will draw more than 75 motorboat drivers to participate, and an estimated attendance of between 7,000 and 11,000 thrill-seeking fans.

If sports fans think automobile racing furnishes thrills, then they have failed to have their blood pressure increased. As one motorboat fan explained to me it is the one sport which furnishes every thrill, a thrill-seeker seeks.

The events will take place this afternoon and will start at 1:30 o'clock.

DON'T forget, Friday night of next week, Sedalia's two swimming pools will hold a swim show as a preliminary to the official opening which will be held on Saturday, May 26. Already P. A. Sillers is being called by many youngsters and some parents, for their season tickets for 1950.

Hubbard Won Opening Game

The Hubbard high school Tigers opened their baseball season with a 9 to 0 victory over Post 98 team, Thursday afternoon at Hubbard park. This was the first baseball victory for the Tigers since Coach Broadus has been coaching at the school.

The Tiger hurler, Mason, allowed the Legion team only one hit. The pitcher sent nine batters back to the bench via the strikeout route.

The Tigers journey to Dalton, Mo., for a baseball encounter with the Dalton vocational school, Monday afternoon. A return game will be played in Sedalia between the same two teams, Thursday.

The highlights of last Thursday's game was the hitting of Mason, with three hits for three times at the plate and a home run by Tiger first baseman, Snorgrass.

Hill Prince Won Withers Mile

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 13—(AP)—Hill Prince, the flying gentleman from Virginia, hung it on the Kentucky Derby winner — Middleground—today in the $29,750 Withers Mile at Belmont Park, and proved he'll be a tough number in the Preakness next week.

A crowd of 40,088 customers, who made Hill Prince and Eddie Arcaro the favorite, gave Chris Chenery's powerful bay colt a mighty cheer as he took command near the top of the stretch and romped home with something to spare.

Hill Prince, second choice in the Derby at Louisville last week, blazed under the finish line in a sparkling 1:35 4/5, which tied the record for the stake first run in 1874. The immortal Man O'War set the record in 1920, and it was equalled in 1922 by Snob 2nd, and again by Johnstown, in 1939.

Home Opener For Legion Team Today

Post 16 Club Will Play Joplin Team At Liberty Park

The American Junior Legion Post 16 baseball team of Sedalia will open its home season this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at Liberty park, against the Joplin Junior Legion team.

Dave Johnson, righthander will be on the mound for the Sedalia team with John Cochran behind the plate. John Cusack will be on the hill for the visitors.

Since today is Mother's Day, two bouquets of roses will be given to the oldest and youngest mother registered at the game. Mayor Herb E. Studer will pitch the first ball and Sheriff John Taylor will do the catching. There will be various other ceremonies before the game.

Free Gate Today

There will be no admission charge to the game. The free gate will enable all the fans to acquaint themselves with the 1950 team, since it is practically composed of new members. Most of last year's fold left the Junior Legion squad for the Ban Johnson aggregation.

The Joplin team is no stranger to Sedalia, as it played in the Junior Legion tournament held in Sedalia in 1948. Cusack pitched in two of the games during that tourney. Last year, Cusack held Sedalia to one lone hit in a full nine-inning game, beating Sedalia 1 to 0.

Five Vets For Joplin

Joplin will have five veterans from last year's team, while Sedalia has seven players left from last season. Most of the Sedalia veterans are pitchers, Johnson, Arnold, and Schulz. The other vets are: Shawver, Morgan and Broaddus, infielders and Cochran, catcher.

Joplin has Crowell, third baseman; Springer, ss, and Anderson, first baseman returning with Wilson, second baseman and Spencer, catcher, the newcomers in the infield. Harbaugh is the only vet outfielder in left field with DeMasters, centerfielder and Hyslop, right fielder, rounding out the outfielders.

Some Changes Made

Broaddus, last year's first baseman, has been moved to centerfield. This means Sedalia will have two new infielders this year, second baseman, Percival and first baseman, Burton. Captain Shawver moved from second base to shortstop with Morgan taking third base. The outfield will be Dey, Broaddus, and Bartlett. Johnson and Arnold will pitch with Cochran, catching.

Lloyd Buehner is manager of the Joplin team, and is also a post commander of Joplin. Homer Earhart is manager of the local team.

Games This Week For Sedalia Chiefs

The Sedalia Ban Johnson Chiefs will play a league game with Jefferson City in the capital city, Tuesday night. Egbert, Brown or Ray will hurl for Sedalia.

On the following night, the Chiefs will play host to the Moberly Ban Johnson team at Liberty park. Scheimer will pitch for Moberly and Imhauser for Sedalia.

Sedalia Chiefs are leading the league with two impressive records, both being shutouts, one Boonville 13 to 0 and the other 10 to 0 over Columbia.

Missouri Beat Kansas In Dual Meet

Tigers Were Paced By Bill McGuire's 4 Minute 10.7 Mile

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 13—(AP)—The Missouri Tigers, paced by Slim Bill McGuire's 4 minute 10.7 mile, warmed up for defense of their Big Seven Conference outdoor track crown by beating Kansas, 77⅔ to 53⅓, in a dual meet today.

It was the last meet for both Missouri and Kansas, the indoor conference champion, before the league meet at Lincoln, Nebr., next Saturday.

McGuire, a junior from New York City, whose two-mile winning time of 9 minutes 16.7 seconds at the Drake relays was the fastest of the current outdoor season, had to run to win today. Bobby Karnes of Kansas was only one stride behind him at the tape.

Fastest Missouri Runner

The time was a meet record and the fastest ever turned in by a Missouri runner. The old record of 4 minutes 11.6 seconds was set by Missouri's former N. C. A. A. mile champion, Johnny Munski, in 1940.

Kansas distance corps came through with a couple of records. Pat Bowers, amazing half miler from Chicago who set a new mark practically every outing, lowered the 880 standard to 1 minute 52.3 seconds. It bettered the time of the Great Glenn Cunningham, Kansas in 1932, and Bob Reeves, Missouri, in 1940.

Herb Semper, Kansas' indoor two-mile Big Seven record holder, travelled that distance in 9 minutes 20.2 seconds.

Still another meet record was set by Bob Gordon, Missouri, who cleared 6 feet 4⅝ inches in the high jump.

J. C. Dodgers Defeated The Cubs 5 To 10

Sedalia Team Plays In Clinton This Afternoon

The Sedalia Cubs, semi-pro baseball team, bowed to the Jefferson City Dodgers 5 to 10 in their home opening game under the lights of Liberty park, Friday night, before a fair sized crowd. The defeat was the second for the Cubs out of three starts this season.

The Sedalia club will attempt to even its standing this afternoon when they play a Clinton, starting at 2:30 o'clock. The Cubs are scheduled to leave for Clinton from the Pla-Mor at 11:30 o'clock this morning. The battery for Sedalia will be "Barney" Bahrenberg, pitching and Cliff Barr, behind the plate.

Eight Errors

In Friday night's game, eight errors were committed on the part of the Sedalia players, which attributed much to their defeat, as the team connected with 10 hits, compared to the Dodgers' 11. The visitors played errorless ball up to the ninth inning, when their left fielder dropped Taylor's fly ball.

The Dodgers belted Bob Rapp for nine hits in the six innings he worked on the mound. Rapp pitched six strikeouts and dished out six walks. The 20-year-old righthander, who is a student at Central college, was used for a target twice. In the third inning, he was knocked down on the mound by a hard-hit liner, and in the sixth inning was struck down at the plate by a wild pitch. Fans admired the way Rapp brushed himself off, and continued to stay in the ball game. However, Manager Jack Alpert wasn't taking any chances and sent in "Barney" Bahrenberg to relieve Rapp in the top of the seventh. Bahrenberg in the three innings he worked, issued four strikeouts and gave up two walks.

Triple By Barr

Black, a tall righthander for the Dodgers, went the entire route on the mound. He allowed the Cubs 10 hits, one a triple by Cliff Barr and a double by Cassing. The big Negro hurler struck out four at the plate and allowed four walks. He had 100 per cent support from his teammates.

The first run in the ball game came in the top of the second inning, when R. Bagby with a double, scored on Bolton's single The Cubs bounced right back in the same frame to tie up the ball game, when Cassing lined out a double and Bob Rapp singled him home.

The Dodgers won the ball game with five runs in the third inning, when nine batters faced the opposing pitcher, who allowed four hits in that frame. The Cubs made two errors in that inning, which helped the Dodgers score. The Dodgers crossing home plate were: J. Bagby, White, R. Bagby, Frank, and Campor.

Unearned Runs

Two unearned runs were tallied by the Dodgers in the fourth inning, attributed to two walks, errors and stolen bases. The visitors scored a run in the fifth inning when Camper singled with two men out. He stole second base and got to third on an error. White singled Camper home.

The Cubs' biggest inning came in the sixth which was good for three runs. Taylor popped out to left fielder, Cliff Barr tripled, Cassing walked, Barnes walked to fill the bases. Livengood grounded out and Bob Rapp hit a hard single down the rightfield line. Charlie Thompson retired the sides by flying out to the left fielder.

The Dodgers got their tenth and last tally in the seventh inning when Black singled and advanced to second base, after Camper walked. Black scored following an error at second base.

A double by Cassing and two walks in the eighth inning enabled Cassing to score for the Cubs.

Replacements

With the exception of Simmons, who relieved Bolton in right field in the seventh inning, the Dodgers played with their starting line-up. Waters replaced Barnes in the rightfield in the seventh inning, and Smith was a courtesy runner for Rapp in the seventh inning, after Rapp was injured slightly by a wild pitch.

Some of the errors committed by the Sedalia aggregation were probably due to strange positions the players worked. Cliff Barr, who normally plays at third, worked behind the plate for the first time this season. One or two other players were juggled around to other positions.

John Thomas was umpire behind the plate and Lawrence Ditton was base umpire.

The game lasted a little over three hours, and was delayed somewhat due to some trouble in having the park lights turned on. The planned opening ceremonies were cancelled. The game started about 8:25 p.m., and was over at 11:30 p.m.

Combination Team

It was the third game for the Cubs and the second for the Dodgers, which is a team made up of last year's Eagles and Mohawks. Last Sunday, the Negro team downed Boonville 20 to 3 The team is managed by Wilbert Kirkpatrick. Jack Alpert is manager of the local semi-pro club

Auto Races Today In Kansas City

Thirty race drivers from Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Minnesota are staging a new type of auto racing for fans of this area at Olympic Stadium in Kansas City. Roadsters representing body styles of several decades ago but powered by the fastest engines available today are turning the fifth-mile semi-banked oval at more than 50 miles per hour.

Junior Hower, popular Kansas City racer who won the opening 25-lap feature last weekend, set the fastest time trials for the roadsters on the Olympic track. He turned the circuit in 13.92 seconds, some 55 miles per hour.

Billy Richardson, of Des Moines, Floyd Roberts, of Rochester, Minn., and Don Hill of St. Louis, are the leading drivers representing their districts against such local stars as Herschel Wagner, John Tatlock and Jimmy Wegschider.

Time trials start at 2 p. m. and heat races at three o'clock.

Sedalia Bowling Banquet, May 24

SMOOTH NEW POWER IN JUST 10 MILES —RISLONE IN YOUR OIL GUARANTEES IT!

Absorbs Gum and Sludge for Feelable Improvement ... or your money back!

Rislone eliminates new-car break-in, keeps older cars in tip-top condition as you drive

By preventing gum and sludge deposits, and by assuring full lubrication, Rislone maintains the factory-fresh zip you value so much in a new car.

Rislone helps you avoid slow-speed break-in periods, too. By guaranteeing full, instant lubrication, it permits driving at normal speeds at once — with a reconditioned engine or with a brand-new car.

Rislone also puts new life in cars that have been on the road for any length of time. Your engine runs quieter, begins to deliver the smooth power of full compression, gives you new-car "get-up-and-go.

Ends sluggish pick-up, low-gear buck, power sputter, slow starting

Rislone in your oil makes a world of difference in the way your car runs. You can actually feel the improvement in the first 10 miles, as it absorbs gummy deposits which cause sluggish motor action. Full compression and power are restored. You enjoy power-surge pick-up, smooth driving at all speeds in all gears—and quick, easy starting in all weather!

Best of all, you can keep your car running that way—as thousands of motorists do — with Rislone in your oil. Rislone keeps your car at peak performance as you drive.

For winter driving

In cold weather, Rislone is an amazing aid to driving ease. The quart you put in your crankcase keeps oil free-flowing — for instant lubrication, quick starting and less drain on your battery!

Use Rislone in your oil all the time, all year 'round—absolutely no harmful ingredients

Rislone can be used in your car as a full-time lubricant, a "right-hand man" for your regular oil. Its job is to keep your oil doing its best in the motor of your car.

Modern motor oils have gum-forming properties. Those very properties make them good lubricants. The problem is to keep gum, sludge, and varnish from forming in the crank-case, on valve stems, piston rings and grooves, or other moving parts. When it does, your car loses pep and power — grows sluggish. But that can't happen with Rislone on the job.

Rislone absorbs gum and sludge instantly, prevents more deposits. It keeps oil free-flowing and at peak efficiency. Your car is better protected, gives you better, smoother performance.

And the way your car responds to the throttle makes driving much more pleasant.

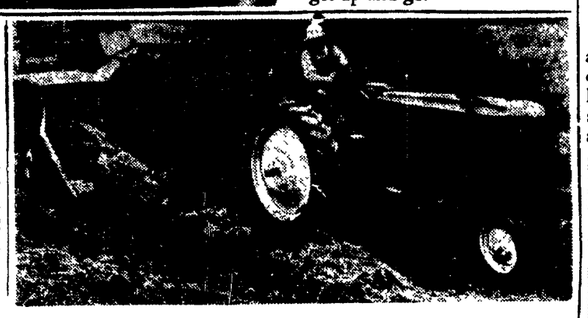
Truck-Fleet Operators Use Rislone Reduce Maintenance Costs

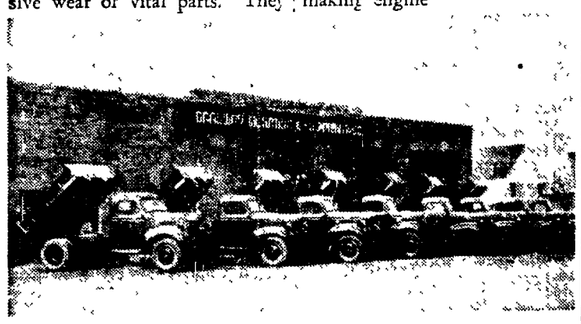
Rislone's "constant tune-up" action is low-cost preventive maintenance

Experienced operators know how to keep their trucks out of the shop and on the road.

They know that Rislone dissolves sludge instantly, prevents gummy deposits that interfere with lubrication and cause excessive wear of vital parts. They also know that Rislone maintains the full compression necessary for smooth performance top gas mileage, low oil consumption, and all round economical operation.

In short they know that a Rislone-clean engine is a money-making engine





Keeps Farm Machinery Fit All The Time

motors stay clean o' gum and sludge with Rislone

Farmers from coast to coast say that Rislone makes every stationary or mobile internal-combustion engine on the farm run better, last longer, and require less service attention.

Rislone keeps engines free of power-wasting gum and sludge deposits. You enjoy smooth, full power, and you cut maintenance costs. Rislone maintains this efficiency even during winter storage. Spring-starting is quick and easy, operation is perfect.

Rislone Keeps Marine Engines Humming at Peak Efficiency

Rislone keeps boat engines free of gum and sludge Breakdowns caused by clogged oil-lines, inadequate lubrication, and sticking valves are virtually eliminated.

Rislone stays right on the job while boats are idle, or hauled out for the winter. Gum and sludge deposits are again prevented. Spring starting is easy.

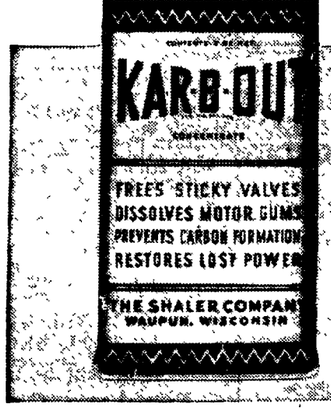
Rislone Insures Against Costly Delays on Big Construction Jobs

Maintains full power and dependability of huge equipment

Contractors the world over find that the regular use of Rislone reduces maintenance costs.

They report that Rislone maintains full power and dependability by keeping oil free-flowing, by dissolving gum and sludge to prevent sticking valves and clogged piston rings. Moreover, Rislone makes starting of powerful diesel and gasoline engines quick and easy — even in the coldest weather.

That's why so many construction men use Rislone in their mobile and stationary equipment. It's the best — and cheapest — insurance against costly delays caused by motor failure.



Money-Back Guarantee When You Make This Test:

Have your regular service man add a quart of Rislone to your crankcase. Two quarts in larger motors.

Tipton

By Mrs. Thomas W. Miller

News has reached Tipton of the death in Chicago, Ill., on May 1, of Mrs. Rose Baker at the age of 73.

Mrs. Baker was born in Tipton, Miss Rose Ellen Scheerer, April 19,1877, a daughter of Jacob and Felinda Scheerer and she lived here for 40 years.

Her husband was James Baker, the family moving from Tipton to Kansas City in 1917.

Eight children were reared by the couple, three surviving: Cora Weber, and Wyeth Baker, of Chicago, and Bonnie Whitney, of Houston, Texas.

She had been making her home in Chicago since 1930 after the death of her husband, with her daughter, Cora.

Mrs. Baker had been ill the past two years.

Burial was in Kansas City in the Mt. Moriah Masonic cemetery.

Mrs. Baker leaves a number of cousins around Tipton.

The unusually strong winds of last Friday caused E. L. Worley, of Fortuna, to suffer a broken arm. The accident happened at 10 o'clock in the morning as Mr. Worley was standing between a post and the door on his barn at his property in Fortuna. A gust of wind blew the door against the post catching Mr. Worley's right arm between. One bone in the arm was broken. The arm was set by Dr. H. C. Hume of Tipton.

Mrs. Ella Geiser was visited last week-end by her children, Mrs. Louis Wohlers, of Rockwell City, Ia., and Marvin Geiser, of Kansas City.

Ned Krohn, a student in the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery, was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl H. Kiesling, Saturday and Sunday. Ned accompanied some friends this far who were on their way to St. Louis to see the ball games. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Kiesling and Ned visited Karl's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kiesling and family in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Gabert had with them as their house guests the week-end their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rains and their 14½-month-old daughter, Vicki Ann. The guests also visited Mrs. Rains' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Taylor at Barnett. Donald is vocational agriculture teacher in the Ridgeway, Mo., schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Class have had some remodeling done on their home in west Tipton, also built a new garage.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Swarner from Saturday until Monday were Mr. Swarner's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Swarner, of Boonville. They were enroute to their home in Boonville from a week's visit in Springfield with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lauer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Schroeder and 18-month-old son, James Leonard, have moved to Syracuse from Oroville, Calif., where they have been residing the past two years.

Mother's Influence on Lincoln, Washington Doubted as to Sons

By Alexander R. George

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Five years ago 92-year-old Martha Truman flew to Washington from her home in Missouri to spend Mother's day with her son, the President of the United States.

The presidency had come suddenly to Harry Truman the preceding month. The visit of the little old lady, with much of his own amiable, homespun manner spotlighted the relationship of mother and prominent son.

This relationship was further dramatized two years later. In the spring of 1947 Mr. Truman took his work with him to Missouri and kept a long watch at his mother's bedside during her last illness.

The mothers of America's two most famous men — Washington and Lincoln—lived and died long before this country thought of celebrating Mother's day. Neither ever visited her son in the executive mansion.

Sentimental early-day writers gave Nancy Hanks Lincoln and Mary Ball Washington extravagant credit for their sons' successes.

There is scant historical evidence, however, that either Nancy Lincoln or Mary Washington had great influence, except possibly through heredity, in shaping the destines of their sons. Actually very little is known about either woman.

Died When Lincoln Nine

Nancy Lincoln may have hoped that her boy would go places, but she never knew he was on the road to greatness. She died at the age of 36 in a backwoods Indiana cabin when Abraham Lincoln was nine years old.

Mary Washington lived five months after her son became the first president.

George Washington apparently did not spend much time with his mother after he was 22. He was respectful and kind but never chummy with her.

Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, in his biography of Washington (Scribners), says:

"By the time George is 27 the reasons for his lack of warm affection for his mother begin to appear.

"Although he believed that ample provision was made for her, she was constantly asking for something more. For a present from her half-brother to her daughter, for timber with which to erect a house, for butter and a servant from the frontier, for money whenever George came to visit here."

Dr. Freeman says that "while Washington supplied his mother with what she asked if he possibly could, and tried to show patience toward her, he did not wish to be with her and he seldom gave her his confidence if ever he did."

Authentic information about Nancy Lincoln is scarce. Legend has it that she told Bible stories to little Abe and sent him to country school with the admonition that he learn all he could about "writin', readin' and cipherin'."

She was remembered by neighbors as a sweet, melancholy woman who lived in pioneer poverty and drudgery. She was uneducated but was said to appreciate beauty and to yearn for better things for her family.

Abraham Lincoln told his law partner, William Herndon, that he probably had inherited certain mental capacities and a zeal for learning from his mother. His father, Thomas Lincoln, was a wandering, carefree carpenter who didn't take much stock in "edication."

Tribute to Mother

It was reported that Lincoln once said: "All that I am and hope to be I owe to my angel mother."

Some students of Lincoln's life point out, however, that he had only hazy recollections of his mother and that the "angel" statement, if he made it, probably was one of conventional deference or defense of a mother who had been maligned by some of his political enemies who whispered that she was an illegitimate child.

The Civil War president was known to have been devoted to his stepmother, Sarah Bush Lincoln. She too was uneducated but kindly and shrewd, a good homemaker and insistent that Abe continue his education.

Franklin Roosevelt lived a considerable adult life with his mother, Sara Delano Roosevelt, in her Hyde Park home. His widow, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt says there was a very close bond between them although he had grown away from his mother in some ways and that in later years they often had not been in sympathy about policies on public affairs.

In her book "This I Remember" (Harper Bros.) Eleanor Roosevelt says that "Franklin's attitude about letting his sons make their own decisions and own mistakes came very largely from the fact that his mother had wanted to direct his every thought or deed and that he had to fight for independence."

"I doubt if as long as she lived," Mrs. Roosevelt writes, "she ever let him leave the house without inquiring whether he was dressed warmly enough or urging him to wear his rubbers or put a sweater unde his coat. . . .

"She did a great many things out of devotion to him that were difficult for her. But she never accepted the fact of his independence and continued to the last to try to guide his life."

Fight For Gas Hike Cost $66,140

JEFFERSON CITY, May 12—(AP)—The fruitless campaign to double Missouri's gasoline tax cost $66,140.50, largely paid out of contributions from road contractors and equipment and material suppliers.

The figures were disclosed today in a check of the financial statement of the better roads committee, an organization set up to spearhead Gov. Forrest Smith's campaign to increase the gas tax and finance rural road building.

The report showed the committee collected $67,094.14, with well over half the contributions coming from companies which would have had a part in expanded road building activities if the tax increase had been approved by the voters last April 4. The proposed hike—from two to four cents a gallon—failed by almost three to one in the referendum election.

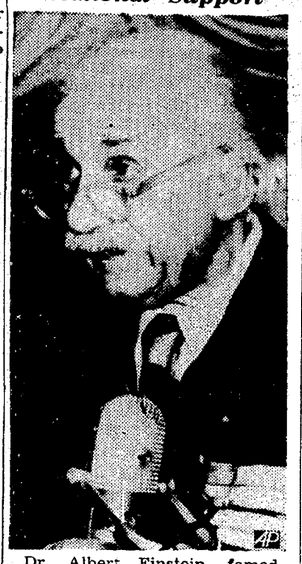
The committee said in its report it had paid all its debts.

Biggest single contribution came from the Association of General Contractors of Missouri. The organization represents companies that bid on road and highway work and donated $20,000 to the campaign fund.

The money was spent for salaries of committee employes, for newspaper, radio and billboard advertising and for printing and mailing direct mail literature, the report said.

Of the dozen or so contributors who gave $1,000 or more only a few could not be directly connected with the road building business.

Dr. Einstein Urges Educational Support



Dr. Albert Einstein, famed theoretical physicist, makes one of his rare public appearances as he speaks to 300 Jewish community leaders of the U. S. and Canada at Princeton, N. J. He urged the support of schools of higher learning in Israel as institutions where Jews will always be welcome. (AP Wirephoto)

Huge Port

Venice, commercial center of the 15th century, was the home port of 3300 ships, with a total carrying capacity of 150,000 tons, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

There are several Chickens, Chicks, Heavens, Angels, Ducks, Lords, Pickles, and Cheers, in London's telephone directory.

It is possible to measure weight so closely that the mark of a pencil on a piece of paper is easily weighed.

Says Tropics Don't Hurt Europeans

SINGAPORE—(AP)— A University of Malaya physiologist has exploded the myth that Europeans must have a change of climate after three years in the tropics.

Mr. Lee Teow Seng says, "I think the reason is just psychological. Climatic conditions here are not in the least harmful to Europeans. They perspire more than local-born people, but the effects of this can be offset by taking plenty of salt."

Color blindness affects about 4 per cent of males and .4 per cent of females.

Mussolini Knick Knacks Fill Seven Rooms

Custodians of the collection say it includes a portable prayer-stand, a rare old violin, Japanese vases donated by the Mikado, a Roman gladiator's sword donated by Hungary and about 1,000 books. Mussolini's widow, Rachele, is seeking to recover the collection from the government.

Fourth Century Coins Discovered

PAVIA—(AP)—An important discovery of 4th century coins has been made here. The Fine Arts Commission, which classified some of the finds as unique, described the discovery as "the most important made in Europe for the last 100 years."

The coins, nearly 100 large gold and silver rarities, were in an urn unearthed by peasants working in a field. Authorities said one big gold coin bore the name of Constant II. Six large silver ones bore the names of the Emperors Valente, Graziano, Valentinia I, and Theodore I.

Crossroads Comment

by G. H. S.

While Sedalians are joining enthusiastically in a season of cleaning up and painting up, there comes an indictment of some of our thoughtless citizens.

Residents of the Maplewood community, east of town, have registered a bitter complaint against the manner in which Sedalians dispose of their garbage and dead animals. The protest appears in an adjoining column.

One might be tempted to label the complaint an exaggeration but for the fact too many Sedalians, themselves, have seen and taken pictures of this indignity to our rural neighbors.

Sedalia has free city garbage collections, and facilities for disposal of dead animals. So it seems nonsensical to litter the roads leading to rural homes Surely it can't be the difference between the price of a garbage can and the use of gasoline for private automobiles to make nightly disposal forays into the country.

This disgraceful practice should be stopped voluntarily by Sedalians. Of course there are some who wouldn't stop short of arson or mayhem unless there were laws against such offenses. Well there are sanitary laws that can be enforced.

Perhaps the county court and city council might jointly work out some enforcement plan against improper garbage and trash disposal. Certainly it would be appreciated by the rural residents and should be by the townspeople who cater to the farmers' business.

—o—

We don't know what the census count for Sedalia is, officially. There seems to be some sort of deep, dark secret about it, governmental regulations or such.

A few pretend to have some inside information that the Sedalia figure is not even up to 20,000. The rumor spreads. Others say this is just a scare figure to arouse the public.

This newspaper reacted a week or so ago to appeals for help in getting more persons enumerated who might have been overlooked. An enumeration coupon was run in the paper. The response was 200. Then this rose to a total of 500.

The significance to this response is that there must be a whale of a lot of Sedalians not being counted. The system hasn't worked, paying enumerators 7 cents a name.

Maybe setting up a test section in the city and paying someone by the hour to glean the strays might prove more effective. It's worth a trial and, if results warrant, the whole town could be covered similarly.

It is ridiculous to suppose that Sedalia's population is only 20,000 or 21,000 or 22,000. There's something wrong with the census, if those are the figures.

There's going to be a lot of billy hell raised in Washington by Sedalians if the census count comes up short. And if there is a good block of citizens contrarily refusing to be counted, or dodging the count, the heat ought to be put on them.

—o—

The "Marianne" appellation used in the last congressional election may be changed to "Georgianne" this fall as a result of Congressman Christopher's postmastership recommendation, according to grapevine news from Sedalia's weeping wall.

—o—

Republican "Marianne," by the way, whose qualifications for Congressman were so roundly stigmatized by the Democrats in the last election, was further humiliated by the Democratic administration giving him a $10,000 a year U.S. court appointment in Washington.

Politics moves in mysterious ways its wonders to perform.

—o—

That basso voice you hear is moaning: "Boy, I'm feeling' mighty low. Please pass the Sunshine cake."

—o—

That story about the boa constrictor tying up an automatic washing machine reminds fathers of the imaginary snakes seen by them in the intricate mechanism of modern apparatuses they try to repair.

—o—

A commendable activity of the Sedalia Lions Club Blind Committee is focusing attention of the public on "White Cane Week" May 15 to 21. When you see a person using a white cane give him or her the right of way if you are driving an automobile. Or assist the blind in crossing streets if you are walking. Promoting safety and better living conditions for those who live in the dark will bring light into their lives and yours.

—o—

During Sedalia's recent windstorms not one flying saucer was seen—but there were plenty of flying shingles. Even the business district trash cans tried to take off, but the result was only a flop.

—o—

The Readers Write

Maplewood Better Homes Club

Mrs. James Ellis

"It is with much interest that the people of Maplewood community read of the cleanup campaign for Sedalia. We know it is necessary but we do not believe it is necessary for the people of Sedalia to bring their trash to the outlying communities and dump along our roadsides.

"To date within seeing distance of one of our homes is a filthy old mattress dumped beside the road, something anyone with much less energy could have burned. Business letters, old magazines, order books and so on bearing the names of prominent families. Not just small amounts of trash but huge cartons left to blow over the countryside; also old chairs, stoves and tin cans. One of the few beautiful drives close to town is being ruined by thoughtless people.

"It is not unusual for us to find VERY dead chickens, cats and dogs placed in large paper bags and left in front of our homes.

"We resent this and will ACTIVELY campaign against it being done. I wonder how these people in town would like our trash, along with their own, brought back to their yards and streets. We may be forced to do this.

"This letter is written with the consent and cooperation of the extension club of the Maplewood community. We do not wish our names withheld."

Exiled Farmers Plot Anti-Communist Strategy

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—A priest with sad eyes stood on a stage in the National Press building and intoned: "Lord, help thy wandering children to defend and finally redeem our lost freedom."

Before him stood a conglomeration of men from many distant countries—all exiles. Their faces were vaguely familiar, like photographs in an old newspaper. For these were the delegates to the International Peasant Union Congress and included such leaders as Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who once made headlines as prime minister of Poland; Imre Kovacs, secretary general of the once powerful Hungarian Peasant party; and G. M. Dimitrov, a stormy politician of Bulgaria.

After World War I when this writer spent two years in the Balkans, these peasant leaders were considered socialists and radicals by the then rulers of Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Later, they came to head the governments of their countries as left-of-center parties somewhat similar to the British Labor government of today.

But when Moscow took over, the first thing the Russian commissars did was to line the key members of the Peasant party up against the wall and shoot them. Moscow recognized the Agrarians, like British socialism, to be the greatest threat to successful communism.

So, this week in Washington, about 100 of the exiles who managed to escape are staging the International Peasant Union Congress, trying to form the skeleton of a "great internationale" which someday may overthrow communism in Eastern Europe.

They report that in Hungary less than 1 per cent of the farmers have joined the Communist collectives; that a new Buchenwald torture camp is located on an island in the Danube; that the independent peasant of the Balkans is the chief enemy of communism.

Chief hope of these peasant leaders is to get U.S. backing for internal revolts.

NOTE—American hero of these exiled leaders is Mark Ethridge, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who, while studying these Balkan countries for the State department, was one of the first to see the importance of encouraging peasant independence.

Duck-Loving Jurist

It didn't get into the papers, but a U.S. district judge, William C. Coleman of Baltimore, served virtual notice on a group of duck-hunters recently that they were free to violate federal game laws as far as he was concerned.

Judge Coleman, who has taken an oath to uphold the laws of the United States, announced that he had more than 30 defendants before his court charged with baiting duck-blinds and that he had agreed with the U.S. attorney's office that they should not be prosecuted.

"We have a miniature reproduction of what we had in prohibition—an unenforceable law," Judge Coleman told Dr. Clarence Cottam, assistant chief of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. "I frankly approve of not prosecuting violators of anti-baiting regulations.

"Ninety-five per cent of the hunting in Maryland is done over baiting," Judge Coleman continued Then turning directly to Dr. Cottam, he asked: "And what are you going to do about it?"

The meeting before which he spoke was a gathering of sportsmen and wildlife authorities gathered at Annapolis from Maine to Maryland. New England game experts were shocked at the judge's vituperative statements. They were also surprised at the attitude of eastern shore hunters who wanted to keep the duck season open most of the winter.

Judge Coleman was their most vigorous spokesman. He not only wanted the waterfowl season lengthened, but the daily bag increased, and shooting permitted at sundown. Judge Coleman wanted this unrestricted hunting, regardless of Dr. Cottam's explanation that the supply of ducks was not unlimited, that ducks were settling down for feeding at sundown and were mating in January—a period when the judge advocated hunting.

After the stormy session, Dr. Cottam remarked: "This is the ninth meeting of sportsmen I have had in various parts of the country. All of them have realized that if we have unlimited shooting there soon won't be any ducks left. But this meeting is the most selfish I ever attended."

Republican Spat

Grumbling of Republican Congressmen against their "lackluster" leadership, has buzzed backstage for some time. But it finally erupted into the open at an uproarious dinner party on Capitol Hill.

The meeting started as a friendly pep session for the coming election campaign. However, Representative A. L. "Doc" Miller of Nebraska injected some unexpected pep by an angry argument with ex-speaker Joe Martin, the GOP leader, over the charge that Martin wasn't conferring enough with other Republicans.

Martin and House GOP whip Les Arends of Illinois were questioned in a friendly way at first. Then Miller suddenly burst out:

"I can tell you what the trouble is—we have poor leadership If you fellows conferred more with the rest of us the party would be a lot better off."

The ex-speaker angrily shot back that he couldn't hold as many conferences with House Republicans as he would like to, but that he always kept in touch with them by letters when meetings weren't possible.

"I'm tired of hearing about letters, and about policy meetings in which we take no part and about statements you issue that do not reflect our views," snapped the Nebraska Congressman.

"It all adds up to poor leadership," he repeated.

"Well, now, if you want to get tough—" bristled Martin.

By this time both men were on their feet glaring at each other.

"That's exactly what I mean," shouted Miller

Before more nasty words could be spoken, Representative James Dolliver of Fort Dodge, Iowa, moved to adjourn the proceedings.

XXXV

PIERS AMBERLEY continued his story of Jon and Syrie's marriage, while Clemency listened intently.

"Syrie had never attempted to make the marriage a success Jon had always been a playboy and she had never tried to make him anything else. She knew of his hereditary weakness for alcohol which might come out in him, yet when he was utterly miserable and worried about money, she never attempted to stop him from drinking too much. I have heard it said she encouraged him.

"Now she wanted a divorce, but I was determined she shouldn't shelve her responsibilities, and that Jon should have a chance. I reminded her of her lack of money. She might marry again and she might not. I suggested that I pay their debts, give them a home and allow them an income if Jon would pull himself together. The only condition was that Syrie stayed with him.

"I ought to have known when she consented that there was mischief in her mind. I've come to the conclusion that I am rather naive in some ways." His lips twitched.

"Well, Jon was on his mettle, he and I were friends again in the old way. He was ready to fight, I to help him. Within a few months he had stopped drinking altogether. But Syrie was neither happy nor satisfied. I did not realize what she was getting at. I liked to ignore the fact of her existence as much as possible, which was exactly what she did not want me to do."

HE paused, looking down at the glowing end of his cigaret, an expression of intense distaste on his face.

"Things came to a climax one night when I was sitting up very late in my study. I was reading a book I particularly wanted to finish when Syrie came in. She said she couldn't sleep and had come down to talk to me. I really can't go into details of the scene she made, but in the middle of it Jon walked in. He was—is still—crazy about her, and he is of a naturally jealous disposition. I must confess the situation was a compromising one, and open to—misconstruction." His mouth twisted bitterly.

"Jon ought to have known me better—he admitted that for the first time today. But Syrie was desperate; she hated her husband, and imagined that she was still in love with me."

"But why did he stay here if he believed that?" Clemency asked.

"He thought that if he went, she and I would remain here together. Nothing would convince him that I didn't want her I was harder, more bitter than I had ever been.

"I reminded him of Baba I said that the child ought not to be made to pay for others' mistakes. As for Syrie, she had been glad enough to remain at the beginning.

"But she had reckoned without her host. She soon wanted to go, and for the second time I let my anger, my desire to make her pay in the only way I knew how, cloud my judgment.

"I meant to punish Syrie. I succeeded in making the knife turn on you. Has it all been destroyed, Clemency?" He stood looking down at her.

"No," she said, "nothing could really do that, as long as—it is me you love." She held out her hand and, as he took it, drew him down beside her.

SYRIE was in the night nursery when after dinner that evening Clemency passed through, ready to go for a drive with Piers.

Syrie glanced at Clemency unsmilingly, and then looked down at the magazine in her hands. She had done all that was necessary; it was not in her to ask forgiveness—or try to explain away her conduct. All pretense of any friendly feeling was finished between them. She had more reason to be bitter than Clemency had; she had lost.

But, thought Clemency as she went downstairs, she will always hate me.

Piers was waiting outside with the car. He helped her in and, taking the wheel beside her, drove off.

They had traveled even farther from the house than that first time, when Piers stopped the car.

"I don't feel that we have really been alone for a moment all day until now, my precious," he said. "I wish there were a tent here in the desert, and I had the right to keep you in it—just you and I, and be darned to the rest of the world! Tomorrow I am going to take you into Biskra. I phoned Mrs. Sanderson this evening that you were coming, and you are to stay with them until we are married. I shall put up at the hotel. We'll leave Red Aloes to the Jon Amberley family at present—as soon as Baba is well enough to be moved, they are going."

"Oh, Piers, what about them?" she asked. "Can they ever—mend things?"

"Goodness alone knows!" said Piers

They did not speak of Syrie. Obviously she was Jon's problem. They had at least decided to start on the new road together.

"If you can bear to go back to Red Aloes after our honeymoon, we shall have the house to ourselves," said Piers. "If you hate the place—"

"No I couldn't hate it!" she exclaimed. "I found you there, and I shall always feel it is our home. We can exorcise the ghosts."

His arm about her, he took her hand and kissed the finger where the temporary engagement diamonds shone again. But when he would have drawn her closer, she held him off a little, her other hand against his shoulder.

He looked down at her a moment; then: "I'm all for laying ghosts," he said, "with bell, book, and candle."

THE END

Ruth Millett

"Tolerate tantrums as an emotional outlet," says a group of psychiatrists, eager to advise parents how they can help prevent neurosis in children.

Well, I watched a mother the other day "tolerating a tantrum," and it was not a pretty sight.

Her little darling had been frustrated in public by having Mama say "No" when he wanted her to say "Yes."

Whereupon the ininhibited little cherub, aged about 5, started pounding his mother with his fists, kicking her in the shins, and screaming to high heaven so that everybody in the store where this scene was taking place turned to look in shocked amazement.

Maybe Mother Gets The Neurosis

Maybe she didn't mind tolerating them so much in the privacy of her own home, though I should imagine being kicked by a 5-year-old wouldn't be pleasant even if the kicking tantrum had no witnesses to add embarrassment to injury.

But that mother looked anything but happy when her child let her have it in public with flying fists and kicking feet.

In fact, she looked so embarrassed at the scene her little darling was creating and completely lost as to what to do about it I wondered if her uninhibited child might not be just a trifle hard on the state of her own mental health.

I did hear a calm-faced, gray-haired onlooker remark to her companion: "Can you imagine our ever putting up with anything like that from our children when they were small?"

But then, of course they brought up children when the proper instrument for dealing with a temper tantrum was a paddle.

UNDISCIPLINED DESIRES

We have led you to the top of our fourteen-runged ladder and trust you now find yourself victorious over all negativism and inferiority attitudes—a positive, outgoing soul. For two weeks we have been meditating on the negative side of the picture—on people who are inwardly collapsed, afraid, negative. We now turn to the other side of the picture—to those whose desires are very positive, but uncontrolled, undisciplined. If there is danger from life being negative and afraid, there is just as much danger from life being desire-assertive. You may be ruled and ruined by undisciplined desire. Therefore, the next outstanding enemy you must face is number seven, Undisciplined desires.

There is a way of living which may be likened to the horse that lies down in harness and won't move; and there is the other way which may be likened to the horse that runs away and breaks the harness and smashes everything. Abundant living has to find the poise between the two—has to find something between lying down and running away; it must find the constructive, but disciplined, life.

Desires are the God-given forces of the personality and as such are right. Without desire life would turn back to the vegetable and vegetate. Buddha tried to make man victorious over the desires of life by cutting the root of desire itself, so that man would go out into desirelessness, into Nirvana. But you cannot cure the ills of life by reducing life; you cannot get rid of your headaches by getting rid of your head. The remedy of life is not less life, but more life. You must have enough inward life to master outer environment and circumstance.

But if life is to be raised, it can only be raised through disciplined desire. The only way to get rid of a desire is to replace it by a higher desire, or to fasten the already existing desire upon higher ends and higher goals. Desires are the driving forces, and driving forces cannot be taken out of life—they must be redirected through discipline. There are three great elemental desires which have to be converted and controlled and disciplined to great ends: self, sex, and the herd.

O God, we are now at grips with the raw materials of human living; out of them we must fashion a person—Thy person. This raw material is recalcitrant and needs a master: be Thou the Master of my desires. I give the reins into Thy hands. Control them for me; I consent. Amen.

Music Modes

THE opening number of the third annual Spring concert of the Sedalia Men's Choral club will be one of the most popular selections from the grand parade of compositions by Sigmund Romberg; "Stout Hearted Men." The selection is from the musical, "The New Moon," and has been widely adapted to choral singing.

Romberg was born on the 29th of July 1887 in Hungary of musical parentage and received much of his early musical education with his father. He not only studied piano, but mastered other instruments; violin, cello, trumpet, and drums.

His participation in music during his teens can be exemplified in the fact that he directed his own school orchestra when fourteen years of age. He also conducted bands and studied theory, harmony, and counterpoint. Two years later (when he was only 16) he composed a march, dedicated to the Grand Duchess Clotilde.

At twenty he was taken into the army for compulsory military training, but two years later he persuaded his family to permit him to go to New York to be an engraver. When he arrived in the United States he found his desire for the engraving profession not too well founded and consoled himself with employment in a pencil factory.

He later fell back to his musical training and played piano in cafes and in Hungarian restaurants in New York. About this time he wrote his first popular composition; a one step, "Leg of Mutton"—"Some Smoke" and a waltz, "Le Peom."

His success in the music kingdom of the twenties and early thirties was inevitable and the master pieces of musical comedy and light opera began forming in his mind and when they were finally produced and reaped success, they became known as: Passing Shows, Maytime, Magic Melody, Blossom Time, Louis 14th, The Student Prince, Princess Flavia, The Desert Song, The New Moon (from which "Stout Hearted Men" was featured) and Rosalie. In 1932 the very popular composer went to Paris where he wrote the operetta, Rose de France.

Many of his more famous productions were made into motion pictures. The New Moon was filmed twice, as were The Desert Song and Maytime.

During the past war Romberg organized various entertainment units for soldiers and sailors and made extensive tours with those groups. In 1941 he built his own orchestra and has been on tours of the country, from coast to coast various times. The Romberg concert orchestra was recently at the Municipal auditorium on May third in Kansas City.

The orchestra has stopped at recording studios and records of the organization have been in heavy demand.

In 1943 and '44 he urote Up in Central Park and in 1946 added the motion picture, Sunny River to his roster of accomplishments. Songs of merit include: "When I Grow Too Old to Dream"; "Stout Hearted Men"; "Lover Come Back to Me"; "When Hearts are Young"; "Sweetheart"; "Deep in My Heart Dear"; "One Alone"; "Desert Song"; "Riff Song" "Who Are We to Say."

This concert will be the highlight of the year for the thirty some men that constitute the Choral club and with such selections as "Stout Hearted Men" from the pens of men like Romberg it will probably be the top concert of the year in choral singing.

The Sedalia Public Library has three fine additions to its musical section. They are: The Orchestra by Adam Carse, The Education of The Concert Goer, by Tomer Ulrich and a short History of Music by Donald N. Ferguson.

The Doctor Says—

Written for NEA Service

Many persons' greatest difficulty is getting away from the common complaints in modern society. Nearly everyone from time to time becomes tired and loses all zest for work or play. The cause is usually not hard to find—excessive work for too long a period, lack of sleep, dietary indiscretions or some similar fault of living. The remedy lies in correcting the cause—or at least not doing it again.

This kind of fatigue, however, is not much of a problem. That tired feeling which is chronic and persistent and the cause of which cannot be easily identified is much more serious. This type of fatigue is particularly common among housewives, many of whom are constantly exceeding their strength.

The strain of children cannot be pinned down on any one event nor is it easy to remedy—after all what can one do about it? There are other factors besides children which enter into chronic fatigue. Inability to relax or play, difficulty in getting away from the problems of every-day life, lack of sleep, a poor diet, and just plain too much to do are the most common.

Sometimes a diseased condition is at fault. A slight anemia, for example, can and does produce lack of customary energy. Any chronic infection or almost any disturbed bodily function is also likely to produce that tired feeling. Carrying too much weight, flat feet and innumerable other body conditions tend to produce excessive fatigue or to make that tired feeling worse.

Of course, if a definite disease condition can be identified, it can usually be remedied. This is the first step in combatting fatigue. Should nothing be found, then it becomes necessary to analyze and study various factors such as those mentioned.

The proper balance between work, recreation and sleep has to be worked out. Change of occupation is not often recommended because it usually is not possible. Many people need to learn how to relax when they have the chance. The adoption of a balanced diet with plenty of vitamins is beneficial when the abnormal fatigue is at least partly due to faulty diet. Stimulating drugs are dangerous and should not be used unless upon a physician's advice.

Need Careful Schedule

Everything which can be remedied should be, including such factors as too much smoking, too much alcohol, poor diet and the like. In far too many cases there is little to be found and perhaps even less which can be done about it.

This is a frustrating situation and no one yet has a perfect answer. Perhaps all that can be done is to become aware of those influences which are producing a state of chronic tiredness, remedy those which one can, and be prepared to cure the others as soon as circumstances allow.

May Soon be in Class by Phone

ST. LOUIS, May 11—(AP)—Children unable to attend classes may soon be going to school by telephone in St. Louis.

School-to-home telephone service for shut-in students will be set up on an experimental basis at several public schools here. Start of the program awaits only approval by the State Board of Education.

Three pieces of equipment are used in the hookup. A compact speaker-receiver is installed at the student's bedside. A school amplifier enables the student's voice to be heard throughout the classroom. A portable speaker is mounted near the teacher.

The plan was worked out by public school and telephone company officials, Superintendent of Instruction Philip J. Hickey said.

"It has tremendous possibilities," he declared.

Eighteen public school teachers here are teaching 82 handicapped children in their homes now. The most instruction any child receives is six hours a week.

With the new service, the shut-in child would keep almost normal school hours.

Hickey believes benefits from the project will not be confined to education.

"The feeling they are lost from their classmates is a demoralizing factor toward recovery," Hickey said. "But the voices of the teacher and student friends coming into the home each day would restore that old sense of once again belonging to the class.

"The child would answer the morning roll call, recite in turn and participate in many worthwhile activities."

One parade in the Virgin Islands had almost no spectators since nearly everybody was in the parade.

MOTHER'S DAY HIT!

Ann Sothern, Jane Powell and Barry Sullivan are the star trio in "Nancy Goes To Rio," new technicolor musical hit which opens as the mother's day attraction at the Fox theatre today. The song-studded new offering also features the talents of Carmen Miranda, Louis Calhern and Scotty Beckett.

Shirley Temple, Lon McCallister and Barry Fitzgerald co-star in the technicolor production "The Story of Seabiscuit." The true story of the greatest of all race horses—Co-hit on the same program is Wayne Morris in "House Across The Street." Aerial Queens Featured With Kelly-Miller Circus Coming Wed. May 17th

Greatest European Circus Star, the celebrated famous Evelynia Rossi

Billed as the greatest thriller of all time. Said to be only one of her sex to ever accomplish such daring feats of the air, this dainty and petite lady star, who has thrilled all Europe with skill and daring on the high flying trapeze daily performs her forward somersault through space from the swinging bar many feet above the sawdust covered rings, catching the trapeze on return by her toes and heels.

This little lady, who seemingly has no knowledge of fear, plunges headlong from the dome of the complete somersaults in mid-air, landing in one of the three rings having no safety net of any source.

An "aerial ballet," comprising the four Misses above, presenting a thrilling and spectacular performance of complete harmony.

Al G. Kelly-Miller Bros. Circus the first real big circus to visit Sedalia in seven years, have spared no expense in bringing a five continent double menagerie of the world's finest animals.

Another of the many new features on this year's program is the World Famous Cantolina Family, of unparalelled bareback riding stars, performing the most unbelievable feats a-horse-back, headed by Gustinio Cantolina acrobatic, somersaulting, bareback riding comedian who will keep you roaring with laughter during the entire presentation of this feature.

MOTHER'S DAY TREAT AT 50 DRIVE-IN

totaled nearly $15,000,000,000 for the year. They can be broken down in round figures as follows:

2,000,000	on the executive payroll
7,500	on the legislative payroll
3,500	on the judicial payroll
1,600,000	on the military payroll
3,000,000	on the military and veterans pensions and aid rolls
140,000	on the civil pensions rolls (including those who make contributions to be matched by the Federal Government)
1,250,000	on the dependent children rolls
86,000	on the aid to the blind rolls
3,100,000	receiving farm aid payments
2,500,000	receiving old age assistance payments outside of the contributory system

This summary does not include the 1,500,000 members of the National Guard and organized military reserves who receive regular checks for training. Nor does it include 2,500,000 beneficiaries of old age and survivor insurance or 500,000 in the Railroad Retirement System. If you add these, there are some 17,000,000 people receiving regular checks from the Federal Government.

Organization of the Executive Branch of Government said: "There is no formal accounting plan for the government as a whole. As a consequence there is no place where the complete financial picture of our government can be seen. We have not had, to this day, a system of accounting that shows the government's true revenues and expenses for any year, that provides for property or cost accounting, or for a positive control of assets, liabilities, and appropriations."

And on the cost of national defense it said: "Our military budget system has broken down. Congress allocates billions without accurate knowledge as to why they are necessary or what they are going to be used for."

Moreover, something happens to money before it is spent. That is inflation, which causes prices to rise and the cost of government to increase and makes more work for the Gremlins.

The deficit in which Uncle Sam is standing will presently be translated into more national debt, which will increase taxation again and make living with the Gremlins more desperate.

The debt behind Uncle Sam represents past inflation. Inflation, remember, is itself taxation, only that instead of taking all of it out of your current income it taxes part of it out of your savings. The dollar you saved 10 years ago now is worth 60 cents when you go to spend it. Therefore, the Gremlins work not only as you have seen them here but in your safety deposit box while you sleep.

What keeps Uncle Sam's pockets empty?

Representative Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts counts it up as follows:

In last year's federal budget there were nearly 100 different programs operating through the different departments and agencies of the government which were making payments in the form of salaries to employes, aids, grants, subsidies, benefits, pensions, and other forms of assitance and contribution to approximately 13,000,000 people in the form of regular direct federal payments. These

Israel Issues Mine Warnings

TEL AVIV, Israel —(AP)— The The Israeli army is pushing a drive to fake the people of Israel "mine conscious." Multi-colored posters are being affixed to public buildings throughout the country. More than 100,000 leaflets in a dozen languages are being distributed to school children.

All warn that there are still thousands of unexploded mines, rounds of ammunition and hand grenades strewn about the Israeli countryside—left over from the days of the Arab-Jew war. The death rate has run high at times, so the army is out to try to stop it.

Two-Way Stream

A small stream of water spurts from the bank of a railroad that is cut through the continental divide at Ridgecrest, N. C. The stream is split by a boulder, so that part of its water flows to the Atlantic Ocean and the rest to the Gulf of Mexico.

Largest Lead Users

Greatest volume of lead is used in the electrical and chemical fields. Storage batteries and electrical cable covering account for approximately one-half of the consumption in the United States.

Life with the Tax Gremlins: 12

EDITOR'S NOTE: "Life With the Tax Gremlins" is a 12-part thumbnail story of the nation's complicated tax structure. The characters: Uncle Sam himself, his Gremlin, State and Local Tax Gremlins, and you—the taxpayers. It's from an "American Affairs" pamphlet published by the National Industrial Conference Board of New York, an independent, non-profit fact-finding institution supported by business, labor and other groups.

Then, after all, Uncle Sam's own pockets are empty. He is standing knee-deep in deficit, against the background of a mighty national debt, trying to explain the situation to the taxpayer.

What has become of the money? It is easy enough to draw a circle to represent the dollar as a pie, and then cut it into slices, showing so much for national defense, so much for veterans, so much for interest on the national debt, aid to foreign countries, social security, subsidies to agriculture, and all; but the truth is that the Federal Government itself is very dim about what happens to the money.
